Economy Of Passion Marta Savigliano, 2018-02-06 What is tango Dance music and lyrics of course but also a philosophy a strategy a commodity even a disease This book explores the politics of tango tracing tango s travels from the brothels of Buenos Aires to the cabarets of Paris and the shako dansu clubs of Tokyo The author is an Argentinean political theorist and a dance professor at the University of California at Riverside She uses her tango tongue to tell interwoven tales of sexuality gender race class and national identity Along the way she unravels relations between machismo and colonialism postmodernism and patriarchy exoticism and commodification In the end she arrives at a discourse on decolonization as intellectual unlearning Marta Savigliano s voice is highly personal and political Her account is at once about the exoticization of tango and about her own fate as a Third World woman intellectual A few sentences from the preface are indicative Tango is my womb and my tongue a trench where I can shelter and resist the colonial invitations to universalism a stubborn fatalist mood when technocrats and theorists offer optimistic and seriously revised versions of alternatives for the Third World an opportunistic metaphor to talk about myself and my stories as a success of the civilization development colonization of Am ca Latina and a strategy to figure out through the history of the tango a hooked up story of people like myself Tango is my changing resourceful source of identity And because I am where I am outside tango hurts and comforts me Tango is a sad thought that can be danced Savigliano employs the tools of ethnography history body movement analysis and political economy Well illustrated with drawings and photos dating back to the 1880s this book is highly readable entertaining and provocative It is sure to be recognized as an important contribution in the fields of cultural studies performance studies decolonization and women of color feminism

War Heaven Mack Maloney, Evidence and Agency Berislav Marusic, 2015-10-01 Evidence and Agency is concerned with the question of how as agents we should take evidence into account when thinking about our future actions Suppose you are promising or resolving to do something that you have evidence is difficult for you to do For example suppose you are promising to be faithful for the rest of your life or you are resolving to quit smoking Should you believe that you will follow through or should you believe that there is a good chance that you won t If you believe the former you seem to be irrational since you believe against the evidence Yet if you believe the latter you seem to be insincere since you can t sincerely say that you will follow through Hence it seems your promise or resolution must be improper Nonetheless we make such promises and resolutions all the time Indeed as the examples illustrate such promises and resolutions are very important to us The challenge is to explain this apparent inconsistency in our practice of promising and resolving To meet this challenge Berislav Marusic considers a number of possible responses including an appeal to trying an appeal to non cognitivism about practical reason an appeal to practical knowledge and an appeal to evidential constraints on practical reasoning He rejects all these and defends a solution inspired by the Kantian tradition and by Sartre in particular as agents we have a distinct view of what we will do If something is up to us we can decide what to do rather than predict what we will do But the reasons in light of which a decision is rational are not the same as the reasons in light of which a prediction is rational That is why provided it is important to us to do something we can rationally believe that we will do it even if our belief goes against the evidence      Flight Services United States.
