The Adventures and Speculations of the Ingenious Peter Perez Burdett Stephen Leach, 2022-12-22 Peter Perez Burdett 1733-1793 was the first person to practise aquatint engraving in Britain He was also an ambitious map maker publishing a prize winning map of Derbyshire and inspiring the creation of a series of inter connected county maps from Lancashire to Warwickshire Furthermore after his emigration to Germany he oversaw the mapping of Baden He is perhaps best known as the friend and artistic advisor of Joseph Wright of Derby It is usually assumed that his influence upon Wright ceased after his emigration to Germany in 1774 This book presents evidence that suggests that this may not have been the case In the course of his adventurous life Burdett crossed paths with many of the luminaries of the Enlightenment including Erasmus Darwin Matthew Boulton Benjamin Franklin Jean Jacques Rousseau Voltaire and the Holy Roman Emperor to name but a few This book is his first biography By the same author Joseph Wright and the Final Farewell Vikings of the Pacific The Adventures of the Explorers who Came from the West, Eastward Agnes Christina Laut, 2006-01-01 Peter the Great sends Bering on Two

The Life and Adventures of Ben Hogan, Benedict Hogan,2013-11-27 Benedict Hagan whose name has become familiar in the altered form of Hogan is a native of W rtemberg Germany With his parents he immigrated to this country at the age of eleven years His father was a cabinet maker by trade who had saved up something like a thousand dollars with which he set forth to better his condition in the New World Along with his family he arrived in New York in the summer of 1852 His reception was not of the most encouraging nature and an incident which occurred almost immediately after the landing of the family will serve to show the character of Hogan at that time As was customary with all emigrants who had any money to carry the elder Hogan had secured his fortune amounting to eight hundred dollars in gold in a belt fastened about his shoulders When he walked out of Castle Garden he was forthwith set upon by a Hebrew of the South street order whose nose resembled his nature because it was sharp This enterprising Jew who spoke German fluently induced the emigrant to go into a small shop where everything was given away for four times its value The unsuspecting Hogan made a small purchase and when he came to pay for it disclosed the bag containing his gold The sight was enough to rouse the Hebrew Precisely how it happened he did not know but in an amazingly short time Hogan senior found himself relieved of his eight hundred dollars Had it not been for the presence of young Ben it may be safely assumed that the emigrant would never have gone forth from the Jew s place alive The boy however presented an obstacle to the commission of murder which was undoubtedly intended by the robbers They determined therefore to get rid of their victims by strategy instead of force One of their cappers offered to lead the way to the police station where they might get assistance in recovering the money He did lead the way but it is unnecessary to add that there were not a great many police stations in the neighborhood to which he conducted them The Hebrew perhaps thought that he had made one of the fattest hauls in his life but it turned out to be a very dear job
