The Dialectic Of Biblical Critique Interpretation And Existence:

The Dialectic of Biblical Critique Brayton Polka,1986 Dialectic Of Biblical Critique Brayton Polka,1986-05-28

Understanding Death as Life's Paradox Brayton Polka,2019-04-30 This book focuses on death as life s paradox in order to test to put on trial what it means for us human beings to exist No one of us chooses to be born Yet having been born we must choose to have been born to live to exist To exist is to choose to exist To choose to exist is to live with our choices This text argues that death is the limit of life that we can live freely and lovingly at once justly and compassionately solely within the limit of death It shows that we can develop a comprehensive conception of life and also of death solely insofar as we learn to overcome the dualistic opposition between philosophy and theology that continues today to falsify our understanding of not only the secular but also the sacred Hermeneutics, the Bible and Literary Criticism Ann Loades,Michael

McLain,1992-06-12 The essays in this collection fall into three groups The first group deals with philosophical accounts of interpretation The second is concerned with the interpretation of scripture with particular reference to the work of the Oxford theologian and philosopher Austin Farrer The third group provides some examples of interpretative practice relating to Genesis and the book of Psalms The contributors represent a wide range of academic disciplines and religious traditions providing significant pointers for further developments in Biblical criticism and interpretation theory Shakespeare and Interpretation, or What You Will Brayton Polka,2011-06-24 Brayton Polka takes both a textual and theoretical approach to seven plays of Shakespeare Macbeth Othello Twelfth Night All s Well That Ends Well Julius Caesar Troilus and Cressida and Hamlet He calls upon the Bible and the ideas of major European thinkers above all Kierkegaard and Spinoza to argue that the concept of interpretation underlying both Shakespeare s plays and our own lives is the golden rule of the Bible the command to love your neighbor as yourself Rethinking Philosophy in Light of the Bible Brayton Polka,2014-10-15

Rethinking Philosophy in Light of the Bible analyzes the ideas that are central to the philosophy of Kant Hegel and Kierkegaard in order to show that they are biblical in origin both ontologically and historically Brayton Polka argues that Schopenhauer has an altogether false conception of the fundamental ideas of the Bible creation the Fall of Adam and Eve and covenantal love and of Christianity which leaves his philosophy irredeemably contradictory as he himself acknowledges The aim then is to show that our modern values the values that constitute modernity are biblical in origin It is only when we come to understand that modernity is biblical from the beginning and that the Bible is modern unto the end that we are able to overcome the opposition so evident today between philosophy and theology between reason and faith and between the secular and the religious Polka makes central the distinction that Kierkegaard draws between Christianity and Christendom Christianity represents the coming into historical existence of the single individual Christendom represents Christian values that are rationalized in pagan terms As Kierkegaard shows us if God has always existed eternally then he has never existed eternally then he has never come into historical existence for the single individual The distinction between Christianity and

Christendom is the distinction not between faith and reason but between truth and idolatry While theology and philosophy each represent the truth of Christianity Schopenhauer s idolatrous concepts of faith no less than of reason represent Christendom Depth Psychology, Interpretation, and the Bible Brayton Polka,2001-02-12 Polka also raises the larger issue of the relationship between modernity hermeneutics and biblical ontology He argues that the origins and structure of modern values can be understood only through a theory of hermeneutics whose ontology overcomes the dualism between the secular and the religious between philosophy and religion Polka shows this to be possible when biblical ontology is understood to be at once rational and faithful secular and religious He uses the work of Spinoza Kant Hegel and Kierkegaard to articulate the ontological framework that makes clear how typically modern Freud is in being unable to account for the relationship of his thought to biblical religion Polka argues that Freudian metapsychology precisely because it cannot account for its own principles of explanation contradicts the insights of depth psychology Paradoxically religion returns in Freud as the repressed as it does in so much of modern thought Polka shows that what is therefore required is a hermeneutical theory whose ontological articulation of biblical religion is critically self conscious On Poetry and Philosophy Brayton Polka,2021-11-04 Brayton Polka s book On Poetry and Philosophy Thinking Metaphorically with Wordsworth and Kant is unique in bringing poetry and philosophy together in a single study The poet and the philosopher whom he makes central to his project are both revolutionary founders of modernity Wordsworth of romantic poetry and Kant of critical philosophy Both the poet and the philosopher as the author makes clear in his study found their principles at once poetically metaphorical and philosophically critical on the religious values that are central to the Bible that all human beings are equal before God

Difference in Philosophy of Religion Philip Goodchild,2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2003 Can difference be subordinated to identity simplicity or diversity Or does it make a difference to the entire way in which we think This book challenges the dominant agenda in the discipline of philosophy of religion by exploring issues of difference that have hitherto been obscured It draws together some of the most innovative work in philosophical thinking about religion by some of the most creative and radical new thinkers in the field Moving beyond debates between believers and skeptics the contributors draw on critical theory to address differences in rationality gender tradition culture and politics showing how it is possible to think differently Assumptions about rational neutrality belief tradition experience and identity that undergird the rational exploration of classical theism are deconstructed Instead it becomes important to explore a critical ethical reasoning religious performance internal religious tensions location in culture and a relation to exteriority as the groundwork for a future philosophy of religion The challenging new directions for inquiry presented in this volume offer philosophers of religion theologians and critical and cultural theorists fresh insights into ways of addressing problems of religious difference

Paradox and Contradiction in the Biblical Traditions Brayton Polka,2021-03-19 The principal thesis that the author advances in this book is that paradox and contradiction constitute the two ways of the world Paradox represents the way of the people of the Bible and contradiction represents the way of all peoples who having lived without knowledge of the Bible have traditionally been known as gentiles or pagans The two ideas that are central to the biblical way of life as known historically by Jews Christians and Muslims are creation and covenant while the contradictory way of paganism has precisely been marked by the absence of these two concepts In his book the author distinguishes the paradoxical way of the world from the contradictory way of the world through the examination of principal texts of four of the most significant early modern European thinkers from the later sixteenth century to the earlier eighteenth century Montaigne Descartes Spinoza and Vico He shows that each of these four authors in distinctive yet fundamentally interrelated fashion provides us with profound insight into how absolutely different the paradoxical way of the world as biblical is from the contradictory way of the world as found primarily and specifically in Greek and Roman antiquity
