The Apple That Astonished Paris:

The Apple that Astonished Paris Billy Collins, 1988-01-01 Billy Collins strikes at the deepest concerns of the human heart and mind His metaphysical wit and cosmic puzzlement expressed always in a clean direct unpretentious idiom will touch every reader who is fascinated by the play of a truly original imagination and a disarming way of seeing the world

The Apple That Astonished Paris Billy Collins, 2014-02-01 Bruce Weber in the New York Times called Billy Collins the most popular poet in America He is the author of many books of poetry including most recently The Rain in Portugal Poems In 1988 the University of Arkansas Press published Billy Collins's The Apple That Astonished Paris his first real book of poems as he describes it in a new delightful preface written expressly for this new printing to help celebrate both the Press's twenty fifth anniversary and this book one of the Press's all time best sellers In his usual witty and dry style Collins writes I gathered together what I considered my best poems and threw them in the mail After what seemed like a very long time Press director Miller Williams a poet as well returned the poems to him in the familiar self addressed stamped envelope He told Collins that there was good work here but that there was work to be done before he'd have a real collection he and the Press could be proud of Williams's words were more encouragement than I had ever gotten before and more than enough to inspire me to begin taking my writing more seriously than I had before This collection includes some of Collins's most anthologized poems including Introduction to Poetry Another Reason Why I Don't Keep a Gun in the House and Advice to Writers Its success over the years is testament to Collins's talent as one of our best poets and as he writes in the preface this new edition is a credit to the sustained vibrancy of the University of Arkansas Press and I suspect to the abiding spirit of its former director my first editorial father

Blue Peninsula Madge McKeithen, 2025-09-23 My son's illness is eight years old and has no name It started when he was fourteen He is now twenty two It is taking away his ability to walk and to reason It is getting worse some years more rapidly than others These words begin the first section of Blue Peninsula a narrative of a son's degenerative illness in thirty three parts focused around poems that have provided companionship and sustenance to the author When multiple diagnostic avenues delivered no explanation for the worsening disabilities of her older son Ike Madge McKeithen became a poetry addict collecting consuming ripping poems out of magazines buying slender volumes that would fit in my pocket or pocketbook stashing them in loose leaf notebooks on shelves stacking them on the floor In the midst of all this grief I had fallen in love With words Poems especially And just in time McKeithen draws on a wonderfully wide ranging group of poets and lyricists including Emily Dickinson the Rolling Stones Paul Celan Bruce Springsteen Marie Howe Walt Whitman and many others to illuminate comfort and help to express her sorrow Some chapters are reflections on friendships and family relationships in the context of a chronic and worsening illness Some consider making peace with what life has dealt and others value intentionally reworking it Not written to suggest easy solace this powerful work aims to keep company as would any individual whose loved one is on a course in which the only way out is through Still Growing Donald Capps, 2015-03-26 The later adult years are commonly viewed as a period in which one struggles to maintain a vestige of the physical mental and emotional vitality of one's earlier years In Still Growing however Donald Capps shows that older adulthood is actually a period of growth and development and that a central feature of this growth and development is the remarkable creativity of older adults This creativity is the consequence of the wisdom gained through years of experience but is also due to a newly developed capacity to adapt to unprecedented challenges integral to the aging process In Part 1 Capps illustrates the challenges of transitioning to older adulthood from the author s own experiences while in Part 2 he draws on material from Erik H Erikson Sigmund Freud and Paul W Pruyser to account for longevity adaptability and creativity in older adults Finally in part 3 he focusses on the work of both William James and Walt Disney to fashion a model of creative aging

Expressive Networks Matthew Kilbane, 2025-06-10 Expressive Networks convenes an urgent conversation on digital media and the social life of contemporary poetry Tracing how poems circulate through online spaces and how capitalized platforms have come to pattern the reading and writing of poetry contributors emphasize both the expressivist cast of digital literary culture and the deep running ambivalence that characterizes aesthetic and critical responses to platformed cultural production The volume features chapters on Pan African spoken word programs Singaporean Facebook groups decolonial hemispheric networks and Japanese media critical poetics as well as platforms such as Twitter X Instagram and Amazon Though contributors write from a variety of methodological positions and address themselves to a range of archives they share the primary conviction that the impact of Web 2 0 on literary practice is far reaching far from self evident and far more variegated and unpredictable than easy summations of social media s influence suggest Expressive Networks asks after poetry s present and future by examining what poems themselves express about the social make up of networked platforms Edited by Matthew Kilbane with contributions from Cameron Awkward Rich Micah Bateman Andrew Campana Sumita Chakraborty Scott Challener C R Grimmer Tess McNulty Michael Nardone Seth Perlow Anna Preus Susanna Sacks Carly Schnitzler Melanie Walsh and Samuel Caleb Wee
