The Danger Tree Memory War And The Search For A Family's Past

David Macfarlane

The Danger Tree Memory War And The Search For A Family's Past:

The Danger Tree D. MacFarlane, 1991-01-01 The Danger Tree David Macfarlane, 2014-04-15 Emulating the circuitous tales told by his mother's relatives the Goodyears of Newfoundland David Macfarlane weaves the major events of the island's twentieth century the ravages of tuberculosis the great seal hunt disaster the bitter Confederation debate and above all the First World War into his own tale of the ill-starred fortunes of his family He brings to life a multi-generational cast of characters who are as colourful as only Newfoundlanders can be With humour insight and genuine love for these heroes and charlatans pirates and dreamers he explores the meaning of family and the consequences of forgotten history

The Danger Tree David Macfarlane, 2001-04-01 Based on the stories of his mother's relatives the Goodyears of Newfoundland the author weaves the major events of the island throughout the 20th century into his own tale of the ill-starred fortunes of his family Photos Map War and Remembrance in the Twentieth Century Jay Winter, Jay Murray Winter, Emmanuel Sivan, 2000-08-27 How war has been remembered collectively is the central question in this volume War in the twentieth century is a vivid and traumatic phenomenon which left behind it survivors who engage time and time again in acts of remembrance This volume containing essays by outstanding scholars of twentieth century history focuses on the issues raised by the shadow of war in this century The behaviour not of whole societies or of ruling groups alone but of the individuals who do the work of remembrance is discussed by examining the traumatic collective memory resulting from the horrors of the First World War the Spanish Civil War the Second World War and the Algerian War By studying public forms of remembrance such as museums and exhibitions literature and film the editors have succeeded in bringing together a volume which demonstrates that a popular kind of collective memory is still very much alive (Re)Writing War in

Contemporary Literature and Culture Cristina Pividori, David Owen, 2024-07-09 Re Writing War in Contemporary Literature and Culture Beyond Post Memory is an exploration of war narratives through the lens of postmemory offering a critical re-evaluation of how contemporary literature and cultural products reshape our understanding of past conflicts This volume presents a rich tapestry of perspectives drawing from an array of conflicts and incorporating insights from international experts across various disciplines including contemporary literature film studies visual arts and cultural studies It critically builds upon and extends Marianne Hirsch's concept of postmemory engaging with complex themes like the ethical dimensions of war writing the authenticity of representations and the creative power of art in reimagining traumatic events This study not only challenges traditional boundaries in war literature and memory studies but also resonates with contemporary concerns about societal engagement with violent pasts making it a significant addition to scholarly discourse and essential reading for those interested in the intersection of history memory and literature Re-Imagining the First World War Anna Branach-Kallas, Nelly Strehlau, 2015-09-18 In the Preface to his ground-breaking The Great War and Modern Memory 1975 Paul Fussell claimed that the dynamics and iconography of the Great War have proved crucial political rhetoical and artistic determinants on subsequent life Forty years after the publication of Fussell s study the contributors to this volume reconsider whether the myth generated by World War I is still part of the fiber of people s lives in English speaking countries What is the place of the First World War in cultural memory today How have the literary means for remembering the war changed since the war Can anything new be learned from the effort to re imagine the First World War after other bloody conflicts of the 20th century A variety of answers to these questions are provided in Re Imagining the First World War New Perspectives in Anglophone Literature and Culture which explores the Great War in British Irish Canadian Australian and post colonial contexts The contributors to this collection write about the war from a literary perspective reinterpreting poetry fiction letters and essays created during or shortly after the war exploring contemporary discourses of commemoration and presenting in depth studies of complex conceptual issues such as gender and citizenship Re Imagining the First World War also includes historical philosophical and sociological investigations of the first industrialised conflict of the 20th century which focus on responses to the Great War in political discourse life writing music and film from the experience of missionaries isolated during the war in the Arctic and Asia through colonial encounters exploring the role of Irish Chinese and Canadian First Nations soldiers during the war to the representation of war in the world famous series Downton Abbey and the 2013 album released by contemporary Scottish rock singer Fish The variety of themes covered by the essays here not only confirms the significance of the First World War in memory today but also illustrates the necessity of developing new approaches to the first global conflict and of commemorating new victims and agents of war If modes of remembrance have changed with the postmodern ethical shift in historiography and cultural studies which encourages the exploration of other subjectivities in war so far concealed affinities and reverberations are still being discovered on the macro and micro historical levels the Western and other fronts the battlefield and the home front Although it has been a hundred years since the outbreak of hostilities there is a need for increased sensitivity to the tension between commemoration and contestation and to re member re conceptualise and re imagine the Great War

