Narrative and Technology Ethics Wessel Reijers, Mark Coeckelbergh, 2020-12-07 This book proposes that technologies similar to texts novels and movies tell stories and thereby configure our lifeworld in the Digital Age The impact of technologies on our lived experience is ever increasing innovations in robotics challenge the nature of work emerging biotechnologies impact our sense of self and blockchain based smart contracts profoundly transform interpersonal relations In their exploration of the significance of these technologies Reijers and Coeckelbergh build on the philosophical hermeneutics of Paul Ricoeur to construct a new narrative approach to the philosophy and ethics of technology The authors take the reader on a journey from a discussion of the philosophy of praxis via a hermeneutic notion of technical practice that draws on MacIntyre Heidegger and Ricoeur through the virtue ethics of Vallor and Ricoeur's ethical aim to the eventual construction of a practice method which can guide ethics in research and innovation. In its creation of a compelling hermeneutic ethics of technology the book offers a concrete framework for practitioners to incorporate ethics in everyday technical practice. Administrative Ethics and Executive Decisions Chad B. Newswander, 2017-10-02 As first responders to public problems administrators must survey situations identify solutions and occasionally make executive decisions that are binding upon the government as a whole. The ability for administrators to assert claims that orient the government in a particular direction is not only powerful but it can also be problematic and even dangerous. For administrators the tension between moving in a spirited way and remaining sensible is a problem of how to exercise one's discretion especially in the U.S. context which demands that both be considered and actualized. In dealing with these competing expectations Chad B. Newswander analyzes how administrators can incorporate executive legislative and judicial tendencies to help them handle the problem of discretion. Expanding the thinking of the constitutional school of public administration thought Administrative Ethics and Executive Decisions is a theoretically grounded and empirically rich study of how administrators incorporate a constitutional ethos to handle the problem of discretion. The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020 Over the last 20 years the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders. These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers. The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza. Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and/or ground forces and with what results. This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood. Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence. Life in the Age of Drone Warfare Lisa Parks, Caren Kaplan, 2017-10-19 This volume's contributors offer a new critical language through which to explore and assess the historical juridical geopolitical and cultural dimensions of drone technology and warfare. They show how drones generate particular ways of visualizing the spaces and targets of war while acting as tools to exercise state power. Essays include discussions of the legal justifications of extrajudicial killings and how US drone strikes in the Horn of Africa impact life on the ground as well as a personal narrative of a former drone operator. The contributors also explore drone warfare in relation to sovereignty governance and social difference provide accounts of the relationships between drone technologies and modes of perception and mediation and theorize drones relation to biopolitics robotics automation and art Interdisciplinary and timely Life in the Age of Drone Warfare extends the critical study of drones while expanding the public discussion of one of our era s most ubiquitous instruments of war Contributors Peter Asaro Brandon Wayne Bryant Katherine Chandler Jordan Crandall Ricardo Dominguez Derek Gregory Inderpal Grewal Lisa Hajjar Caren Kaplan Andrea Miller Anjali Nath Jeremy Packer Lisa Parks Joshua Reeves Thomas Stubblefield Madiha Tahir
