Social Evolution and Sociological Categories (Routledge Revivals) Paul Q. Hirst, 2010-01-21 First published in 1976 this book is concerned with the nature of classification in the social sciences Its thesis is that classifications are dependent upon and are derived from theoretical explanations Classification is not a theoretically neutral typification or ordering of social forms This is because objects classified societies social institutions are not given to knowledge independently of the categories which construct them and because the categories of classification are themselves the products of theories

Social Evolution and Sociological Categories Paul Q. Hirst, 1976      Complexity Theory and the Social Sciences David Byrne, Gillian Callaghan, 2022-09-26 This expanded and updated edition of Complexity Theory and the Social Sciences The State of the Art revisits the use of complexity theory across the social sciences and demonstrates how complexity informs approaches to various contemporary issues in the context of the COVID 19 pandemic widening social inequality and impending social and ecological catastrophe wrought by global warming The book reviews complexity theory in the practice of the social sciences and at their interface with ecological science It outlines how social theory can be reconciled with complexity thinking and presents a review of the way research can be done using complexity theory The book suggests how complexity theory can be used to understand and evaluate governance processes particularly with regard to social inequality and the climate crisis The impact of the COVID 19 pandemic is also examined through a complexity lens reviewing how complexity thinking has been employed in relation to the pandemic and how implementing a complexity framework can transform health and social care The book concludes with a call to action and the use of complexity theory to inform critical thinking in the education system This textbook will be immensely useful to students and researchers interested in social research methods social theory business and organization studies health education urban studies and development studies
