Tasmania A Place To Remember:

Tasmania Michelle Dale, 1997 The Child's World Margaret Robertson, Rodney Gerber, 2000 Young people who live most of their lives in the 21st century face dilemmas hardly experienced in the 20th century world the rapid compression of space and time an unprecedented rate of cultural and technological change the dissolution of many traditional boundaries Already children live in a world unknown to us in our childhood they surf the net play virtual games and interact with cyberspace What skills are required to help children navigate these very different spaces How Memory Frictions in Contemporary Literature María Jesús Martínez-Alfaro, Silvia Pellicer-Ortín, 2017-10-14 This volume explores the multifarious representational strategies used by contemporary writers to textualise memory and its friction areas through literary practices By focusing on contemporary narratives in English from 1990 to the present the essays in the collection delve into both the treatment of memory in literature and the view of literature as a medium of memory paying special attention to major controversies attending the representation and re construction of individual cultural and collective memories in the literary narratives published during the last few decades By analysing texts written by authors of such diverse origins as Great Britain South Korea the USA Cuba Australia India as well as Native American Indian and African American writers the contributors to the collection analyse a good range of memory frictions in connection with melancholic mourning immigration diaspora genocide perpetrator guilt dialogic witnessing memorialisation practices inherited traumatic memories sexual abuse prostitution etc through the recourse to various disciplines such as psychoanalysis ethics bio politics space theories postcolonial studies narratology gender studies resulting in a book that is expected to make a ground breaking contribution to a field whose possibilities have yet to be fully explored Place Meaning and Attachment Dak Kopec, Anna Marie Bliss, 2020-03-10 Revolutions have gripped many countries leading to the destruction of buildings places and artifacts climate change is threatening the ancestral homes of many the increasingly uneven distribution of resources has made the poor vulnerable to the coercive efforts by the rich and social uncertainty has led to the romanticizing of the past Humanity is resilient but we have a fundamental need for attachment to places buildings and objects This edited volume will explore the different meanings and forms of place attachment and meaning based on our histories and conceptualization of material artifacts Each chapter examines a varied relationship between a given society and the meaning formed through myth symbols and ideologies manifested through diverse forms of material artifacts Topics of consideration examine place attachment at many scales including at the level of the artifact human being building urban context and region We need a better understanding of human relationships to the past our attachments to the events and places and to the external influences on our attachments This understanding will allow for better preservation methods pertaining to important places and buildings and enhanced social wellbeing for all groups of people Covering a broad range of international perspectives on place meaning from the United States to Europe Asia to Russia and Africa to Australia this book is an essential read for students academics and professionals alike Field Guide Gwendolen Gross,2025-09-23 In this mesmerizing first novel a young American graduate student abandons her research deep in the Australian rain forest to investigate her professor's mysterious disappearance Annabel Mendelssohn has an unusual but oddly satisfying life studying spectacled fruit bats in the rain forest of Australia She spends her free time discovering waterfalls and emailing her sister Alice who has settled for the more domesticated science of grant administration Although she has an unfriendly roommate and occasionally fears that loggers will disturb her bats all seems to be going according to plan until Annabel's mentor the enigmatic Professor John Goode suddenly disappears Haunted by the ambiguous circumstances surrounding her brother's death two years earlier Annabel becomes obsessed with finding the professor Meanwhile after learning of his father's disappearance Leon Goode leaves his teaching job in a Boston museum to join the search In the vibrant unpredictable rain forest Annabel and Leon come to realize that truth reveals itself in more ways than one As it unmask the secrets of the rain forest and of tangled human emotions this deftly written and suspenseful tale casts a spell over mind and heart The Cyclopedia of Victoria (illustrated) James Smith,1905 Sacred Places K. S. Inglis,Jan Brazier,2008 Memorials to Australian participation in wars abound in our landscape From Melbourne's huge Shrine of Remembrance to the modest marble soldier obelisk or memorial hall in suburb and country town they mourn and honour Australians who have served and died for their country Surprisingly they have largely escaped scrutiny Ken Inglis argues that the imagery rituals and rhetoric generated around memorials constitute a civil religion a cult of ANZAC Sacred Places traces three elements which converged to create the cult the special place of war in the European mind when nationalism was at its zenith the colonial condition and the death of so many young men in distant battle which impelled the bereaved to make substitutes for the graves of which history had deprived them The war memorial movement attracted conflict as well as commitment Inglis looks at uneasy acceptance even rejection of the cult by socialists pacifists feminists and some Christians and at its virtual exclusion of Aborigines He suggests that between 1918 and 1939 the making dedication and use of memorials enhanced the power of the right in Australian public life Finally he examines a paradox Why as Australia's wars recede in public and private memory and as a once British Australia becomes multicultural have the memorials and what they stand for become more cherished than ever Sacred Places spans war religion politics language and the visual arts Ken Inglis has distilled new cultural understandings from a familiar landscape A Dark Place Neive Denis,2022-05-31 How do you prove you are who you claim to be After the death of the only parents she ever knew Kirsty McGregor is devastated to learn she was adopted In the course of trying to establish her true identity she uncovers a possible link to a longstanding deceased estate which includes a substantial property and a big old house The gruelling process to prove her identity necessary to substantiate her claim leaves her psychologically fragile and in a dark place Long time friend and Private Investigator Sonoma Sonny Whittington steps in to help search for any surviving members of Kirsty's family and to help and support Kirsty in discovering her tragic background Journals and Printed Papers of the Parliament of Tasmania Tasmania. Parliament, 1909 The Honey Trail Grace Pundyk, 2010-08-03 A unique look at the history culture tradition and environmental impact of honey The Honey Trail is a global travel narrative that looks at different aspects of how honey and bees are being affected by globalization terrorism deforestation the global food trade and climate change This unique book not only questions the state of our environment and the impact it is having on bees and honey it also takes readers on an adventure across Yemeni deserts and Borneo jungles through the Mississippi Delta and Tasmania's rainforests over frozen Siberian snowscapes and ancient Turkish villages all in search of the liquid gold known as honey Including fascinating insights such as A bee produces only a teaspoon of honey in its lifetime China is the world's largest honey producer Honey is only used as medicine in Borneo There are more than thirty five mono floral honeys in Tuscany

