Strangers are just friends waiting to happen.

Learning in Social Context: The Nature and Profit of Living in Groups for Development Ildikó Király, David Buttelmann, 2017-05-25 One of the distinctive features of humans is their unique sociality Humans live in organized societies that are characterized by a high level of interdependence of group members in various aspects of life ranging from the economic phenomenon of labour division to providing emotional support to others Under these circumstances the capacity to track social connections within and between groups has great adaptive value in managing everyday life We may understand the importance and adaptive value of tracking the scope of culturally shared knowledge if we consider the importance of cultural norms in guiding behaviour To become a competent member of their cultural group one must be able to conform to the group's specific behavioural norms and to accumulate culturally shared knowledge Acquiring this knowledge is essential for successful social interactions In contrast to current dominant explanatory theories emphasizing that social category formation is simply rooted in humans need to belong and affiliate with a group the aim of this e book is to provide evidence that in addition to its affiliative role children form social categories for epistemic purposes We show that children use specific cues like kinship patterns of resource allocation and consensus to understand group cohesion Section 1 Once children figured out who is in group and who is out group they show a significant in group bias in attention acting and learning Section 2 Yet this in group bias can be attenuated by induced synchronous behavior Section 3

Stranger In The Dusk Vikas Soni, 2022-02-16 Stranger in the dusk is an anthology compiled by Vikas Soni consisting of 115 writers from all around the nation The book aims to provide a platform to writers that are willing to get published and give a stage to their writings Hope you enjoy the book Intimate Strangers Vanessa Smith, 2010-10-28 When Louis Antoine de Bougainville reached Tahiti in 1768 he was struck by the way in which All these people came crying out tayo which means friend and gave a thousand signs of friendship they all asked nails and ear rings of us Reading the archive of early contact in Oceania against European traditions of thinking about intimacy and exchange Vanessa Smith illuminates the traditions and desires that led Bougainville and other European voyagers to believe that the first word they heard in the Pacific was the word for friend Her book encompasses forty years of encounters from the arrival of the Dolphin in Tahiti in June 1767 through Cook's and Bligh's voyages to early missionary and beachcomber settlement in the Marquesas It unpacks both the political and emotional significances of ideas of friendship for late eighteenth century European and particularly British explorations of Oceania Philosophy after Friendship Gregg Lambert, 2017-04-20 The friend the enemy the stranger the refugee or deportee and the survivor In singular and provocative fashion Gregg Lambert's Philosophy after Friendship introduces us to the key social personae that have populated modern political philosophy Drawing on the philosophies of Deleuze and Derrida as well as the work of Indo-European linguist mile Benveniste Lambert constructs a genealogy to demonstrate how political thought has been structured by the emergence of such conceptual personae At the center of Philosophy after Friendship is the persona of the friend together with the idea of friendship on which the democratic ideals of consensus fraternity and equality are based Lambert argues that the vitality of this conceptual persona originated by the Greeks has been exhausted by centuries of war In fact we might today be witnessing the overturning of an earlier philosophical idealism that saw friendship as the destination of the political and in its place the emergence of a nonphilosophical understanding that has set perpetual war as the ultimate ground from which future thinking of the political must depart In his Conclusion Lambert proposes a truly postwar philosophy that takes as its first principle the idea of perpetual peace which would require nothing less than a complete reevaluation of the goals of any future political philosophy if not the meaning of philosophy itself
