The Darkness is Light Enough Chris Ferris,1988 The Darkness is Light Enough Chris Ferris,1988 The Routledge History of Emotions in the Modern World Katie Barclay,Peter N. Stearns,2022-08-09 The Routledge History of Emotions in the Modern World brings together a diverse array of scholars to offer an overview of the current and emerging scholarship of emotions in the modern world Across thirty six chapters this work enters the field of emotion from a range of angles Named emotions love anger fear highlight how particular categories have been deployed to make sense of feeling and their evolution over time Geographical perspectives provide access to the historiographies of regions that are less well covered by English language sources opening up global perspectives and new literatures Key thematic sections are designed to intersect with critical historiographies demonstrating the value of an emotions perspective to a range of areas Topical sections direct attention to the role of emotions in relations of power to intimate lives and histories of place as products of exchanges across groups and as deployed by new technologies and medias The concepts of globalisation and modernity run through the volume acting as foils for comparison and analytical tools The Routledge History of Emotions in the Modern World is the perfect resource for all students and scholars interested in the history of emotions across the world from 1700 Ecological Consequences of Artificial Night Lighting Catherine Rich,Travis Longcore,2013-04-16 While certain ecological problems associated with artificial night lighting are widely known for instance the disorientation of sea turtle hatchlings by beachfront lighting the vast range of influences on all types of animals and plants is only beginning to be recognized From nest choice and breeding success of birds to behavioral and physiological changes in salamanders many organisms are seriously affected by human alterations in natural patterns of light and dark Ecological Consequences of Artificial Night Lighting is the first book to consider the environmental effects of the intentional illumination of the night It brings together leading scientists from around the world to review the state of knowledge on the subject and to describe specific effects that have been observed across a full range of taxonomic groups including mammals birds reptiles and amphibians fishes invertebrates and plants Ecological Consequences of Artificial Night Lighting provides a scientific basis to begin addressing the challenge of conserving the nighttime environment It cogently demonstrates the vital importance of this until now neglected topic and is an essential new work for conservation planners researchers and anyone concerned with human impacts on the natural world Appalachian Spring Marcia Bonta,2010-06-15 Marcia Bonta is a naturalist writer who has lived on a 500 acre mountain top farm in central Pennsylvania for twenty years Appalachian Spring is her personal account of that glorious spectacle the coming of the spring to the woods and fields of Appalachia The book begins with spring preliminaries in January and February when gray squirrels mate and the great horned owls conduct their courtship rites Then with the onset of true spring the intricacies of the season unravel day by day in journal entries that combine Bonta s own meticulous observations with the research reported by botanists entomologists and other natural scientists She recounts her hours spent

watching an active red fox den or observing the drumming of a male ruffed grouse all without the benefit of a blind She discovers new born fawns on the trail and hen turkeys with their poults in the field A black bear peers into her sitting room window deer play tag in her front yard Birdwatching is an integral part of her spring ritual she records both the return of nesting species and the passing through of migrants She spends a blustery St Patrick s Day following a flock of American pipits foraging in her field discovers and watches an ovenbird nest beside her trail and counts twenty three species of wood warblers during one spectacular day in mid May Every aspect of the natural world catches her eye from tthe life cycle of a tent caterpillar to the sex life of a jack in the pulpit But while she considers her book to ber her own love sone about the place and season on earth she loves most she also mourns the continual exploitation of the natural earth by humanity for its own often superficial uses She hopes by recounting the wonders of the natural world to convert others to what she calls the third stage in humanity s relationship with nature that of empathy with all of nature for its own sake To know the earth better to grasp a little of its workings to look on it with awe and wonder as well as with respect is to want to save it from destruction
