Teaching American Ethnic Literatures Nineteen Essays:

Teaching American Ethnic Literatures John Rocco Maitino, David R. Peck, 1996 These critical essays written specifically for instructors in literature courses focus on longer works of prose in each of the four major ethnic literatures of the United States Native American Mexican American Asian American and African American Multiethnic American Literatures Helane Adams Androne, 2014-11-19 This book provides original essays that suggest ways to engage students in the classroom with the cultural factors of American literature Some of the essays focus on individual authors works others view American literature more broadly and still others focus on the application of culturally based methods for reading All suggest a closer look at how ethnicity culture and pedagogy interact in the classroom to help students better understand the complexity of works by African Americans Native Americans Asian Americans Latinos and several other sometimes overlooked American cultural groups Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here U.S. Latino Literature Margarite Fernández Olmos, Harold Augenbraum, 2000-09-30 In the past ten years literature by U S Latinos has gained an extraordinary public currency and has engendered a great deal of interest among educators Because of the increase in numbers of Latinos in their classrooms teachers have recognized the benefits of including works by such important writers as Sandra Cisneros Julia Alvarez and Rudolfo Anaya in the curriculum Without a guide introducing courses on U S Latino literature or integrating individual works into the general courses on American Literature can be difficult for the uninitiated While some critical sources for students and teachers are available none are dedicated exclusively to this important body of writing To fill the gap the editors of this volume commissioned prominent scholars in the field to write 18 essays that focus on using U S Latino literature in the classroom The selection of the subject texts was developed in conjunction with secondary school teachers who took part in the editors course This resultant volume focuses on major works that are appropriate for high school and undergraduate study including Judith Ortiz Cofer s The Latin Deli Piri Thomas Down These Mean Streets and Cisneros The House on Mango Street Each chapter in this Critical Guide provides pertinent biographical background on the author as well as contextual information that aids in understanding the literary and cultural significance of the work The most valuable component of the critical essays the Analysis of Themes and Forms helps the reader understand the thematic concerns raised by the work particularly the recurring issues of language expression and cultural identity assimilation and intergenerational conflicts Each essay is followed by specific suggestions for teaching the work with topics for classroom discussion Further enhancing the value of this work as a teaching tool are the selected bibliographies of criticism further reading and other related sources that complete each chapter Teachers will also find a Sample Course Outline of U S Latino Literature which serves as guide for developing a course on this important subject

Resources in Education ,1997 Black Power, Yellow Power, and the Making of Revolutionary Identities

Rychetta Watkins, 2012-01-03 Images of upraised fists afros and dashikis have long dominated the collective memory of Black

