Consumer Value Morris Holbrook, 2002-03-11 As shoppers what factors influence our decision to purchase an object or service Why do we choose one product over another How do we attribute value as part of the shopping experience The theme of serving the customer and customer satisfaction is central to every formulation of the marketing concept yet few books attempt to define and analyse exactly what it is that consumers want In this provocative collection of essays Morris Holbrook brings together a team of the top US and European scholars to discuss an issue of great importance to the study of marketing and consumer behaviour This ground breaking interdisciplinary book provides an innovative framework for the study of consumer value which is used to critically examine the nature and type of value that consumers derive from the consumption experience efficiency excellence status esteem play aesthetics ethics spirituality Guaranteed to provoke debate and controversy this is a courageous individualistic and idiosyncratic book which should appeal to students of marketing consumer behaviour cultural studies and consumption studies Major Social Problems Earl Raab, Gertrude Jaeger Selznick, 1964 Humanistic Marketing R. Varey, M. Pirson, 2013-11-19 Humanistic Marketing is a response to the currently growing mega trend call for rethinking marketing The book organizes current thinking around the problems of marketing theory and practice as well as solutions and ways forward providing a diverse exploration of the position of marketing in the face of challenges for societal transformation Handbook on the Study of Social Problems Erwin Orson Smigel, 1971 Focuses on the examination of the difficulties encountered when dealing with social problems Who Benefits from Global Violence and War Marc Pilisuk, 2007-12-30 Military economic and environmental violence in the era of globalization cause immense suffering and may ultimately threaten the existence of life as we know it but author Pilisuk explains that the future can change if we understand and act upon the roots of violence A professor emeritus of psychology and human and community development Pilisuk explains how most violence is the product of a human built social order in which some people and institutions control most of the resources make the decisions that necessitate violence and operate with minimal accountability The common root of war poverty environmental destruction and other forms of violence is spotlighted Such violence says Pilisuk is a natural consequence of a system inordinately influenced by a relatively small interconnected group of corporate military and government leaders with the power to instill fear to increase their excessive fortunes and to restrict information particularly about their own clandestine dealings This text includes scholarship hailing from across disciplines combined with information from investigative journalism and insights from nonprofit watchdog groups all shedding light on centralized power and its effects Pilisuk presents material including the range of tactics used to manipulate and destroy adversaries the human capacity to kill as a challenge and how media is used by powerful groups to manipulate fear and maintain their power Here readers find solid social science to support what whistleblowers and social critics are observing about a system that needs change Library Book Catalog United States.
