Strabo's Geography Strabo, 2024-06-11 A lively new translation of Strabo's complete Geography an encyclopedic guide to the ancient world of the first century CE connecting it with the world of the twenty first century Strabo's Geography is an encyclopedic description of the ancient world as it appeared to a contemporary observer in the early Roman empire Information about taming elephants collecting saffron producing asphalt and practicing yoga is found alongside accounts of prostitution volcanic activity religious festivals and obscure eastern dynasties all set against the shifting backdrop of political power in the first century CE Traveling around the Mediterranean Strabo gathered knowledge of places and people supplementing his firsthand experiences with an immense amount of reading to create a sweeping chronicle that attempts to answer the implicit questions Who are we and Where do we come from Sarah Pothecary's new translation of Strabo's complete Geography makes this important work more accessible relevant and enjoyable than ever before Conveying the informal lively and almost journalistic style of Strabo's Greek this translation connects the ancient and modern worlds by providing modern names and maps for places mentioned in the text a generous page layout and marginal notes allowing readers to appreciate Strabo's work directly and immediately The result mimics what Strabo was doing two thousand years ago relating the rapidly changing present of his original readers to their own ancient past A remarkably modern translation of a revealing window on the ancient world this is essential reading for anyone interested in how we look at both antiquity and the world today

Within Judaism? Interpretive Trajectories in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam from the First to the Twenty-First Century Anders Runesson, Karin Hedner Zetterholm, 2023-11-27 This book charts the shifting boundaries of Judaism from antiquity to the modern period in order to bring clarity to what scholars mean when they claim that ancient texts or groups are within Judaism as well as exploring how rabbinic Jews Christians and Muslims have negotiated and renegotiated what Judaism is and is not in order to form their own identities Belief in Jesus as the Messiah was seen as part of first century Judaism but by the fourth or fifth century the boundaries had shifted and adherence to Jesus came to be seen as outside of Judaism Resituating New Testament texts within first or second century Judaism is an historical exercise that may broaden our view of what Judaism looked like in the early centuries CE but normatively these texts remain within Christianity because of their reception history The historical within Judaism perspective however has the potential to challenge and reshape the theology of contemporary Christianity while at the same time the long held consensus that belief in Jesus cannot belong within Judaism is again challenged by the modern Messianic Jewish movement

DeWhitt,2005-05-12 This musicological study by persuasive explanation shows how adhering to certain exact ratios and proportions music gains objective power The inquiry is scientific the solutions ingenious Following unexplored and unconventional lines the author brings together what on the surface appear to be three separate lines Judaism Hinduism and the Gurdjieff Work Their link is musical harmonics or the magical science of connection between sounds The failure of modern musicians to achieve the magical effects long ascribed to music by the ancients is due to the prevailing ignorance of those who know nothing about the objective laws on which music is based Ancient cultures knew how the laws of harmonics or what comes in between the tones could evoke metaphysical correspondences of a spiritual nature as did Gurdjieff The Hebrews encoded harmonics in their Tree of Life diagram the Hindus incorporated the potent musical information in a secretive Music of the Path and Gurdjieff enshrined it in the Enneagram symbol of the Work In this groundbreaking book the author presents a provocative and engaging picture of how these laws work The wealth of new information will have a profound impact on modern views of music and its laws Berenike and the Ancient Maritime Spice Route Steven E.

Cultivating Nature Sarah R. Hamilton, 2018-04-15 Winner of the 2019 Turku Book Award from the European Society for Environmental History The Albufera Natural Park an area ten kilometers south of Valencia that is widely regarded as the birthplace of paella has long been prized by residents and visitors alike Since the twentieth century the disparate visions of city dwellers farmers fishermen scientists politicians and tourists have made this working landscape a site of ongoing conflict over environmental conservation in Europe the future of Spain and Valencian identity In Cultivating Nature Sarah Hamilton explores the Albufera's contested lands and waters which have supported and been transformed by human activity for a millennium in order to understand regional national and global social histories She argues that efforts to preserve biological and cultural diversity must incorporate the interests of those who live within heavily modified and long exploited ecosystems such as the Albufera de Valencia Shifting between local struggles and global debates this fascinating environmental history reveals how Franco's dictatorship Spain's integration with Europe and the crisis in European agriculture have shaped the Albufera its users and its inhabitants

The Children of Noah Raphael Patai, 2021-02-09 Here the late Raphael Patai 1910-1996 recreates the fascinating world of Jewish seafaring from Noah's voyage through the Diaspora of late antiquity In a work of pioneering scholarship Patai weaves together Biblical stories Talmudic lore and Midrash literature to bring alive the world of these ancient mariners As he did in his highly acclaimed book The Jewish Alchemists Patai explores a subject that has never before been investigated by scholars Based on nearly sixty years of research beginning with study he undertook for his doctoral dissertation The Children of Noah is literally Patai's first book and his last It is a work of unsurpassed scholarship but it is accessible to general readers as well as scholars An abundance of evidence demonstrates the importance of the sea in the lives of Jews throughout early recorded history Jews built ships sailed them fought wars in them battled storms in them and lost their lives to the sea Patai begins with the story of the deluge that is found in Genesis and profiles Noah the father of all shipbuilders and seafarers The sea according to Patai's interpretation can be seen as an image of the manifestation of God's power and he reflects on its role in legends and tales of early times The practical importance of the sea also led to the development of practical institutions and Patai shows how Jewish seafaring had its own culture and how it influenced the cultures of Mediterranean life as well Of course Jewish sailors were subject to the same rabbinical laws as Jews who never set sail and Patai describes how they went to extreme lengths to remain in adherence even getting special emendations of laws to allow them to tie knots and adjust rigging on the Sabbath The Children of Noah is a capstone to an extraordinary career Patai was both a careful scholar and a gifted storyteller and this work is at once a vivid history of a neglected aspect of Jewish culture and a treasure trove of sources for further study It is a stimulating and delightful book
