Wells, Robert Litwak, 1987 Soviet Ballistic Missile Defense and the Western Alliance David Scott Yost, 1988 Yost suggests that the challenges for Western policy posed by Soviet ballistic missile defense BMD programs stem partly from Soviet military programs Soviet arms control policies and Soviet public diplomacy campaigns and partly from the West's own intra alliance disagreements and lack of consensus about Western security requirements Perspectives On Strategic Defense Steven W Guerrier, Wayne C Thompson, Barry M Blechman, George Rathjens, 2019-05-28 Bringing together proponents and opponents of the Strategic Defense Initiative this book includes original essays by leading experts on every aspect of the issue The collection provides a valuable introduction to the many complex questions involved in any serious consideration of the SDI The contributors explore such issues as the strategic impl The Current State of Soviet-American Relations United States. Glaser, 2014-07-14 With sweeping changes in the Soviet Union and East Europe having shaken core assumptions of U S defense policy it is time to reassess basic questions of American nuclear strategy and force requirements In a comprehensive analysis of these issues Charles Glaser argues that even before the recent easing of tension with the Soviet Union the United States should have revised its nuclear strategy rejecting deterrent threats that require the ability to destroy Soviet nuclear forces and forgoing entirely efforts to limit damage if all out nuclear war occurs Changes in the Soviet Union suggests Glaser may be best viewed as creating an opportunity to make revisions that are more than twenty years overdue Glaser s provocative work is organized in three parts The Questions behind the Questions evaluates the basic factual and theoretical disputes that underlie disagreements about U S nuclear weapons policy Alternative Nuclear Worlds compares mutual assured destruction capabilities MAD a world in which both superpowers societies are highly vulnerable to nuclear retaliation to the basic alternatives mutual perfect defenses U S superiority and nuclear disarmament Would any basic alternatives be preferable to MAD Drawing on the earlier sections of the book Decisions in MAD addresses key choices facing American decision makers Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 disarmament Department of Defense Authorization for Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1985: Strategic defense initiative United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Armed Services,1984 Deterrence in the 1980s R. B. Byers,2020-11-19 Originally published in 1985 Deterrence in the 1980s offers analyses by leading American and Canadian scholars and decision makers in the field of strategic studies of the current problems and dilemmas of contemporary international security with deterrence nuclear and conventional as the unifying conceptual theme Deterrence as theory as history as psychology as politics as ethics and as policy is addressed The authors outline the complexities of deterrence in theory and in practice and offer proposals regarding the future operationalization of deterrence in order both to reassure Western publics and to enhance Western and international security Soviet American strategic relations along with the problems posed for the Western Alliance are analysed Within the context of NATO the dilemmas for both Europe and North America of extended deterrence are raised Despite the current crisis of deterrence no other security strategy appears viable as long as nuclear weapons are retained for purposes of national security However current trends in the operationalization of deterrence nuclear war fighting capabilities have raised concerns about the future of deterrence Russian Strategic Modernization N. N. Sokov,2000 This invaluable study provides a unique insider's view of the history of Soviet and Russian policy on nuclear weapons modernization and charts the future evolution of the Russian strategic arsenal Using information that has only recently become available and introducing new previously unknown data Sokov concludes that the most important force behind the evolution of the Soviet and Russian strategic arsenal was the military itself which sought to increase strategic stability by enhancing the survivability of weapons systems The highly destabilizing posture of the 1970s and 1980s was he argues in a sense accidental resulting from the failure of several R D programs and specific features of the Soviet decisionmaking mechanism The author demonstrates that the role of such factors as the economic crisis U S modernization programs and general Russian foreign policy goals has been exaggerated by Western analysts No matter how hard pressed Russia will hold to its current plans Sokov argues At the same time the military will be unlikely to engage in a new arms buildup even if the economic situation improves or a nationalist government comes to power Instead stability will be sought through better quality of weapons at progressively lower levels Introducing a wealth of new information on Soviet and Russian national security policymaking the author explores in meticulous detail such key issues as decisions on weapons development arms control negotiations and the handling of the Soviet nuclear arsenal after the breakup of the Soviet Union The reader will be able to follow the debates and intrigues between military planners diplomats and weapons designers as they clashed over the choice of acquisition programs and negotiating positions With its combination of informed analysis and use of new documentation this work will be invaluable for all concerned with U S Russian strategic relations Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1987 United States.