Race, Empire and First World War Writing Santanu Das, 2011-04-28 This volume brings together an international cast of scholars from a variety of fields to examine the racial and colonial aspects of the First World War and show how issues of race and empire shaped its literature and culture The global nature of the First World War is fast becoming the focus of intense enquiry This book analyses European discourses about colonial participation and recovers the war experience of different racial ethnic and national groups including the Chinese Vietnamese Indians Maori West Africans and Jamaicans It also investigates testimonial and literary writings from war diaries and nursing memoirs to Irish New Zealand and African American literature and analyses processes of memory and commemoration in the former colonies and dominions Drawing upon archival literary and visual material the book provides a compelling account of the conflict s reverberations in Europe and its empires and reclaims the multiracial dimensions of war memory

Shell Shock, Memory, and the Novel in the Wake of World War

I Trevor Dodman, 2015-09-09 Shell Shock Memory and the Novel in the Wake of World War I explores the narrative traces subaltern faces and commemorative spaces of shell shock in wartime and postwar novels by Mulk Raj Anand Ford Madox Ford Mary A Ward George Washington Lee Ernest Hemingway F Scott Fitzgerald and Christopher Isherwood This book argues that World War I novels serve as an untapped source of information about shell shock and renews our present understanding of the condition by exploring the nexus of shell shock and practices of commemoration Shell shock novelists testify to the tenaciousness and complexity of the disorder write survivors into visibility and articulate the immediacy of wounds that remain to be seen This book helps readers understand more fully the extent to which shell shock continues to shape and trouble modern memories of the First World War

War Stories Philip Dwyer, 2016-11-01 Although war memoirs constitute a rich varied literary form they are often dismissed by historians as unreliable This collection of essays is one of the first to explore the modern war memoir revealing the genre's surprising capacity for breadth and sophistication while remaining sensitive to the challenges it poses for scholars Covering conflicts from the Napoleonic era to today the studies gathered here consider how memoirs have been used to transmit particular views of war even as they have emerged within specific social and political contexts

Bearing Witness Sherrill Grace, Patrick Imbert, Tiffany Johnstone, 2012-10-01 As the centenary of the Great War approaches citizens worldwide are reflecting on the history trauma and losses of a war torn twentieth century It is in remembering past wars that we are at once confronted with the profound horror and suffering of armed conflict and the increasing elusiveness of peace The contributors to Bearing Witness do not presume to resolve these troubling questions but provoke new kinds of reflection They explore literature the arts history language and popular culture to move beyond the language of rhetoric and commemoration provided by politicians and the military Adding nuance to discussions of war and peace this collection probes the understanding and insight created in the works of musicians dramatists poets painters photographers and novelists to provide a complex view of the ways in which war is waged witnessed and remembered A compelling and informative collection Bearing Witness sheds new light on the impact of war and the power of suffering heroism and memory to expose the human roots of violence and compassion Contributors include Heribert Adam Simon Fraser University Laura Brandon Carleton University Mireille Calle Gruber Universit La Sorbonne Nouvelle Janet Danielson Simon Fraser University Sandra Djwa emeritus Simon Fraser University Alan Filewod University of Guelph Sherrill Grace University of British Columbia Patrick Imbert University of Ottawa Tiffany Johnstone PhD Candidate University of British Columbia Martin L schnigg Graz University Lauren Lydic PhD University of Toronto Conny Steenman Marcusse Netherlands Jonathan Vance University of Western Ontario Aritha van Herk University of Calgary Peter C van Wyck Concordia University Christl Verduyn Mount Allison University and Anne Wheeler filmmaker
