Social Sciences And Farming Systems Research Methodological Perspectives On Agricultural Development:

Social Sciences And Farming Systems Research Jeffrey R Jones, Ben J Wallace, Robert Booth, Robert E Rhoades, 2019-07-11 The publication of this book has required the cooperation of many people along the way From its very conception the project of bringing together experiences from ongoing Farming Systems Research projects has faced a problem of communication due to the dispersal of the participants Dr William Partridge and Lynne Goldstein were instrumental in the initial presentation of the symposium on Social Science participation in Farming Systems Research at the 83rd Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association Ben Wallace has done an admirable job not only as editor but as a point man throughout the process of organizing the conference and preparing the manuscript He deserves credit for expediting countless activities that could never have otherwise been accomplished because of the vagaries of international mails and telecommunications

A History of Farming Systems Research Michael P. Collinson, 2000 This book provides a detailed history of farming systems research FSR While it includes the application of FSR to developed country agriculture its main focus is on FSR in its original role with small scale resource poor farmers in less developed countries There are some 40 contributions from nearly 50 contributors from 20 countries illustrating both the diversity and yet the coherence of FSR The five parts of the book cover 1 FSR understanding farmers and their farming FSR origins and perspectives understanding farming systems 2 the applications of farming systems research FSR in technology choice and development FSR in extension and policy formulation 3 institutional commitment to FSR FSR some institutional experiences in national agricultural research dimensions of the organization of FSR training for FSR 4 FSR the professional dimension regional and international associations FSR and the professional disciplines and 5 cutting edge methods abiding issues and the future for FSR

Gender Issues In Farming Systems Research And Extension Susan V. Poats, 2019-04-08 This book is the product of an international conference hosted by the Women in Agricultural Development WIAD Program at the University of Florida in 1986 The purpose of WIAD program is to promote an understanding of gender and its relevance for agricultural development processes

Proceedings of I4SDG Workshop 2021 Giuseppe Quaglia, Alessandro Gasparetto, Victor Petuya, Giuseppe Carbone, 2021-10-13 This volume contains the papers of the 1st Workshop IFToMM for Sustainable Development Goals I4SDG held online on November 25-26 2021 The main topics of the workshop include the aspects of theory design and practice of mechanism and machine science which are instrumental in reaching a sustainable development such as biomechanical engineering sustainable energy systems robotics and mechatronics green tribology computational kinematics dynamics of machinery industrial applications of mechanism design gearing and transmissions multibody dynamics rotor dynamics vibrations humanitarian engineering and socio technical systems for sustainable and inclusive development The contributions which were selected by means of a rigorous international peer review process highlight numerous exciting ideas that will spur novel research directions and foster multidisciplinary collaboration among different specialists demonstrating that medical and service robotics will drive the technological and societal change in the coming decades Farming Systems Research, January 1979 - December 1991 Jane Potter Gates,1992 Farming Systems Research Paper Series ,1982 Proceedings of the Workshop on Research Methodologies and Applications for Pacific Island Agroforestry ,1993 Tropical Forests: Management and Ecology Ariel E. Lugo,Carol Lowe,2012-12-06 Forestry professors used to remind students that whereas physicians bury their mistakes foresters die before theirs are noticed But good institutions live longer than the scientists who contribute to building them and the half century of work of the USDA Forest Service s Institute of Tropical Forestry ITF is in plain view an unprecedented corpus of accomplishments that would instill pride in any organization There is scarcely anyone interested in current issues of tropical forestry who would not benefit from a refresher course in ITF s findings its early collaboration with farmers to establish plantations its successes in what we now call social forestry its continuous improvement of nursery practices its screening trials of native species its development of wood processing technologies appropriate for developing countries its thorough analysis of tropical forest function and its holistic approach toward conservation of endangered species Fortunately ITF has a long history of information exchange through teaching like many others I got my own start in tropical forest ecology from just such a course in Puerto Rico And long before politicians recognized the global importance of tropical forestry the ITF staff served actively as ambassadors of the discipline visiting tropical countries everywhere to learn and when invited to do so to help solve local problems It is a general principle of biogeography that species turnover rates on islands are higher than those on continents Inevitably the same is true of scientists assigned to work on islands Gender Intentional Crop Breeding: From Integration To Institutional Innovation Hale Tufan,Vivian Polar, Jacqueline Ashby,2025-06-02 Significant progress in agricultural technology development has remained persistently blind to social and gender inequalities Creating agricultural research ecosystems and institutions that address gender inequality requires structural and systemic analysis One of the major areas of investment in agricultural innovation is plant breeding Integrating social welfare objectives in plant breeding is a good starting point to catalyze progress towards gender equality objectives in research for development at a global scale yet devoid of structural change these efforts risk falling short of expectations Intentionally addressing gender in plant breeding research can reshape the technical options goals and intended impact of breeding programs Improving the benefits delivered to rural women through plant breeding can be achieved through new methods and learning critically analyzing systematic barriers to equitable plant breeding research and documenting experiences that demonstrate positive change There is a wide diversity of global experiences where gender research has analyzed how gender differences influence needs preferences and potential benefits from crop varieties and crop specific traits Some of these experiences were able to successfully integrate results and learning from gender research into breeding processes and decisions while some have failed to demonstrate concrete actionable results in breeding programs The Farming
