Bibliography of the History of Medicine, Biomedical Odysseys Priscilla Song, 2017-05-16 Thousands of people from more than eighty countries have traveled to China since 2001 to undergo fetal cell transplantation Galvanized by the potential of stem and fetal cells to regenerate damaged neurons and restore lost bodily functions people grappling with paralysis and neurodegenerative disorders have ignored the warnings of doctors and scientists back home in order to stake their futures on a Chinese experiment Biomedical Odysseys looks at why and how these individuals have entrusted their lives to Chinese neurosurgeons operating on the forefront of experimental medicine in a world where technologies and risks move faster than laws can keep pace Priscilla Song shows how cutting edge medicine is not just about the latest advances in biomedical science but also encompasses transformations in online patient activism surgical intervention and borderline experiments in health care bureaucracy Bringing together a decade of ethnographic research in hospital wards laboratories and online patient discussion forums Song opens up important theoretical and methodological horizons in the anthropology of science technology and medicine She illuminates how poignant journeys in search of fetal cell cures become tangled in complex webs of digital mediation the entrepreneurial logics of postsocialist medicine and fraught debates about the ethics of clinical experimentation Using innovative methods to track the border crossing quests of Chinese clinicians and their patients from around the world Biomedical Odysseys is the first book to map the transnational life of fetal cell therapies

Dangerous Secrets United States. Congressional-Executive Commission on China, 2003 Childbirth in Republican China Tina Johnson, 2011-09-16 Childbirth in Republican China Delivering Modernity 1911-1949 is the study of a pivotal period in which traditional midwifery marked by private unregulated old style midwives was transformed into modern midwifery through the adoption of a highly medicalized and state sponsored birth model that is standard in urban China today In the twentieth century biomedical technologies altered the process of childbirth on virtually every level What had been a matter of private interest focusing on the family and lineage became a national priority a symbol of the new citizen who would participate in the creation of a revitalized nation This transformation of reproduction coalesces with the broader story of China s twentieth century revolutions marked by an emphasis on science and modernity The roles of the state and of western medical personnel were paramount in affecting these changes but equally important are the intense social and cultural shifts that occurred simultaneously The dominant themes of reproduction in twentieth century China are characterized by expanding state involvement shifting gender roles escalating consumption patterns accompanying the commercialization of private lives and the increasing medicalization of the birth process

Picturing China in the American Press David D. Perlmutter,2007-03-29 Picturing China in the American Press juxtaposes what the ordinary American news reader was shown visually in Time Magazine between 1949 and 1973 with contemporary perspectives on the behind the scenes history of the period Time Magazine is an especially fruitful source for such a visual historical contrast and comparison because it was China centric founded and run by Henry Luce a man who loved China and was commensurably obsessed with winning China to democracy and Western influence Picturing China examines in detail major events the Korean War and Nixon s trip to China less considerable occurrences shellings of Straits islands and diplomatic flaps great personages Chairman Mao and Henry Kissinger and the common people and common life of China as seen through the lenses and described by the pens of American reporters artists photographers and editors Picturing China in the American Press is of great interest to both scholars of communications Chinese history China Studies and journalists
