Herbert Hoffmann, 1997 In this book the author explores the work of the fifth century BC Athenian vase painter Sotades one of the most familiar names in vase painting Previous scholarship has dealt mainly with questions of attribution style and iconographic interpretation but Dr Hoffman concentrates on inherent meaning what does the imagery of these decorated vases really signify He argues that contrary to widely held conceptions there is an underlying unity of meaning in Greek vases and their imagery a unity rooted in the religious beliefs and ritual practices of the society from which they spring Each chapter discusses a specific aspect of the artist's iconology placing it in the context of fifth century BC Greek philosophical and religious thought Monumentum H.S. Hellenistic Pottery: Text Susan I. Rotroff, 1997 Murlo and the Etruscans Richard Daniel De Puma, Jocelyn Penny

Small, 1994 Murlo and the Etruscans explores this and other mysteries in a collection of twenty essays by leading specialists of Etruscan and classical art all of whom have been associated with the Murlo site. Numerous photographs and drawings accompany the essays. The first eleven chapters survey specific groups of Etruscan objects and challenge the view of Etruscan art as provincial or derivative. Interpretations of the magnificent series of decorated terra cotta frieze plaques and other architectural elements contribute to an understanding of Murlo and related Etruscan centers. Plaques depicting a lively Etruscan banquet offer a way to detect differences between Etruscan and ancient Greek society. The remaining nine chapters treat various aspects of Etruscan art often moving beyond ancient Murlo both geographically and temporally. They examine funerary symbolism, sculpted amber and amber trade contacts along the ancient Adriatic Coast, depictions of domesticated cats, votive terra cottas of human anatomical parts and how they help in understanding Etruscan medicine and the adaptation of Greek style myth and iconography in Etruscan art. These essays will have a broad impact on the study of the ancient Mediterranean. They will certainly be required reading not only for Etruscologists but for anyone with an interest in the world of classical antiquity. The range of subjects moving in wide arcs around the archaeological site at Murlo brings the site into focus in a way that a series of standard archaeological site reports could not. Kenneth Hamma, J. Paul Getty Museum. There is a fine and commendable interweaving and intertwining of thoughts and scholarly research throughout Murlo and the Etruscans. It will be a useful reference source for the art of Etruscan coroplast wherein lies the forte of the Etruscan sculptor Mario A. Del Chiaro. University of California.

Red-figure Pottery in its Ancient Setting Bodil Bundsgaard

Rasmussen, Stine Schierup, 2012-05-22. What happened when Athenian pottery reached other cultural contexts and was absorbed into indigenous communities around or outside Greece? How did the various contexts influence the adaptation of Athenian iconography and does the setting add to an understanding of how Athenian iconographic themes were altered or absorbed as they entered into new cultural contexts? To highlight these interpretative challenges the National Museum of Denmark in 2009 staged the colloquium Red figure Pottery in its Ancient Setting and invited a group of specialists to present cases from within their areas of research which would serve to enhance our understanding of the great range of the character and value of red figure pottery and its imagery whether in local Greek, a colonial Greek, an Etruscan or any other indigenous community. The various cases presented in these proceedings of the colloquium clearly demonstrate that this approach to the study of Greek pottery and its imagery has much to offer.
