Taming the Wind of Desire Carol Laderman,1993      Islam in an Era of Nation-States Robert W. Hefner,Patricia Horvatic,1997-09-01 The renewal of the Muslim faith which has occurred not only in Asia but in other parts of the world has prompted warnings of an imminent clash of civilizations between Islam and the West Islam in an Era of Nation States examines the history politics and meanings of this resurgence in Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines and explores its implications for Southeast Asia the larger Muslim world and the West This volume will be of interest to students of Islam Southeast Asian history and the anthropology of religion In examining the politics and meanings of Islamic resurgence it will also speak to political scientists religious scholars and others concerned with culture and politics in the late modern era

Islamisation A. C. S. Peacock,2017-03-08 The spread of Islam and the process of Islamisation meaning both conversion to Islam and the adoption of Muslim culture is explored in the twenty four chapters of this volume Taking a comparative perspective both the historical trajectory of Islamisation and the methodological problems in its study are addressed with coverage moving from Africa to China and from the seventh century to the start of the colonial period in 1800 Key questions are addressed What is meant by Islamisation How far was the spread of Islam as a religion bound up with the spread of Muslim culture To what extent are Islamisation and conversion parallel processes How is Islamisation connected to Arabisation What role do vernacular Muslim languages play in the promotion of Muslim culture The broad comparative perspective allows readers to develop a thorough understanding of the process of Islamisation over eleven centuries of its history      EurASEAA14 Volume II: Material Culture and Heritage Helen Lewis,2020-06-18 This volume comprises papers presented at the EurASEAA14 conference in 2012 updated for publication It focuses on topics under the broad themes of archaeology and heritage material culture environmental archaeology osteoarchaeology historic and prehistoric archaeology ethnoarchaeology and long distance contact trade and exchange

Korean Shamanism Chongho Kim,2018-01-18 Title first published in 2003 Shamanism has a contradictory position within the Korean cultural system leading to the periodical suppression of shamanism yet also paradoxically ensuring its survival throughout Korean history This book examines the place of shamans within contemporary society as a cultural practice in which people make use of shamanic ritual and disputing the prevalent view that shamanism is popular culture a women s religion or performing arts Directly confronting the prejudice against shamans and their paradoxical situation in a modern society such as Korea this book reveals the cultural discrepancy between two worlds in Korean culture the ordinary world and the shamanic world showing that these two worlds cannot be reconciled This unique study of shamanism offers a significant contribution to growing studies in indigenous anthropology and indigenous religions and provides a captivating read for a wide range of readers through retelling the stories never to be told involving shamanic ritual      Handbook of Culture, Therapy, and Healing Uwe P.

Geographically and demographically Asia is a huge region with a large number of societies and cultures each affected by their own unique problems including over population major natural disasters poverty and changing social and economic factors Inevitably this means that different mental health needs have developed across the region Colonialism globalization industrialization and urbanization have brought major demographic and cultural shifts in the region but clinical mental health practices and services and societal attitudes to mental health issues vary enormously This handbook surveys the state of the current psychiatric care field across the whole Asia Pacific region Focusing on individual countries each chapter will include A summary of factors affecting the practice and provision of psychiatric care including cultural attitudes to mental health issues Coverage of the conceptualisation causation and prevalence of mental health issues in society An overview of mental health care services and systems available and workforce training Coverage of country specific innovative practices and folk therapies As the first major reference work on psychiatric care in Asia this book is an essential resource for scholars and students researching mental health in Asia as well as psychiatrists and other mental health professionals working in the region Reason and Passion Michael G. Peletz, 2023-11-15 This book provides a historical and ethnographic examination of gender relations in Malay society in particular in the well known state of Negeri Sembilan famous for its unusual mixture of Islam and matrilineal descent Peletz analyzes the diverse ways in which the evocative heavily gendered symbols of reason and passion are deployed by Malay Muslims Unlike many studies of gender this book elucidates the cultural and political processes implicated in the constitution of both feminine and masculine identity It also scrutinizes the relationship between gender and kinship and weighs the role of ideology in everyday life Peletz insists on the importance of examining gender systems not as social isolates but in relation to other patterns of hierarchy and social difference His study is historical and comparative it also explores the political economy of contested symbols and meanings More than a treatise on gender and social change in a Malay society this book presents a valuable and deeply interesting model for the analysis of gender and culture by addressing issues of hegemony and cultural domination at the heart of contemporary cultural studies This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1996      Ethnomusicology Jennifer Post,2004-03-01 Ethnomusicology A Research and Information Guide is an annotated bibliography of books recordings videos and websites in the field of ethnomusicology The book is divided into two parts Part One is organised by resource type in catagories of greatest concern to students and scholars This includes handbooks and guides encyclopedias and dictionaries indexes and bibliographies journals media sources and archives It also offers annotated entries on the basic literature of ethnomusicological history and research Part Two provides a list of current publications in the field that are widely used by ethnomusicologists Multiply indexed this book serves as an excellent tool for librarians researchers and scholars in sorting through the massive amount of new material that has appeared in the field over the past decades      The Ashgate Research Companion to Anthropology Andrew J. Strathern,2016-03-03 This companion provides an indispensable overview of contemporary and classical issues in social and cultural anthropology Although anthropology has expanded greatly over time in terms of the diversity of topics in which its practitioners engage many of the broad themes and topics at the heart of anthropological thought remain perennially vital such as understanding order and change diversity and continuity and conflict and co operation in the reproduction of social life Bringing together leading scholars in the field the contributors to this volume provide us with thoughtful and fruitful ways of thinking about a number of contemporary and long standing arenas of work where both established and more recent researchers are engaged The companion begins by exploring classic topics such as Religion Rituals Language and Culture Violence and Gender This is followed by a focus on current developments within the discipline including Human Rights Globalization and Diasporas and Cosmopolitanism It provides an interesting and challenging look at the state of current thinking in anthropology serving as a rich resource for scholars and students alike      Kinship and Gender Linda Stone,Diane E. King,2018-09-27 Does kinship still matter in today s globalized increasingly mobile world Do family structures continue to influence the varied roles that men and women play in different cultures Answering with a resounding yes Linda Stone and Diane E King offer a lively introduction to and working knowledge of kinship They firmly link these concepts to cross cultural gender studies illuminating the malleable nature of gender roles around the world and over time Written to engage students each chapter in Kinship and Gender provides key terms and useful generalizations gleaned through research on the interplay of kinship and gender in both traditional societies and contemporary communities Detailed case studies and cross cultural examples help students understand how such generalizations are experienced in real life The authors also consider the ramifications of current social problems and recent developments in reproductive technology as they demonstrate the relevance of kinship and gender to students lives The fully revised sixth edition contains new case studies on foster parenting in the United States and on domestic violence It provides new material on pets as family members and an expanded discussion of the concept of lineal masculinity There is also a comparison of the adoption of new reproductive technologies in Israel with other countries along with a discussion of the issue of transnational movements in the use of these technologies

