Taddeo Alderotti And His Pupils Two Generations Of Italian Medical Learning:

Taddeo Alderotti and His Pupils Nancy G. Siraisi, 2019-02-19 Taddeo Alderotti was the most celebrated professor of medicine at Bologna in the late thirteenth century His teaching involved close attention not merely to medicine itself but to all the scientific and philosophical learning of the time His pupils in turn included some of the leading learned physicians in Italy in the early fourteenth century In a study of the professional thought and practice of these physicians Nancy Siraisi shows how their intellectual and medical achievements were integrated with the social and institutional context within which they lived Focusing specifically on Taddeo Alderotti and six of his pupils the author treats what is known of their lives their teaching activities their learned writings their medical practice and their broader moral outlook She pays particular attention to the theoretical concepts of medical learning the relationship of medicine to natural philosophy the correlation of medical theory to medical practice and the role of the physician as a citizen Nancy G Siraisi is Professor of History at Hunter College of the City University of New York Originally published in 1981 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Homo Patiens -

Approaches to the Patient in the Ancient World Georgia Petridou, Chiara Thumiger, 2015-11-16 Homo Patiens Approaches to the Patient in the Ancient World is a book about the patients of the Graeco Roman world their role in the ancient medical encounters and their relationship to the health providers and medical practitioners of their time This volume makes a strong claim for the relevance of a patient centred approach to the history of ancient medicine Attention to the experience of patients deepens our understanding of ancient societies and their medical markets and enriches our knowledge of the history of ancient cultures It is a first step towards shaping a history of the ancient patient's view which will be of use not only to ancient historians students of medical humanities and historians of medicine but also to any reader interested in medical ethics Caring for the Living Soul Naama Cohen-Hanegbi, 2017-05-08 Caring for the Living Soul identifies the fundamental role emotions played in the development of learned medicine and in the formation of the social role of the physicians of the body in the western Mediterranean between 1200 and 1500 The book explores theoretical debates and practical advice concerning the treatment of the accidentia animae in diverse medical sources Contextualizing this literature within the developments in natural philosophy and pastoral theology during the period and alongside local and social contexts of medical practice emotions are revealed to have been a malleable topic through which change and innovation in the field of medicine transpired Bringing together a wide range of untapped sources and creating connections between emotions religious authorities and medical practitioners this study sheds light on the centrality of the discourses of emotions to the formation of the social fabric Histories of Scientific Observation Lorraine Daston, Elizabeth Lunbeck, 2011-01-15

 Observation is the most pervasive and fundamental practice of all the modern sciences both natural and human Its instruments include not only the naked senses but also tools such as the telescope and microscope the questionnaire the photographic plate the notebook the glassed in beehive and myriad other ingenious inventions designed to make the invisible visible the evanescent permanent the abstract concrete Yet observation has almost never been considered as an object of historical inquiry in itself This wide ranging collection offers the first examination of the history of scientific observation in its own right as both epistemic category and scientific practice Histories of Scientific Observation features engaging episodes drawn from across the spectrum of the natural and human sciences ranging from meteorology medicine and natural history to economics astronomy and psychology The contributions spotlight how observers have scrutinized everything from seaweed to X ray radiation household budgets to the emotions with ingenuity curiosity and perseverance verging on obsession This book makes a compelling case for the significance of the long surprising and epistemologically significant history of scientific observation a history full of innovations that have enlarged the possibilities of perception judgment and reason Medieval Theology and the Natural Body Peter Biller, Alastair J. Minnis, 1997 The attitudes towards the human body held by different branches of medieval theology are currently a major focus of scholarly attention This first volume from York Medieval Press includes studies of the metaphor of man as head and woman as body Abelard women and Catharism the female body as an impediment to ordination women mystics and the University of York s 1995 Quodlibet Lecture given by Eamon Duffy on the early iconography and lives of St Francis of Assisi PETER BILLER is Professor of Medieval History at the University of York A J MINNIS is Douglas Tracy Smith Professor of English Yale University Contributors PETER BILLER ALCUIN BLAMIRE DAVID LUSCOMBE W G EAST A J MINNIS DYAN ELLIOTT ROSALYNN VOADEN EAMON DUFFY

Renaissance Humanism, from the Middle Ages to Modern Times John Monfasani, 2016-12-05 Starting with an essay on the Renaissance as the concluding phase of the Middle Ages and ending with appreciations of Paul Oskar Kristeller the great twentieth century scholar of the Renaissance this new volume by John Monfasani brings together seventeen articles that focus both on individuals such as Erasmus of Rotterdam Angelo Poliziano Marsilio Ficino and Niccol Perotti and on large scale movements such as the spread of Italian humanism Ciceronianism Biblical criticism and the Plato Aristotle Controversy In addition to entering into the persistent debate on the nature of the Renaissance the articles in the volume also engage what of late have become controversial topics namely the shape and significance of Renaissance humanism and the character of the Platonic Academy in Florence Wounds in the Middle Ages Anne Kirkham, Cordelia Warr, 2016-02-11 Wounds were a potent signifier reaching across all aspects of life in Europe in the middle ages and their representation perception and treatment is the focus of this volume Following a survey of the history of medical wound treatment in the middle ages paired chapters explore key themes situating wounds within the context of religious belief writing on medicine status and identity and surgical practice The final chapter reviews the history of medieval wounding through the modern imagination Adopting an innovative approach to the subject this book will appeal to all those interested in how past societies regarded health disease and healing and will improve knowledge of not only the practice of medicine in the past but also of the ethical religious and cultural dimensions structuring that practice

The History of Medical Education in Britain ,2020-01-29 Professional education forms a key element in the transmission of medical learning and skills in occupational solidarity and in creating and recreating the very image of the practitioner Yet the history of British medical education has hitherto been surprisingly neglected Building upon papers contributed to two conferences on the history of medical education in the early 1990s this volume presents new research and original synthesis on key aspects of medical instruction theoretical and practical from early medieval times into the present century Academic and practical aspects are equally examined and balanced attention is given to different sites of instruction be it the university or the hospital The crucial role of education in medical qualifications and professional licensing is also examined as is the part it has played in the regulation of the entry of women to the profession Contributors are Juanita Burnby W F Bynum Laurence M Geary Faye Getz Johanna Geyer Kordesch S W F Holloway Stephen Jacyna Peter Murray Jones Helen King Susan C Lawrence Irvine Loudon Margaret Pelling Godelieve Van Heteren and John Harley Warner
