Teaching In Context:

Contextual Teaching and Learning Susan Jones Sears, 2002 Contextual Teaching and Learning Elaine B. Johnson, 2002 Contextual teaching and learning CTL is a system for teaching that is grounded in brain research Brain research indicates that we learn best when we see meaning in new tasks and material and we discover meaning when we are able to connect new information with our existing knowledge and experiences Students learn best according to neuroscience when they can connect the content of academic lessons with the context of their own daily lives Johnson discusses the elements of the brain compatible contextual teaching and learning system making meaningful connections investing school work with significance self regulated learning collaboration critical and creating thinking nurturing the individual reaching high standards and using authentic assessment Drawing on the practices of teachers in kindergarten through university Johnson provides numerous examples of how to use each part of the CTL system Rousing Minds to Life Roland G. Tharp, Ronald Gallimore, 1991-03-29 Addressing widespread discontent with contemporary schooling Roland Tharp and Ronald Gallimore develop a unified theory of education and offer a prescription the reconstitution of schools as educating societies Drawing on studies from the family nursery through the university seminar and on their own successful experiences with thousands of students over two decades their theory is firmly based in a culture sensitive developmental psychology but seeks to integrate all the recent work in the Vygotskian tradition with basic concepts in cognitive science anthropology and sociolinguistics One of the authors primary resources is the Kamehameha Elementary Education Program KEEP generally regarded as the world s outstanding research and development program for elementary schooling Context and Culture in Language Teaching Claire Kramsch, 1993-06-17 This book takes cultural knowledge in language learning not only as a necessary aspect of communicative competence but as an educational objective in its own right If the aim of foreign language education is to foster cross cultural awareness and self realization language pedagogy needs to come to grips with a range of fundamental issues what do we mean by cultural context Can discourse practices be taught like rules of grammar What role does literature play in the development of second language literacy How can learners acquire both an insider s and an outsider s understanding of the foreign culture as expressed through its language By exploring these and other issues the book can help language teachers reflect on their profession and place it within its larger societal and educational context In turn they can help learners become not only skilful users of the language but also active architects of a new cross cultural world order Rethinking Contexts for Learning and Teaching Richard Edwards, Gert Biesta, Mary Thorpe, 2009-02-06 Drawing upon a variety of academic disciplines this book explores some of the different means of understanding teaching and learning both in and across contexts the issues they raise and their implications for pedagogy and research Teaching and Learning Culture Mads Jakob Kirkebaek, Xiang-Yun Du, Annie Aarup Jensen, 2013-10 This book is based on educational research conducted by researchers from the Department of Learning and Philosophy and the Confucius Institute for

Innovation and Learning at Aalborg University Empirically it reports on different approaches to teaching and learning of culture including a student centered task based problem based learning PBL approach a digital technology supported approach and more It also reports on how when teaching and learning culture teachers professional identity and the informal teaching and learning environment impact the teaching and learning of culture in different educational settings from primary school to university A central theme in the book is the power of context The studies illustrate in multiple ways and from different angles that culture is not taught in a vacuum or learned in isolation but may be influenced by many factors both inside and outside the classroom at the same time culture also influences the context of the learning The context may be invisible and hide itself as tacit knowledge or embedded values or it may be very visible and present itself as a fixed curriculum or an established tradition No matter what forms and shapes the context takes the studies in this book strongly indicate that it is essential to be aware of the power of context in teaching and learning culture in order to understand it and negotiate it This book suggests that teachers should not try to limit or avoid contextual influences but instead should explore how the context may be integrated into and used constructively in the teaching and learning of culture This allowance of context in the classroom will allow for teachers students subjects and contexts to enter into a dialogue and negotiation of meaning that will enrich each other and achieve the established goal acquisition of cultural awareness and intercultural understanding
