Nicholas Hawksmoor 1662 1736 is one of English history s greatest architects outshone only by Christopher Wren under whom he served as an apprentice A major figure in his own time he was involved in nearly all the grandest architectural projects of his age and he is best known for his London churches six of which still stand today Hawksmoor wasn t always appreciated however for decades after his death he was seen as at best a second rate talent From the Shadows tells the story of the resurrection of his reputation showing how over the years his work was ignored abused and altered and finally recovered and celebrated It is a story of the triumph of talent and of the power of appreciative admirers like T S Eliot James Stirling Robert Venturi and Peter Ackroyd all of whom played a role in the twentieth century recovery of Hawksmoor s reputation Design by Competition Jack L. Nasar,1999-02-28 What meanings do buildings and places convey to the people who use and visit them Too often design competitions and signature architecture result in costly eyesores that do not work How can sponsors and clients get more meaningful results In answer to these questions Dr Nasar supported by riveting studies of competitions and Peter Eisenman s competition winning design for the Wexner Center at the Ohio State University suggests the use of pre jury evaluation PJE He shows the potential value of this approach as well as visual quality programming for many kinds of environmental design for which the client wants to convey certain desirable meanings The studies from those specific to the Wexner Center to those covering the scope of history point to an alternative method for shaping the visual form of buildings places and cities Architecture in Britain, 1530 to 1830 John Summerson,John Newenham Summerson, Sir,1993-01-01 The author charts the development of architectural theory and practice from Elizabeth I to George IV Questions of style technology and the social framework are resolved as separable but always essential components of the building worlds Architects and Intellectual Culture in Post-Restoration England Matthew Walker,2017-10-20 Architects Builders and Intellectual Culture in Restoration England charts the moment when well educated well resourced English intellectuals first became interested in classical architecture in substantial numbers This occurred after the Restoration of the Monarchy in 1660 and involved people such as John Evelyn Robert Hooke Sir Christopher Wren and Roger North Matthew Walker explores how these figures treated architecture as a subject of intellectual enquiry either as writers as designers of buildings or as both In four substantial chapters it looks at how the architect was defined as a major intellectual figure how architects acquired material that allowed them to define themselves as intellectually competent architects how intellectual writers in the period handled knowledge of ancient architecture in their writing and how the design process in architecture was conceived of in theoretical writing at the time In all Walker shows that the key to understanding English architectural culture at the time is to understand how architecture was handled as knowledge and how architects were conceived of as collectors and producers of such knowledge He also makes the claim that architecture was treated as an extremely serious and important area of intellectual enquiry the result of which was that by the turn of the eighteenth century architects and architectural writers could count themselves amongst England's intellectual and cultural elite
