Managing Corporate Values in Diverse National Cultures Philippe d'Iribarne, 2012-05-16 How should a Western company manage cross culturally corporate values in its foreign subsidiaries Do these values make sense everywhere and can they assumed to be universal or on the contrary are they culturally Western specific Philippe d Iribarne provides answers to these timely and urgent questions based on research carried out in the subsidiaries of a leading global company Lafarge in the contrasting cultural environments of China the United States France and Jordan It appears that in a large part of the world people s expectations are similar they expect from a good employer clear and decisive leadership and fair and compassionate treatment helping them to live a good life But treating these expectations as the same could be misleading Western companies with a humanistic orientation are well positioned to fulfil them provided they are willing in each and every geography to take into account the local vision of the right way to achieve a good life By following the example presented in this book companies who care can deliver economic efficiency as well as progressive people management in the countries in which they operate