Power and its proponents The guerilla figure taking the form of the black leather clad revolutionary within the Black Panther Party has become an iconic trope in American popular culture That politically radical figure however has been shaped as much by Asian American cultural discourse as by African American political ideology From the Asian African Conference held in April of 1955 in Bandung Indonesia onward to the present Afro Asian political collaboration has been active and influential In Black Power Yellow Power and the Making of Revolutionary Identities author Rychetta Watkins uses the guerilla figure as a point of departure and shows how the trope s rhetoric animates discourses of representation and identity in African American and Asian American literature and culture In doing so she examines the notion of Power in terms of ethnic political identity and explores collaborating and sometimes competing ethnic interests that have drawn ideas from the concept The project brings together a range of texts editorial cartoons newspaper articles novels visual propaganda and essays that illustrate the emergence of this subjectivity in Asian American and African American cultural productions during the Power period roughly 1966 through 1981 After a case study of the cultural politics of academic anthologies and the cooperation between Frank Chin and Ishmael Reed the volume culminates with analyses of this trope in Sam Greenlee s The Spook Who Sat by the Door Alice Walker s Meridian and John Okada s No No Boy Amy Tan Bella Adams,2005-07-22 This is the most comprehensive study to date of Amy Tan s work offering close readings of her texts in the context of broader debates about the representation of identity history and reality In contrast with Tan s own American born narrator and mainstream critics Bella Adams looks beyond the stereotypes which appear in Tan s books and explores the ways in which Chinese immigrants and their American relatives struggle to understand each other s best qualities via the Chinese tradition of the talk story She emphasizes Tan s American narrators process of becoming Chinese and discovering real China and the significance of the ironic staging of these moments Reading Amy Tan Lan Dong,2009-06-08 This essential discussion of Amy Tan s life and works is a necessity for high school students and an enriching supplement for book club members A tour de force in Asian American writing Amy Tan has created works that are essential to high school and undergraduate literature classes and are often book club selections Reading Amy Tan is a handy resource that offers both groups plot summaries of five of Tan s novels as well as character and thematic analysis The handbook also provides an overview of Tan s life and discusses how she emerged onto the scene as a novelist Tan s typical themes including Asian American issues and mother daughter relationships are examined in relation to today s current events and pop culture Readers will also discover how and where they can find Tan on the Internet and how the media has received her works The What Do I Read Next chapter will help readers find other authors and works that deal with similar subjects This handbook is an indispensable tool for both high school and public libraries Aesthetics in a Multicultural Age Emory Elliott,Lou Freitas Caton,Jeffrey Rhyne,2002-01-10 Aesthetics in a Multicultural Age examines a variety of significant multidisciplinary and multicultural topics within the subject of aesthetics Addressing the vexed relation of the arts and criticism to current political and cultural concerns the contributors to this volume attempt to bridge the two decades old gap between scholars and critics who hold conflicting views of the purposes of art and criticism By exploring some of the ways in which global migration and expanding ethnic diversity are affecting cultural productions and prompting reassessment of the nature and role of aesthetic discourse this volume provides a new evaluation of aesthetic ideas and practices within contemporary arts and letters The American Short Story Handbook James Nagel,2015-03-02 This is a concise yet comprehensive treatment of the American short story that includes an historical overview of the topic as well as discussion of notable American authors and individual stories from Benjamin Franklin s The Speech of Miss Polly Baker in 1747 to The Joy Luck Club Includes a selection of writers chosen not only for their contributions of individual stories but for bodies of work that advanced the boundaries of short fiction including Washington Irving Sarah Orne Jewett Stephen Crane Jamaica Kincaid and Tim O Brien Addresses the ways in which American oral storytelling and other narrative traditions were integral to the formation and flourishing of the short story genre Written in accessible and engaging prose for students at all levels by a renowned literary scholar to illuminate an important genre that has received short shrift in scholarly literature of the last century Includes a glossary defining the most common terms used in literary history and in critical discussions of fiction and a bibliography of works for further study

Language, Gender, and Community in Late Twentieth-Century Fiction M. Hurst,2011-04-11 Drawing on critical frameworks this study establishes the centrality of language gender and community in the quest for identity in contemporary American fiction Close readings of novels by Alice Walker Ernest Gaines Ann Beattie John Updike Chang rae Lee and Rudolfo Anaya among others show how individuals find their American identities Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club Harold Bloom,2009 Presents critical essays that discuss the language characters plot and major themes of the author s novel about Chinese American families Teaching Culturally Sustaining and Inclusive Young Adult Literature R. published separately Although Hong Kingston's decision to separate the male and female narratives enabled readers to see the strength of the resulting feminist point of view in The Woman Warrior the author has steadily maintained that to understand the book fully it was necessary to read its male companion text Maureen Sabine's ambitious study of The Woman Warrior and China Men aims to bring these divided texts back together with a close reading that looks for the textual traces of the father in The Woman Warrior and shows how the daughter narrator tracks down his history in China Men She considers theories of intertextuality that open up the possibility of a dynamic interplay between the two books and suggests that the Hong family women and men may be struggling for dialogue with each other even when they appear textually silent or apart

The Trouble with Saul Madeline Ruth Walker, 2011-08-16 Examining autobiographical texts by Malcolm X The Autobiography of Malcolm X Oscar Zeta Acosta The Autobiography of a Brown Buffalo and Revolt of the Cockroach People Amiri Baraka The Autobiography of LeRoi Jones and Richard Rodriguez Hunger for Memory Days of Obligation and Brown Walker questions the often rosy views and simplistic binary conceptions of religious conversion Her reading of these texts takes into account the conflict and serial changes the authors experience in a society that marginalizes them the manner in which religious conversion offers ethnic Americans salvation through cultural assimilation or cultural nationalism and what conversion anticonversion and deconversion narratives tell us about the problematic effects of religion that often go unremarked because of a code of special respect and political correctness Walker asserts that critics have been too willing to praise religion in America as salutary or beyond the ken of criticism because religious belief is seen as belonging to an untouchable arena of cultural identity The Trouble with Saul goes beyond traditional literary criticism to pay close attention to the social phenomena that underlie religious conversion narratives and considers the potentially negative effects of religious conversion something that has been likewise neglected by scholars

