Taiwan Community Of Fate And Cultural Globalization

Peter Baehr

Taiwan Community Of Fate And Cultural Globalization:

Taiwan Han-pi Chang,1997 Taiwan ,1996 Caesarism, Charisma and Fate Peter Baehr,2017-12-02 How do writers marginalized by the authoritarian state in which they live intervene in the political process They cannot do so directly because they are not politicians Other modes of engagement are possible however A writer may take up arms and become a revolutionary Or as Max Weber did he may try to influence politics by playing the role of constitutional advisor or by seeking to shape the dominant language in which his contemporaries think Weber sought to reconstitute the political and social vocabulary of his day Part I of Caesarism Charisma and Fate examines a great writer's political passions and the linguistic creativity they generated Specially it is an analysis of the manner in which Weber reshaped the nineteenth century idea of Caesarism a term traditionally associated with the authoritarian populism of Napoleon III and Bismarck and transmuted it into a concept that was either neutral or positive The coup de grace of this alchemy was to make Caesarism reappear as charisma In that transformation a highly contentious political concept suffused with disapproval and anxiety was naturalized into an ideal type of universal value free sociology Part II augments Weber's ideas for the modern age A recurrent preoccupation of Weber's writings was human fate a condition that evokes the pathos of choice the political meaning of death and the formation of national solidarity Peter Baehr marrying Weber and Durkheim fashions a new concept community of fate for sociological theory Communities of fate such as the Warsaw Ghetto or Hong Kong dealing with the Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome SARS crisis are embattled social sites in which people face the prospect of collective death They cohere because of an intense and broadly shared focus of attention on a common plight Weber's work helps us grasp the nature of such communities the mechanisms that produce them and not least their dramatic consequences Looking Through Taiwan Keelung Hong,Stephen O. Murray,2005-01-01 This analysis of a troubling chapter in American anthropology reveals what happens when anthropologists fail to make fundamental ethnic and political distinctions in their work The authors examine how Taiwanese realities have been represented and misrepresented in American social science literature

Imagined Differences Günther Schlee, 2002 This book addresses key concepts of modern anthropology like difference and identity in the light of ethnographic evidence from various local settings stretching from Morocco to Indonesia As the antagonistic and destructive aspects of social identification are also discussed the book is a contribution to conflict theory it provides elements of orientation in a world marked by a proliferation of ethnic movements and of nationalisms which become more narrow and more aggressive

In the Interest of Others John S. Ahlquist, Margaret Levi, 2013-09-08 A groundbreaking study of labor unions that advances a new theory of organizational leadership and governance In the Interest of Others develops a new theory of organizational leadership and governance to explain why some organizations expand their scope of action in ways that do not benefit their members directly John Ahlquist and Margaret Levi document eighty years of such activism by the International Longshore and Warehouse Union in the United States and the Waterside Workers Federation in Australia They systematically compare the ILWU and WWF to the Teamsters and the International Longshoremen s Association two American transport industry labor unions that actively discouraged the pursuit of political causes unrelated to their own economic interests Drawing on a wealth of original data Ahlquist and Levi show how activist organizations can profoundly transform the views of members about their political efficacy and the collective actions they are willing to contemplate They find that leaders who ask for support of projects without obvious material benefits must first demonstrate their ability to deliver the goods and services members expect These leaders must also build governance institutions that coordinate expectations about their objectives and the behavior of members In the Interest of Others reveals how activist labor unions expand the community of fate and provoke preferences that transcend the private interests of individual members Ahlquist and Levi then extend this logic to other membership organizations including religious groups political parties and the state itself