Places of Pain and Shame William Logan, Keir Reeves, 2008-12-05 Places of Pain and Shame is a cross cultural study of sites that represent painful and or shameful episodes in a national or local community's history and the ways that government agencies heritage professionals and the communities themselves seek to remember commemorate and conserve these cases or conversely choose to forget them Such episodes and locations include massacre and genocide sites places related to prisoners of war civil and political prisons and places of benevolent internment such as leper colonies and lunatic asylums These sites bring shame upon us now for the cruelty and futility of the events that occurred within them and the ideologies they represented They are however increasingly being regarded as heritage sites a far cry from the view of heritage that prevailed a generation ago when we were almost entirely concerned with protecting the great and beautiful creations of the past reflections of the creative genius of humanity rather than the reverse the destructive and cruel side of history Why has this shift occurred and what implications does it have for professionals practicing in the heritage field In what ways is this a difficult heritage to deal with This volume brings together academics and practitioners to explore these questions covering not only some of the practical matters but also the theoretical and conceptual issues and uses case studies of historic places museums and memorials from around the globe including the United States Northern Ireland Poland South Africa China Japan Taiwan Cambodia Indonesia Timor and Australia

Tasmania, 2006 The Pakana Voice Tales of a War Correspondent from Lutruwita (Tasmania) 1814-1856 Ian Broinowski, 2019-08-16 THIS BOOK IS ABOUT THE POWER OF THE PRESS TO SWAY OPINION The voice is W C a hapless war correspondent posted to Tasmania to cover the conflict between the Pakana people of Lutruwita and the British from 1814 to 1856 In old age comforted by malt and his scruffy dog Bent W C shares his press clippings of graphic accounts of the events that unfolded in the early days of the colony He reveals his impassioned love for Lowana a Pakana woman who haunts his dreams forever W C's perspective on these events is not without its biases He tries to temper his feelings as he shares with us letters articles and opinion pieces from his collection He includes of his own postings The Pakana Voice in which he encourages his readers to see what is not being reported in the press Despite technology little has changed in two centuries of media and its influence over the minds of people W C s words still ring true I fear the old adage that we learn from history is indeed a misnomer

