Social Program Administration The Implementation Of Social Policy

David P. Moxley

Social Program Administration The Implementation Of Social Policy:

Social Program Administration Bruce L. Gates, 1980 Designing and Planning Programs for Nonprofit and Government Organizations Edward J. Pawlak, Robert D. Vinter, 2004-07-29 Designing and Planning Programs for Nonprofit and Government Organizations is a comprehensive guide for practitioners who must carry out program planning projects in nonprofit or government human service organizations. Authors Edward J. Pawlak and Robert D. Vinter, experts in the field of program planning, show how planning is a goal directed activity that will succeed when its tasks are carried out in orderly progressive stages. In this important resource, the authors walk practitioners and students through the entire process from initiation to completion of planning projects and examine the relationship between planning, implementation, and program operations.

Information and Referral in Reference Services Marcia Stucklen Middleton, 1988 This book investigates a wide variety of situations and models which fall under the umbrella of information and referral. It examines traditional views in public libraries and library systems as well as descriptions of programs in nontraditional settings such as academic libraries. A human services perspective is explored and research models are presented.

Public Health in a Retrenchment Era Helen J. Muller, Curtis Ventriss, 1985-06-30 Public Health in a Retrenchment Era illustrates the political and economic reality of making cutbacks in traditional government sponsored programs. This book critically examines the issues concerning cutbacks by focusing on Los Angeles County, which has one of the largest public health service systems in the nation, and explains how cutbacks were legitimized and implemented. Muller and Ventriss propose that the retrenchment process offers an opportunity for policymakers and citizens alike to critically examine new choices which may not have existed in periods of fiscal expansion. They criticize the present focus on managerialism and propose an alternative approach. Called the co-possibility model, it enhances a more humane and substantive policy approach in making cutbacks. This model links the citizen, policymaker, and public organization in a new relationship, fostering an environment for policy experimentation and innovation in this retrenchment era.

Practice of Case Management David P. Moxley, 1989 The Practice of Case Management in the Human Services offers a succinct yet comprehensive guide to carrying out a case manager's responsibilities. The author explores assessment of the service needs of the client, facilitating the client's contact with the appropriate institutions and services, monitoring the quality of services provided to the client, and taking action when the client's needs are not met. He also considers the therapeutic role required when needs are not met because the problems are indigenous to the client. Providing an integrated look at practice technologies applicable to a variety of practice areas, the volume is appropriate for both preservice and inservice education in the field of human services.

Budgeting and Financial Management in the Federal Government Jerry L. McCaffery, Lawrence R. Jones, 2002-02-01 Mission Statement The mission of the book series is to be consistent with the mission statement of the International Public Management Network (IPMN) that will sponsor the series. The mission of IPMN and the book series is to provide a forum for sharing ideas, concepts, and results.

of research and practice in the field of public management and to stimulate critical thinking about alternative approaches to problem solving and decision making in the public sector The book series editors will seek to facilitate exchange and cooperative work among scholars interested in transformational change in the public sector in individual nations and around the world Our intent will be to create and sustain a dialogue on emerging management concepts methods and technology so that readers can learn about innovation and change in public sector organizations throughout the world IPMN presently includes members representing 70 different countries approximately 600 representatives from these nations As such we have a solid base of subscription support for the book series within IPMN For more information on IPMN see the website at <http://www.willamette.org/ipmn/about.html> In addition we want the series to appeal to members of the Public Sector section of the Academy of Management and to the members of the Association for Public Policy Analysis and Management Both editors belong to and participate actively in AOM and APPAM

Government Institutions: Effects, Changes and Normative Foundations H. Wagenaar, 2000-10-31 Research on government institutions is one of the most exciting intellectual areas in political science and policy studies today Increasingly it is recognized by scholars in these fields that effective and legitimate policies depend on the design and maintenance of complex institutional arrangements This book brings together some of the leading scholars in institutional research in The Netherlands Their work addresses such perennially difficult questions in institutional research such as How do we understand institutional change How do we measure the effects of institutions on societal sectors and public policy How do the normative foundations of government institutions influence their functioning What are the principles of effective and legitimate institutional design Through analysis of well researched examples ranging from the fabled Dutch poldermodel through the transformation of the welfare state through privatizations of the Dutch telecommunications industry to the work of welfare officials these authors demonstrate the interpenetration of normative empirical and design issues in institutional theory The book is intended for scholars and graduate students in political science public policy public administration and law