Everyday Life in South Asia Diane P. Mines, Sarah Lamb, 2002 A lively and informative introduction to the peoples and cultures of South Asia

Male and Female in Developing South-East Asia Karim Wazir Wazir, 2021-03-10 This provocative book seeks to redress inaccuracies in Western perceptions of gender relations in Southeast Asia by bringing to the fore the area's ethnic and cultural variance and showing how women and men explain the informal and psychological dimensions of relationships as vital in holding family neighbourhood and kinship ties together Although there are differences between male and female perceptions of sex roles in society women perceive their situation as disadvantaged rather than less significant Male female interpretations of power and status tend to converge usually towards the understanding that the contributions of men and women are equally important in the formation of family and society

Healing Secular Life Christopher Dole, 2012-08-16 In contemporary Turkey a democratic secular and predominantly Muslim nation the religious healer is a controversial figure Attracting widespread condemnation religious healers are derided as exploiters of the sick and vulnerable discredited forms of Islamic and medical authority and superstitious relics of a pre modern era Yet all sorts of people and not just the desperately ill continue to seek them out After years of research with healers and their patients in working class neighborhoods of urban Turkey anthropologist Christopher Dole concludes that the religious healer should be regarded not as an exception to Turkey's secular modern development but as one of its defining figures Healing Secular Life demonstrates that religious healing and secularism in fact have a set of common stakes in the ordering of lives and the remaking of worlds Linking the history of medical reforms and scientific literacy campaigns to contemporary efforts of Qur'anic healers to treat people afflicted by spirits and living saints through whom deceased political leaders speak Healing Secular Life approaches stories of healing and being healed as settings for examining the everyday social intimacies of secular political rule This ethnography of loss care and politics reveals not only that the authority of the religious healer is deeply embedded within the history of secular modern reform in Turkey but also that personal narratives of suffering and affliction are inseparable from the story of a nation seeking to recover from the violence of its own secular past

The Hammer and the Flute Mary Keller, 2005-04-14 Award for the Best First Book in the History of Religions from the American Academy of Religion Feminist theory and postcolonial theory share an interest in developing theoretical frameworks for describing and evaluating subjectivity comparatively especially with regard to non autonomous models of agency As a historian of religions Mary Keller uses the figure of the possessed woman to analyze a subject that is spoken through rather than speaking and whose will is the will of the ancestor deity or spirit that wields her to engage the question of agency in a culturally and historically comparative study that recognizes the prominent role possessed women play in their respective traditions Drawing from the fields of anthropology and comparative psychology Keller brings the figure of the possessed woman into the heart of contemporary argument as an exemplary model that challenges many Western and feminist assumptions regarding agency. Proposing a new theoretical framework that re-orientates scholarship, Keller argues that the subject who is wielded or played the hammer or the flute exercises a paradoxical authority: instrumental agency born of their radical receptivity; their power derives from the communities' assessment that they no longer exist as autonomous agents. For Keller, the possessed woman is at once hammer and flute, paradoxically powerful because she has become an instrument of the overpowering will of an ancestor deity or spirit. Keller applies the concept of instrumental agency to case studies providing a new interpretation of each. She begins with contemporary possessions in Malaysia where women in manufacturing plants were seized by spirits seeking to resacralize the territory. She next looks to wartime Zimbabwe where female spirit mediums the Nehanda mhondoro declared the ancestors will to fight against colonialism. Finally, she provides an imaginative rereading of the performative power of possession by interpreting two plays: Euripides' Bacchae and S. Y. Ansky's The Dybbuk, which feature possessed women as central characters. This book can serve as an excellent introduction to postcolonial and feminist theory for graduate students while grounding its theory in the analysis of regionally and historically specific moments of time that will be of interest to specialists. It also provides an argument for the evaluation of religious lives and their struggles for meaning and power in the contemporary landscape of critical theory.