Crime in England 1880-1945 Barry Godfrey, 2013-10-30 This book is an ambitious attempt to map the main changes in the criminal justice system in the Victorian period through to the twentieth century Chapters include an examination of the growth and experience of imprisonment policing and probation services the recording of crime in official statistics and in public memory and the possibilities of research created by new electronic and on line sources an exploration of time space and place on crime and the growth internationalisation and science led approach of crime control methods in this period Unusually the book presents these issues in a way which illustrates the sources of data that informs modern crime history and discusses how criminologists and historians produce theories of crime history Consequently there are a series of interesting and lively debates of a thematic nature which will engage historians criminologists and research methods specialists as well as the undergraduates and school students that like the author are fascinated by crime history

Another Day in the Colony Chelsea Watego, 2021-11-02 A ground breaking work and a call to arms that exposes the ongoing colonial violence experienced by First Nations people In this collection of deeply insightful and powerful essays Chelsea Watego examines the ongoing and daily racism faced by First Nations peoples in so called Australia Rather than offer yet another account of the Aboriginal problem she theorises a strategy for living in a society that has only ever imagined Indigenous peoples as destined to die out Drawing on her own experiences and observations of the operations of the colony she exposes the lies that settlers tell about Indigenous people In refusing such stories Chelsea narrates her own fierce personal sometimes funny sometimes anguished She speaks not of fighting back but of standing her ground against colonialism in academia in court and in the media It s a stance that takes its toll on relationships career prospects and even the body Yet when told to have hope Watego s response rings clear Fuck hope Be sovereign

Unstable Ground Gay McAuley, 2006 As an art form that is utterly dependent on its own spatiality theatre has a major contribution to make to contemporary debates about space and place In this book Australian academics explore the nexus between place and performance in practices ranging from mainstream theatre to site specific performance

Looking After Heritage Places Michael Pearson, Sharon Sullivan, 2013-04-01 Most people want to know about their past and to see and hear about the evidence of it They want to learn about past history and some places are particularly suited to achieving this Conservation of such places is important to national or local self identity Looking After Heritage Places is a comprehensive reference and sourcebook for anyone managing a heritage place an Aboriginal site historic building or any other place of cultural importance to the community The authors provide a step by step guide to identifying a heritage place assessing and documenting the site implementing conservation practices visitor management international and Australian legislation Looking After Heritage Places offers a wealth of information on preserving and conserving heritage places for administrators owners caretakers volunteers students and professionals Pearson and Sullivan survey key issues currently being debated in the field and in the wider community and discuss their implications for heritage management Vanished Nicole Morris,2023-06-07 They just vanished Disappeared Gone Lost No answers Still missing Imagine the pain confusion and emotional roller coaster that families experience when a loved one goes missing What would you do How would your family cope This is a heart wrenching collection of true stories told through the eyes of family members who have experienced the trauma of a missing loved one It follows their journeys from the desperate searches in the first days through the Police investigations and in many cases the heartbreak as the years roll by without any news These stories are just a glimpse into ten of the thousands of missing persons still out there waiting to be found From two young girls who might have been early victims of Ivan Milat and a woman who was last seen walking alongside a Victorial highway to a teenage boy likely murdered and fed to crocodiles in Kakadu and two Tasmanian men who disappeared under strange circumstances the cases are all different but the impact on the families devastating Nicole Morris is the founder of the Australian Missing Persons Register She has written this book to develop awareness of the plight of the courageous families of missing persons and raise public awareness to help find those people who seem to have vanished into thin air Singing the Coast Margaret Somerville,Tony Perkins,2010 In Singing the Coast Tony Perkins and Margaret Somerville invite us to share their decade long conversations By taking up the metaphor of singing to capture a quality of voice they show us how to share the land and its stories throughout Australia The Road To El-Aguzein M.V. Seton-Williams,2013-10-28 First published in 1988 This is a narrative account of the life of Australian archaeologist M V Sefton Williams and his life from 1910 and his travels via England Sinai Palestine Turkey Ireland Greece the United States the Second World War Egypt in the Middle East and El Aguzein
