Talking Tidewater:

Slow Learner Thomas Pynchon, 2012-06-13 An exhilarating spectacle of greatness discovering its powers New Republic
Funny and wise enough to charm the gravity from a rainbow All five of the pieces have unusual narrative vigor and inventiveness The New York Times Compiling five short stories originally written between 1959 and 1964 Slow Learner showcases Thomas Pynchon's writing before the publication of his first novel V The stories compiled here are The Small Rain Low lands Entropy Under the Rose and The Secret Integration along with an introduction by Pynchon himself that Time Magazine calls his first public gesture toward autobiography

Talking Tidewater Richard Harwood, 1996-01-01 The Literary House Press at Washington College publishes a range of general interest books and scholarly monographs Its publications present literary scientific historic journalistic environmental and public policy writings of the Chesapeake Bay region As publisher for Washington College the press also publishes scholarly monographs written by faculty or taken from lecture series at the college In addition Literary House Press publishes works of literary merit without regard to subject or setting This anthology selects from contemporary literature to present works that bring pleasure and enlightenment Autobiographical essays in the first section give us intimations of oceans bays beaches islands and rivers on the imagination dreams and self identity of their authors The middle section celebrates the human and cultural variety of the region its customs traditions and eccentricities The final essays examine the malign and accidental forces that threaten the health and wealth of the Bay and survival of the distinctive character and life styles that have inspired and informed the work of generations of literary men and women

House at Royal Oak Carol Eron Rizzoli, 2010-04-28 An unforgettable story about a couple who follow their dream of converting a run down country house into a working bed and breakfast and what they learn along the way from an old home a close knit community and a parade of extraordinary guests One spring Carol Eron Rizzoli and her husband Hugo bought a dilapidated farmhouse in the tiny village of Royal Oak Maryland on the edge of the Chesapeake Bay They spent two years transforming it into a bed and breakfast which took them twice as long and cost three times as much as they had originally estimated on the back of a napkin As they struggled to restore the house and open the B B Carol and Hugo were also slowly acquainting themselves with the rural community of Royal Oak rich in custom and culinary traditions and populated by neighbors with particular views on politics hunting wildlife and of course newcomers from the big city Written with honesty and humor The House at Royal Oak is a journey to the heart of what it means to start over and chase a dream Part inspirational account of reinventing yourself at mid life part love story about learning what matters most in a relationship it is above all a book about home what it means and the unexpected places we find it