Urban Triage James Kyung-Jin Lee, 2004 In the 1980s America witnessed an explosion in the production popularity and influence of literary works by people of color and a decade long economic downturn that severely affected America's inner cities and the already disadvantaged communities of color that lived there Marked by soaring levels of unemployment homelessness violence drug abuse and despair this urban crisis gave the lie to the American dream particularly when contrasted with the success enjoyed by the era's iconic stockbrokers and other privileged groups whose fortunes increased dramatically under Reaganomics In Urban Triage James Kyung Jin Lee explores how these parallel trends of literary celebration and social misery manifested themselves in fictional narratives of racial anxiety by focusing on four key works Alejandro Morales's The Brick People John Edgar Wideman's Philadelphia Fire Hisaye Yamamoto's A Fire in Fontana and Tom Wolfe's The Bonfire of the Vanities Each of these fictions he finds addresses the decade's racial ethnic and economic inequities from differing perspectives Morales's revisions of Chicano identity Yamamoto's troubled invocation of the affinities between African Americans and Asian Americans the problematic connections between black intellectuals and the black community aired by Wideman and Wolfe's satirization of white privilege Drawing on the fields of literary criticism public policy sociology and journalism Lee deftly assesses the success with which these multicultural fictions engaged in the debates over these issues and the extent to which they may actually have alienated the very communities that their creators purported to represent Challenging both the uncritical celebration of abstract multiculturalism and its simpleminded vilification Lee roots Urban Triage in specific instances of multiracial contact and deeply informed readings of works that have been canonized within ethnic studies and of those that either remain misunderstood or were misguided from the start James Kyung Jin Lee is assistant professor of English and Asian American studies at the University of Texas at Austin

Maxine Hong Kingston Helena Grice, 2013-07-19 Since the publication of The Woman Warrior in 1976 Maxine Hong Kingston has gained a reputation as one of the most popular and controversial writers in the Asian American literary tradition In this volume Grice traces Kingston's development as a writer and cultural activist through both ethnic and feminist discourses investigating her novels occasional writings and her two book life writing project The publication of The Woman Warrior not only propelled Kingston into the mainstream literary limelight but also precipitated a vicious and ongoing controversy in Asian American letters over the authenticity or fakery of her cultural references Grice traces the debates through the appearance of China Men 1981 as well as the novels Tripmaster Monkey 1989 and her most recent work The Fifth Book of Peace Maxine Hong Kingston will be of value to students and academics researching in the areas of diaspora writing contemporary American and Asian American fiction as well as feminist and postcolonial literature When We Arrive ,2003 Most readers and critics view Mexican American writing as a subset of American literature or at best as a stream running parallel to the main literary current Jos Aranda now reexamines American literary history from the perspective of Chicano a studies to show that Mexican Americans have had a key role in the literary output of the United States for one hundred fifty years In this bold new look at the American canon Aranda weaves the threads of Mexican American literature into the broader tapestry of Anglo American writing especially its Puritan origins by pointing out common ties that bind the two traditions narratives of persecution of immigration and of communal crises alongside chronicles of the promise of America Examining texts ranging from Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton s 1872 critique of the Civil War Who Would Have Thought It through the contemporary autobiographies of Richard Rodriguez and Cherr e Moraga he surveys Mexican American history politics and literature locating his analyses within the context of Chicano a cultural criticism of the last four decades When We Arrive integrates Early American Studies and Chicano a Studies into a comparative cultural framework by using the Puritan connection to shed new light on dominant images of Chicano a narrative such as Aztl n and the borderlands Aranda explores the influence of a nationalized Puritan ethos on nineteenth and twentieth century writers of Mexican descent particularly upon constructions of ethnic identity and aesthetic values He then frames the rise of contemporary Chicano a literature within a critical body of work produced from the 1930s through the 1950s one that combines a Puritan myth of origins with a literary history in which American literature is heralded as the product and producer of social and political dissent Aranda s work is a virtual sourcebook of historical figures texts and ideas that revitalizes both Chicano a studies and American literary history By showing how a comparative study of two genres can produce a more integrated literary history for the United States When We Arrive enables critics and readers alike to see Mexican American literature as part of a broader tradition and establishes for its writers a more deserving place in the American literary imagination Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. P. Werlock,2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition no other reference work on American fiction brings together such an array of authors and texts as this