Songs and Gifts at the Frontier Jose S. Buenconsejo, 2013-11-26 This book investigates the particular history and social experience by a marginalized society in Mindanao Island, Philippines through an analysis of the speech, song, and dance in spirit possession ritual. Using the concepts of exchange and reciprocity, Buenconsejo connects the performativity of ritual song to the formation and maintenance of sociability, personhood, and subjectivity. Also includes maps.

Islam in Indonesia Jajat Burhanudin, Kees Dijk, 2025-10-01 While Muslims in Indonesia have begun to turn towards a strict adherence to Islam, the reality of the socio-religious environment is much more complicated than a simple shift towards fundamentalism. In this volume, contributors explore the multifaceted role of Islam in Indonesia from a variety of different perspectives, drawing on carefully compiled case studies. Topics covered include religious education, the increasing number of Muslim feminists in Indonesia, the role of Indonesia in the greater Muslim world, social activism, and the middle class, and the interaction between Muslim radio and religious identity.

Sharia Dynamics Timothy P. Daniels, 2017-01-12 This multidisciplinary volume explores the role of Islamic law within the dynamic processes of postcolonial transformation, nation building, and social reform. Here, eleven international scholars examine Islamic law in several contemporary sociopolitical contexts, focusing specifically on Malaysia, Indonesia, Pakistan, China, Tunisia, Nigeria, the United States, and the International Islamic Fiqh Academy (IIFA) of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC). The contributors also address the entanglement of Islamic law and ethics with the history of Muslim religious discourses, shifts toward modernity, gender relations, and efforts to construct exclusive or plural national communities. Sharia Dynamics, at once enchanting and enlightening, is a must-read for scholars of contemporary

Islam      Democracy, Corruption and the Politics of Spirits in Contemporary Indonesia Nils Bubandt, 2014-06-05

Indonesia has been an electoral democracy for more than a decade and yet the political landscape of the world's third largest democracy is as complex and enigmatic as ever. The country has achieved a successful transition to democracy and yet Indonesian democracy continues to be flawed, illiberal and predatory. This book suggests that this and other paradoxes of democracy in Indonesia often assume occult forms in the Indonesian political imagination and that the spirit-like character of democracy and corruption traverses into the national media and the political elite. Through a series of biographical accounts of political entrepreneurs all of whom employ spirits in various but always highly contested ways, the book seeks to provide a portrait of Indonesia's contradictory democracy, contending that the contradictions that haunt democracy in Indonesia also infect democracy globally. Exploring the intimate ways in which the world of politics and the world of spirits are entangled, it argues that Indonesia's seemingly peculiar problems with democracy and spirits in fact reflect a set of contradictions within democracy itself. Engaging with recent attempts to look at contemporary politics through the lens of the occult, Democracy, Corruption and the Politics of Spirits in Contemporary Indonesia will be of interest to academics in the fields of Asian Studies, Anthropology and Political Science and relevant for the study of Indonesian politics and for debates about democracy in Asia and beyond.

Culture and the Senses Prof. Kathryn Geurts, 2003-01-09 Adding her stimulating and finely framed ethnography to recent work in the anthropology of the senses, Kathryn Geurts investigates the cultural meaning system and resulting sensorium of Anlo Ewe speaking people in southeastern Ghana. Geurts discovered that the five senses model has little relevance in Anlo culture where balance is a sense and balancing in a physical and psychological sense as well as in literal and metaphorical ways is an essential component of what it means to be human. Much of perception falls into an Anlo category of seselelame literally feel feel at flesh inside in which what might be considered sensory input including the Western sixth sense notion of intuition comes from bodily feeling and the interior milieu. The kind of mind/body dichotomy that pervades Western European/American cultural traditions and philosophical thought is absent. Geurts relates how Anlo society privileges and elaborates what we would call kinesthesia which most Americans would not even identify as a sense. After this nuanced exploration of an Anlo Ewe theory of inner states and their way of delineating external experience, readers will never again take for granted the naturalness of sight, touch, taste, hearing and smell.
