Education and Society in a Changing Mizoram Lakshmi

Bhatia,2012-12-06 Located in the domain of cultural politics the book with rich ethnographical data from Mizoram a lesser known and understood state brings the community state and culture to centre stage along with family and stratification of the sociological discourse in education The book argues for a re look at school education in Mizoram besides providing critical insights into the North East region as a whole It also points to the dilemmas of development in that region and suggests possible ways out of the impasse Marking a significant departure from conventional thinking on education as human capital as reflected in North East Vision 2020 the book strongly advocates the need for critical pedagogies based on learning from conflict inculcating the values of tolerance and compassion as a precursor to peace reconceptualising development not merely as economic but as indicator of national happiness and valuing lives equally besides respect for traditional institutions

thus marking a break from the much resented paternalism that underpins all state interventions in education One of the first studies of its kind regarding experience and practice of education the book makes an important contribution to the role that education can play to usher in peace and promote respect for differences Classes of Labour Jonathan Parry,2020-03-20

Classes of Labour Work and Life in a Central Indian Steel Town is a classic in the social sciences The rigour and richness of the ethnographic data of this book and its analysis is matched only by its literary style This magnum opus of 732 pages an outcome of fieldwork covering twenty one years complete with diagrams and photographs reads like an epic novel difficult to put down Professor Jonathan Parry looks at a context in which the manual workforce is divided into distinct social classes which have a clear sense of themselves as separate and interests that are sometimes opposed The relationship between them may even be one of exploitation and they are associated with different lifestyles and outlooks kinship and marriage practices and suicide patterns A central concern is with the intersection between class caste gender and regional ethnicity with how class trumps caste in most contexts and with how classes have become increasingly structured as the structuration of castes has declined The wider theoretical ambition is to specify the general conditions under which the so called working class has any realistic prospect of unity

From 'People' to 'Citizen' Dipankar Gupta,2017-09-18 From People to Citizen brings together social theory with policy practice to enlarge our understanding of the difference that democracy makes to the life of a nation Unlike nationalism democracy takes our attention away from the past to the future by focusing on the specific concerns of citizenship Historical victories or defeats blood and soil are now nowhere as relevant as the creation of a foundational base where individuals have equal and quality access to health education and even urban services The primary consideration therefore is on empowering citizens as a common category and not people of any specific community or class When citizens precede all other considerations the notion of the public too gets its fullest expression Differences between citizens are not denied in fact encouraged but only after achieving a basic unity first This book argues that the call of citizenship not only advances democracy but social science as well Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or

The Value of Comparison Peter van der Veer, 2016-05-19 In The Value of Comparison Peter van der Veer makes a compelling case for using comparative approaches in the study of society and for the need to resist the simplified civilization narratives popular in public discourse and some social theory He takes the quantitative social sciences and the broad social theories they rely on to task for their inability to question Western cultural presuppositions demonstrating that anthropology's comparative approach provides a better means to understand societies This capacity stems from anthropology's engagement with diversity its fragmentary approach to studying social life and its ability to translate difference between cultures Through essays on topics as varied as iconoclasm urban poverty Muslim immigration and social exclusion van der Veer highlights the ways that studying the particular and the unique allows for gaining a deeper knowledge of the whole without resorting to simple generalizations that elide and marginalize difference
