Teaching And Assessing In Nurse Practice An Experiential Approach:

Teaching and Assessing in Nursing Practice Peter J. Nicklin, Neil Kenworthy, 2000 This book provides an easy to read guide to the requirements of teaching in practice courses It provides a balance of educational theory with practice and uses an experiential approach which recognises the stages through which learners progress and encourages them to reflect on and apply the principles to their own experiences Teaching and assessing in nursing practice Neil Kenworthy, 1991

Essential Communication Skills for Nursing and Midwifery Philippa Sully, Joan Dallas, 2010-05-19 Effective communication skills are crucial in all aspects of nursing and midwifery practice this book will enable readers to communicate effectively and with confidence in their professional practice It focuses on the communication skills needed for the development of effective professional and therapeutic relationships It is a how to do it book that relates the theory of effective and ethical communication to the practice of nursing and midwifery and provides a framework for developing communication skills to meet a variety of situations Approx 256 pages All the chapters have been revised in line with up to date literature professional practice guidelines and research Teaching and Assessing in Nursing Practice Neil Kenworthy, Peter J. Nicklin, 1988 Teaching, Assessing and Evaluation for Clinical Competence Mary Neary, 2000 This is a highly practical introduction to teaching assessing and evaluating students for all health care practitioners It encourages the reader to take a self directed approach to their own development as assessors Mary Neary has produced an ideal text for for health professionals preparing to take on the role of mentor supervisor or assessor OVERALL THIS IS A WELL WRITTEN AND CONCEIVED BOOK PACKED WITH KNOWLEDGE AND IDEAS Nursing Standard Using Patient Experience in Nurse Education Tony Warne, Sue McAndrew, 2004-11-04 Current health policy places an emphasis on the greater involvement of health service users and carers in all aspects of their care including planning provision and evaluation However the focus is usually on after the event accounts i e when individuals have become consumers of health care services There is little patient involvement in before the event experiences such as planning to meet health care needs or in the training of health care practitioners This book fills that gap and meets a growing demand for educational approaches that address the perspectives of patients and carers Pediatric Home Care for Nurses Wendy Votroubek, 2010-09-15 Pediatric Home Care is a practice based text perfect for either students or for supporting pediatric nurses practicing in a home care setting The text includes a variety of nursing information required for this type of care across a large spectrum of physiologic categories and acuity levels The Third Edition has been completely revised and updated to reflect the most current practice and technology and includes a new focus on evidence based practice Mentoring and Supervision in Healthcare Neil Gopee, 2011-04-30 This practical and accessible book examines the knowledge base skills and attitudes required for mentoring in the context of healthcare Revised and updated to take account of the latest developments in healthcare the text explores theories and research on mentoring by analysing their strengths and weaknesses To complement his analytical style

Neil Gopee has introduced more interactive features to emphasise the application of theories and principles to various clinical settings. He also draws on the most recent standards and competencies for mentors and supervisors and examines how they can be applied in day to day mentoring and clinical practice activities. Key features include Comprehensive content examines learning styles different learning environments evidence based care principles of assessment the mentor's leadership evaluation of teaching Practice oriented case studies offer links to real life and the chapters provide effective frameworks for mentoring in practice Interactive activities and think points encourage the reader to explore and apply concepts to their practice and roles Up to date firmly based on current knowledge in the field Mentoring and Supervision in Healthcare is a core text for mentor preparation courses in nursing midwifery and across the healthcare sector It supports learning and ongoing professional development for all healthcare professionals

Concepts in community care for people with a learning difficulty Patricia Brigden, Margaret Todd, 1993-11-11 This book provides all those concerned with the delivery of care and services to people with a learning difficulty with an up to date overview of recent development in the area Three major themes are explored empowering individuals change management and working with clients Within this framework the authors examine the historical context of current service delivery and the influences from Europe and America on care practice Practical guidelines are incorporated for staff who might wish to implement some of the ideas within the chapters

Mentorship in Community Nursing Judith Canham, Joanne Bennett, 2008-04-15 The importance of the community practice teacher is increasing with the expansion in primary care Universities around the country have developed courses for practice educators to provide definitive training for that role there are currently few texts that support these courses directly This book aims to redress this by covering eight specialist areas of community practice district nursing health visiting school nursing children's community health nursing community nursing mental health community nursing learning disability general practice nursing and occupational health nursing The emphasis is strongly on practical issues rather than theory and each section considers practice based dilemmas and offers appropriate debate
