longtime contributor to such publications as Film Quarterly, Sight and Sound and The Village Voice is arguably the most eloquent insightful film critic writing in America today. Placing Movies, the first collection of his work, gathers together thirty of his most distinctive and illuminating pieces. Written over a span of twenty-one years, these essays cover an extraordinarily broad range of films, from Hollywood blockbusters to foreign art movies to experimental cinema. They include not just reviews but perceptive commentary on directors, actors, and trends, and thoughtful analysis of the practice of film criticism. It is this last element, Rosenbaum's reflections on the art of film criticism, that sets this collection apart from other volumes of film writing. Both in the essays themselves and in the section introductions, Rosenbaum provides a rare insider's view of his profession, the backstage politics, the formulation of critical judgments, the function of film commentary. Taken together, these pieces serve as a guided tour of the profession of film criticism. They also serve as representative samples of Rosenbaum's unique brand of film writing. Among the highlights are memoirs of director Jacques Tati and maverick critic Manny Farber, celebrations of classics such as Gentlemen Prefer Blondes and The Manchurian Candidate, and considered reevaluations of Orson Welles and Woody Allen.

Julie Snow Architects Julie Snow, Julie Snow Architects, 2005-04-07 It's an unfortunate reality that architects practicing in the great expanse between the East and West coasts all too often find themselves beyond the radar of the profession's so-called tastemakers. And it's especially a shame in the case of Julie Snow, a Minneapolis-based architect who has over the past decade developed one of the most inventive practices anywhere in the United States. Snow's meticulously constructed work has the structural opacity and formal integrity that characterized Mies van der Rohe's architecture but with a sense of humanity and a sensitivity to the environment that seems borrowed from her Midwestern progenitor, Frank Lloyd Wright. This, the first monograph on Snow's work, provides in-depth documentation of 14 of her residential, institutional, corporate, and public projects, including the Koehler Residence in New Brunswick, Canada; a series of Minneapolis Light Rail Stations; the Minnesota Children's Museum; and the University of South Dakota School of Business. Julie Snow Architect is produced in collaboration with award-winning designer Andrew Blauvelt and features an introductory essay by Jan Abrams, director of the Minnesota Design Institute.

Calico: Children of the Shawnee Allison Bruning,2013-06-05 American Avant-Garde Cinema's Philosophy of the In-Between Rebecca A. Sheehan,2020-03-09 Can films philosophize rather than simply represent philosophical ideas developed outside of the cinematic medium Taking up this crucial question for the emergent field of film philosophy American Avant Garde Cinema s Philosophy of the In Between argues that the films of the American avant garde do in fact do philosophy and illuminates the ethical stakes of their aesthetic interventions Author Rebecca A Sheehan contends that American avant garde cinema s characteristic self reflexivity is an interrogation of the modes and stakes of our engagement with the world on and beyond the screen The book demonstrates this with the theory of the in between a pervasive figure that helps clarify how avant garde cinema s reflections on the creation of images construct an ethics of perception itself a responsibility to perpetuate thought in an enduring re encounter with the world and with meaning s unfinished production The book is structured by a taxonomy of the multiple in betweens evident in American avant garde filmmaking Rather than systematically seeking reproductions of particular philosophers ideas in avant garde films Sheehan derives categories of analysis and the philosophical claims they disclose from close readings of the films themselves This methodology opposes mapping preconfigured philosophical concepts and values onto these films as too many philosophical approaches to cinema have done silencing the philosophies uniquely articulated by these films in the interest of making them ventriloquize philosophies advanced elsewhere The chapters of this book trace three modes of the in between that function philosophically in American avant garde cinema the material the dimensional and the conceptual Although the chapters are organized around discrete aesthetic and philosophical preoccupations that unify several filmmakers these three presentations of the in between cut through all the chapters allowing the subjects of each to converse over the course of the book The Raven's Gift Jon Turk,2025-10-16 Noted scientist and kayak adventurer undertakes a journey of spiritual healing Jon Turk has kayaked around Cape Horn and paddled across the Pacific Ocean to retrace the voyages of ancient people But the strangest trip he ever took was the journey he made as a man of science into the realm of the spiritual In a remote Siberian village Turk met an elderly Koryak shaman named Moolynaut who invoked the help of a Spirit Raven to mend his fractured pelvis When the healing was complete he was able to walk without pain Turk finding no rational explanation sought understanding by traversing the frozen tundra where Moolynaut was born camping with bands of reindeer herders and recording stories of their lives and spirituality Framed by high adventure across the vast and forbidding Siberian landscape The Raven s Gift creates a vision of natural and spiritual realms interwoven by one man s awakening The Wanting Way Adam Wolfond,2022-11-08 In The Wanting Way the second book in Multiverse a literary series written and curated by the neurodivergent Adam Wolfond proves more than willing to extend the choreography In fact his entire thrust is out and toward Each poem moves out along its own underutilized pathway awakening unseen dimensions for the reader like a wooded night walk suddenly lit by fireflies And as each path elaborates itself Wolfond s guiding hand seems always to stay held out to the reader inviting them further into a shared and unprecedented unfolding The Wanting Way is actually a confluence of diverse ways rallies paths waves jams streams desire lines that converge wherever the dry verbiage of the talking world requires hydration Each poem is an invitation to bathe in the play of languaging And each poem is an invitation to a dance that s already happening called into motion by the objects and atmospheres of a more than human world Wolfond makes space for new poetics new choreographies and new possibilities toward forging a consensual felt and feeling world where we might find free disassembly and assembly together There is a neurodivergent universe within this one and Wolfond s poems continuously pull back the unnecessary veil between human and nature

The Art of Discovery Margareth Hagen,Randi Koppen,Margery Vibe Skagen,2010-08-30 This anthology brings together scholars from literature the natural sciences and the philosophy of science to present new perspectives on the relations between literary and scientific communities Drawing on literature spanning the 19th and 20th centuries as well as Europe and the Americas the authors explore how science has been portrayed from the perspective of literature at different times and in different places as challenge or opportunity promise or scandal The disturbance of science emanates perhaps from its association with a frightening future or its ability to change the appearance of the past the scandal occurs as it recalls us to thresholds and hybrids human and non human animal and machine Science however also emerges as a source of metaphor and imaginative modelling of encodings and decodings representations and discoveries Less prominent in the collection though no less important is the view on how scientific cultures portray literature or the literary academic and how science reflects on itself
