they can be used as powerful tools to solve environmental problems New developments in this field remain mostly in peer reviewed journal articles and hence our goal is to synthesize these findings for easy reference for students faculty regulators in governmental and non governmental agencies and environmental companies While this volume maintains its rigor in terms of its depth of knowledge and quantitative information it contains the breadth needed for wide variety problems and applications in the environmental sciences This volume presents all of the newer and older applications of isotopes pertaining to the environmental problems in one place that is readily accessible to readers This book not only has the depth and rigor that is needed for academia but it has the breadth and case studies to illustrate the utility of the isotopes in a wide variety of environments atmosphere oceans lakes rivers and streams terrestrial environments and sub surface environments and serves a large audience from students and researchers regulators in federal state and local governments and environmental companies

Perspectives on the Age of the Earth and Why They Matter Francis Ö. Dudás, 2020-02-13 Polls show almost half of US adults believe that Earth is only 10 000 years old whereas scientists consider our planet to be 4 56 billion years old Examining these conflicting views illuminates aspects of the perceived conflict between religion and science and helps us understand the battles between evolutionist and creationist advocates This book examines how we approach knowledge and how we look at certainty It disentangles the threads of the traditional knowledge we are taught from the knowledge we gain from our own investigation of truth It argues that nature the basis of science and scripture the basis of religion derive from a single source Because of their shared origins religious and scientific perspectives grounded in verifiable truths must be in harmony The book presents the science behind the reliability of isotopic dates and critiques young earth creationist attacks on isotopic studies Though the nature of time is a philosophical issue its measurement is a scientific venture that has affirmed that Earth is 4 56 billion years old The harmony of science and religion based on recognition of their single source is a prerequisite for the progress of humanity as a whole
