EYE CONTACT

A social story about
eye contact

When I am having a conversation, I need to look at the person that I am talking to.

When we continue to look at each other during the conversation, we are maintaining good eye contact.

It is important to have good eye contact, because it shows I am paying attention to the conversation.

If I am looking at the floor or away from the person they might not know I am talking to them.

When I make good eye contact, I am interested in the conversation.

In the Eye of the Animal Patricia Cox Miller,2018-06-15 Early Christian theology posited a strict division between animals and humans Nevertheless animal figures abound in early Christian literature and art from Augustine s renowned wonder at the agility of the mosquito on the wing to vivid exegeses of the six days of creation detailed in Genesis and when they appear the distinctions between human and animal are often dissolved How asks Patricia Cox Miller does one account for the stunning zoological imagination found in a wide variety of genres of ancient Christian texts In the Eye of the Animal complicates the role of animals in early Christian thought by showing how textual and artistic images and interpretive procedures actually celebrated a continuum of human and animal life Synthesizing early Christian studies contemporary philosophy animal studies ethology and modern poetry Miller identifies two contradictory strands in early Christian thinking about animals The dominant thread viewed the body and soul of the human being as dominical or the crowning achievement of creation animals with their defective souls related to humans only as reminders of the brutish physical form However the second strand relied upon the idea of a continuum of animal life which enabled comparisons between animals and humans This second tendency explains Miller arises particularly in early Christian literature in which ascetic identity the body and ethics intersect She explores the tension between these modes by tracing the image of the animal in early Christian literature from the ethical animal behavior on display in Basil of Caesarea's Hexaemeron and the anonymous Physiologus to the role of animals in articulating erotic desire and from the idyllic intimacy of monks and animals in literature of desert ascetism to early Christian art that envisions paradise through human animal symbiosis

The Thirst for Annihilation Nick Land, 1992 An impassionate and fearless study of Georges Bataille which goes beyond analysis and criticism to actually engage with him

Vanities of the Eye Stuart Clark, 2009-01-15 Vanities of the Eye investigates the cultural history of the senses in early modern Europe a time in which the nature and reliability of human vision was the focus of much debate In medicine art theory science religion and philosophy sight came to be characterised as uncertain or paradoxical mental images no longer resembled the external world Was seeing really believing Stuart Clark explores the controversial debates of the time from the fantasies and hallucinations of melancholia to the illusions of magic art demonic deceptions and witchcraft The truth and function of religious images and the authenticity of miracles and visions were also questioned with new vigour affecting such contemporary works as Macbeth a play deeply concerned with the dangers of visual illusion Clark also contends that there was a close connection between these debates and the ways in which philosophers such as Descartes and Hobbes developed new theories on the relationship between the real and virtual Original highly accessible and a major contribution to our understanding of European culture Vanities of the Eye will be of great interest to a wide range of historians and anyone interested in the true nature of seeing

Autopia Peter Wollen, Joe Kerr, 2002 The reach of the car today is almost universal and its effect on landscapes cityscapes cultures indeed on the very fabric of the modern world is profound Cars have brought benefits to individuals in terms of mobility and expanded horizons but the cost has been very high in terms of damage to the environment and the consumption of precious resources Despite the growing belief that a Faustian price is now being paid for the freedom cars have bestowed on us we are none the less manufacturing them in ever greater numbers Autopia is the first book to explore the culture of the motor car in the widest possible sense Featuring newly commissioned essays by writers critics historians artists and film makers as well as reprinting key texts it examines the effect of the car throughout the world including the USA Western and Eastern Europe Japan China Cuba India and South Africa In this book the car is treated neither as a technological fetish object nor as an instrument of danger Instead it is examined as a hugely important determinant of 20th century culture neither wholly good nor an unmitigated disaster and certainly endlessly fascinating Contributors include Michael Bracewell Ziauddin Sardar Al Rees Martin Pawley Donald Richie and Peter Hamilton Key texts by Marshall Berman Jane Jacobs Roland Barthes Marc Auge and others

Pupils of the Eye Natasha Hoffman, 2019-02-28 This book is about the Intuitive Wisdom of the Third Eye and how over time we have lost our ability to trust it which in turn has disempowered us In these pages we learn of the Wisdom Keepers of old the Astronomer Priests and the six Archangels who created the sacred paths of energy those that we call ley lines and the other grids that encircle our planet It was on these flows of energy that the Astronomer Priests set up wisdom schools where the wisdom of the Eye was taught to initiates who were known as Pupils of the Eye And our ancestors marked and used these sacred sites all over our planet for the temples churches standing stones and circles that still attract those many people who respond to a deep soul calling This book shows too that comprehension of the old myths and legends and the folk tales of all continents can be a vital pathway to trusting in our own intuition and provides an understanding of life on this planet and helps us to reconnect with our place in the Universe
