

A black and white photograph of a woman with short, curly hair, looking upwards and to the right while holding a telephone receiver to her ear. She is wearing a light-colored, possibly patterned, blouse. The background is dark and out of focus, featuring a lamp with a textured shade on the right and some foliage on the left. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting her face and hair.

Physical beauty is passing,

Strangers on a Train Jonathan Goldberg, 2012-11-20 Alfred Hitchcock's 1951 thriller based on the novel of the same name by Patricia Highsmith author of The Talented Mr Ripley is about two men who meet on a train one is a man of high social standing who wishes to divorce his unfaithful wife the other is an enigmatic bachelor with an overbearing father Together they enter into a murder plot that binds them to one another with fatal consequences This Queer Film Classic delves into the homoerotic energy of the film especially between the two male characters played by Farley Granger and Robert Walker It builds on the question of the sexuality the film puts on view not to ask whether either character is gay so much as to explore the queer relations between sexuality and murder and the strong antisocial impulses those relations represent The book also includes a look at the making of the film and the critical controversies over Hitchcock's representations of male homosexuality QUEER FILM CLASSICS is a critically acclaimed film book series that launched in 2009 It features twenty one of the most important and influential films about and or by LGBTQ people made in eight different countries between 1950 and 2005 and written by leading LGBTQ film scholars and critics Jonathan Goldberg is a professor at Emory University where he directs the Studies in Sexualities program He is the author of many books and editor of Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick's posthumous 2012 book The Weather in Proust

Devils, Lusts and Strange Desires Richard Bradford, 2021-01-21
NOMINATED FOR THE H R F KEATING AWARD 2022 My New Year's Eve Toast to all the devils lusts passions greeds envies loves hates strange desires enemies ghostly and real the army of memories with which I do battle may they never give me peace Patricia Highsmith New Year's Eve 1947 Made famous by the great success of her psychological thrillers The Talented Mr Ripley and Strangers on a Train Patricia Highsmith is renowned as one of the most influential and celebrated modern writers However there has never been a clear picture of the woman behind the books The relationship between Highsmith's lesbianism her fraught personality by parts self destructive and malicious and her fiction has been largely ignored by biographers in the past As an openly homosexual writer she wrote the seminal lesbian love story Carol for which she would be venerated in modern times as a radical exponent of the LGBTQ community Alas her status as an LGBTQ icon is undermined by her excessive cruelty towards and exploitation of her friends and many lovers In this biography Richard Bradford brings his sharp and incisive style to one of the greatest and most controversial writers of the twentieth century He considers Highsmith's bestsellers in the context of her troubled personal life her alcoholism licentious sex life racism anti-Semitism misogyny and abundant self loathing

All Those Strangers Douglas Field, 2015-06-02 Adored by many appalling to some baffling still to others few authors defy any single critical narrative to the confounding extent that James Baldwin manages Was he a black or queer writer Was he a religious or secular writer Was he a spokesman for the civil rights movement or a champion of the individual His critics as disparate as his readership endlessly wrestle with paradoxes not just in his work but also in the life of a man who described himself as all those strangers called Jimmy Baldwin and who declared that all theories are suspect Viewing Baldwin through a cultural historical lens alongside a more traditional literary critical approach All Those Strangers examines how his fiction and nonfiction shaped and responded to key political and cultural developments in the United States from the 1940s to the 1980s Showing how external forces molded Baldwin s personal political and psychological development Douglas Field breaks through the established critical difficulties caused by Baldwin s geographical ideological and artistic multiplicity by analyzing his life and work against the radically transformative politics of his time The book explores under researched areas in Baldwin s life and work including his relationship to the Left his FBI files and the significance of Africa in his writing while also contributing to wider discussions about postwar US culture Field deftly navigates key twentieth century themes the Cold War African American literary history conflicts between spirituality and organized religion and transnationalism to bring a number of isolated subjects into dialogue with each other By exploring the paradoxes in Baldwin s development as a writer rather than trying to fix his life and work into a single framework All Those Strangers contradicts the accepted critical paradigm that Baldwin s life and work are too ambiguous to make sense of By studying him as an individual and an artist in flux Field reveals the manifold ways in which Baldwin s work develops and coheres

Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed,2013-02-01 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody

we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own
