How to Talk to Kids About Anything Robyn Silverman PhD,2023-10-10 THE NATIONAL BESTSELLER A step by step guide to answering your kids toughest questions When people die where do they go Why is her skin darker than mine But how does the baby get in there Don't panic While we know that the first step to connecting deeply with our kids is being able to communicate empathize and answer their biggest queries what do you do when that tricky to answer question comes out of the blue Sometimes we just don't know what to say so we simply change the subject or give a quick throwaway answer and hope it doesn't come up again Dr Robyn Silverman host of the How to Talk to Kids About Anything Parenting Podcast gets it A child development specialist and mom she'll stick with you every step of the way In this book Dr Robyn takes you through the whole spectrum of kids curious questions giving you the strategies and scripts to prepare you for life's most challenging conversations That way your kids get age appropriate information straight from you their trusted source rather than from peers the media or the internet You'll learn how to develop calm well thought out answers to tricky questions on subjects including Death Sex Friendship Divorce Money And more Drawing on the expertise of dozens of well known experts Dr Robyn's decades of working with children and teens and her personal experience as a mom How to Talk to Kids About Anything is a vital resource for parents who value having honest meaningful conversations with their kids When you just can't find the right words this book will be your guide to talking to your kids about anything as they grow from toddlers to teens and beyond Makes for a thoughtful gift for new parents What Do You Say? William Stixrud, PhD, Ned Johnson, 2021-08-17 A guide to effectively communicating with teenagers by the bestselling authors of The Self Driven Child If you're a parent you've had a moment maybe many of them when you've thought How did that conversation go so badly At some point after the sixth grade the same kid who asked why non stop at age four suddenly stops talking to you And the conversations that you wish you could have ones fueled by your desire to see your kid not just safe and healthy but passionately engaged suddenly feel nearly impossible to execute The good news is that effective communication can be cultivated learned and taught And as you get better at this so will your kids William Stixrud Ph D and Ned Johnson have 60 years combined experience talking to kids one on one and the most common question they get when out speaking to parents and educators is What do you say While many adults understand the importance and power of the philosophies behind the books that dominate the parenting bestseller list parents are often left wondering how to put those concepts into action In What Do You Say Johnson and Stixrud show how to engage in respectful and effective dialogue beginning with defining and demonstrating the basic principles of listening and speaking Then they show new ways to handle specific thorny topics of the sort that usually end in parent kid standoffs delivering constructive feedback to kids discussing boundaries around technology explaining sleep and their brains the anxiety of current events and family problem solving What Do You Say is a manual and map that will immediately transform parents ability to navigate complex terrain and train their minds and hearts to communicate ever more successfully Kids 101 Ashley Johnson, 2016-02-24 In more than few instances we all have come across parents doing funny baby talk to their kids and puzzled why do they do it This indeed is a great way to make kids listen to them Also such baby talk will ensure that the kids don't get distracted while observing the necessary information from their parents' talk. Talking to kids in a way they like is mandatory as it directly affects the way they mould up. In life studies, it has been revealed that kids listening to more words and understanding more words before they complete three years of age will help to be successful in their academics. Talking to kids is really important for every parent as they want to raise well-civilized, talented, disciplined and kind-hearted kids. The biggest challenge in talking to kids is their attention span. It is believed that the maximum attention span of a child as their parent talks is only one minute. And this one minute is the first minute of your conversation; it decides how powerful it is going to be. For parents those who are struggling to make their kids listen to them, this book will serve as an ultimate guide to get closer to their children.
