Archives, Museums and Collecting Practices in the Modern Arab World

Sonja Mejcher-Atassi,John Pedro Schwartz,2016-05-23 Collecting has a long tradition in the Middle East but the museum as a public institution is relatively new Today there are national museums for antiquities in most Arab countries While in some cases the political and social climate has hindered the foundation of museums with existing collections even destroyed at times the recent museum boom in the Gulf States is again changing the outlook This unique book is the first to explore collecting practices in archives and museums in the modern Arab world featuring case studies of collecting practices in countries ranging from Egypt and Lebanon to Palestine Jordan Iraq and the Gulf and providing a theoretical and methodological basis for future research The authors are also concerned with investigating the relationship between past and present since collecting practices tell us a great deal not only about the past but also about the ways we approach the past and present conceptions of our identities Collections can be textual as well as in the stories memories or events selected recalled and retold in the pages of a text As interest in memory studies as well as popular and visual culture grows in the Arab World so collecting practices are at the heart of any critical approach to the past and the present in that region The book will be of great interest not only to scholars and students of the modern Arab world but also to professionals in museums and collections in the region as well as around the world Arab-American Faces and Voices Elizabeth

The Arab World and Arab-Americans Sameer Y. Abraham, Nabeel Abraham, 1981

Language and Identity in the Arab World Fathiya Al Rashdi, Sandhya Rao Mehta, 2022-09-05 Language and Identity in the Arab World explores the inextricable link between language and identity referring particularly to the Arab world Spanning Indonesia to the United States the Arab world is here imagined as a continually changing one with the Arab diaspora asserting its linguistic identity across the world Crucial questions on transforming linguistic landscapes the role and implications of migration and the impact of technology on language use are explored by established and emerging scholars in the field of applied and socio-linguistics The book asks such crucial questions as how language contact affects or transforms identity how language reflects changing identities among migrant communities and how language choices contribute to identity construction in social media As well as appreciating the breadth and scope of the Arab world this anthology focuses on the transformative role of language within indigenous and migrant communities as they negotiate between their heritage languages and those spoken by the wider society Investigating the ways in which identity continues to be imagined and re-constructed in and among Arab communities this book is indispensable to students teachers and anyone who is interested in language contact linguistic landscapes and minority language retention as well as the intersections of language and technology

The Politics of Arab Integration Giacomo Luciani, Ghassan Salamé, 2015-07-16 This volume first published in 1988 is the result of a major research project the most important inquiry into the fundamental political structure of the Arab world It is often argued that

Arab states are arbitrary political creations that lack historical or present legitimacy and are unable to relate to each other in a productive way. It is further suggested that the demise of pan Arabism merely underlines the inability of individual Arab states to integrate either domestically or internationally. This book, Volume Four in the Nation State and Integration in the Arab World research project carried out by the Istituto Affari Internazionali, sets out to answer the questions of Arab integration with articles from a wide range of contributors from around the world.

Non-Muslims in Muslim Majority Societies - With Focus on the Middle East and Pakistan Kajsa Ahlstrand, Göran Gunner, 2009-04-01

In a world where almost all societies are multi religious and multi ethnic we need to study how social cohesion can be achieved in different contexts. In some geographical areas as in the Middle East and the Indian subcontinent people of different religious belonging have through the ages lived side by side sometimes in harmony and sometimes in dissonance. In other geographical regions as in Scandinavia societies have been quite religiously homogeneous but only recently challenged by immigration. The implication in both locations is that the relation between religious minority and majority is on the agenda. In order to discuss the situation for Non Muslims in Muslim majority societies a consultation was convened with both Muslim and Christian participants from Pakistan, Palestine, Lebanon and Sweden. Some of the participants work in academic settings, others in faith based organizations, some in jurisprudence and others with theological issues. This book is the result of that consultation; the articles are works in progress and they remain tentative. The intention with this anthology is to trigger reflection and further thinking. It presents articles that discuss issues such as freedom of religion, minority rights, secular and religious legislation and inter religious dialogue in Muslim majority societies.

Contributors: Kajsa Ahlstrand, Göran Gunner, Mustafa Abu Sway, Johan Garde, Yasmin Haider, Jan Hjarpe, M Aslam Khaki, Bernard Sabella, Mehboob Sada, Guirguis Ibrahim Saleh and Ahmad Salim. This book is the second volume in Church of Sweden Research Series.
