Teaching Islam Aar Teaching Religious Studies Series:

Teaching Islam Brannon M. Wheeler, 2002-12-19 Despite the importance of Islam in global affairs and the role of Islamic Studies in Religious Studies little attention has been given to the basic questions of how Islam should be taught This volume brings together a number of leading scholars of Islamic Studies with rich experience in teaching Islam in a diversity of undergraduate settings from large public universities to small private colleges Topics addressed include Islamic law the Quran Sufism women in Islam Islam in America and teaching about Islam through Arabic literature and the use of new information technology Along with providing practical information about structuring courses and assignments the contributors examine the place of Islamic Studies in the larger theoretical framework of Religious Studies and liberal arts curricula Teaching Undergraduate Research in Religious Studies Bernadette McNary-Zak, Rebecca Todd

Peters, 2011-09-14 This text offers an introduction to the philosophy and practice of undergraduate research in religious studies and takes up several significant ongoing questions related to it Teaching New Religious Movements David G. Bromley, 2007-05-25 Since its inception around 1970 the study of New Religious Movements NRMs has evolved into an established multidisciplinary field At the same time both the movements and the scholars who study them have been the subjects of intense controversy In this volume a group of senior NRM scholars who have been instrumental in the development of the field will offer pivotal essays that present the basics of NRM scholarship along with guidance for teachers on classroom use The book is organized topically around subjects that are both central to the study of NRMs and likely to be useful to non specialists Part I contains examinations of the definitional boundaries of the area of study varying disciplinary perspectives on NRMs unique methodological ethical problems encountered in the study of NRMs and the controversies that have confronted scholars studying NRMs and the movements themselves Part II examines a series of topics central to teaching about NRMs the larger sociocultural significance of the movements their distinctive symbolic and organizational features the interrelated processes of joining and leaving NRMs the organization of gender roles in NRMs media and popular culture portrayals of the movements the occurrence of corruption and abuse within movements and violence by and against NRMs Part III provides informational resources for teaching about NRMs which are particularly important in a field where knowing the biases of sources is crucial With its interdisciplinary approach the volume provides comprehensive accessible information and perspectives on NRMs It is an invaluable guide for instructors navigating this scholarly minefield

Teaching the I Ching (Book of Changes) Geoffrey P. Redmond, Tze-Ki Hon, 2014 Teaching the I Ching Book of Changes is a comprehensive and authoritative source for understanding the 3 000 year old Book of Changes arguably the most influential Chinese classical text It provides up to date coverage of key aspects including bronze age origins references to women excavated manuscripts the canonical commentaries cosmology and the Yijing in modern China and the West Teaching Islam Brannon M. Wheeler, 2003 The critical role of Islam in global affairs makes it an increasingly valuable part of the undergraduate curriculum Despite this very little consideration has been given to methods of teaching Islam This book brings together leading scholars to offer perspectives on teaching Islam to undergraduates Teaching Islamic Studies in the Age of ISIS, Islamophobia, and the Internet Kimberly Hall, Doaa Baumi, Manuela Ceballos, Benjamin Geer, Mouez Khalfaoui, Alfons H. Teipen, William Maynard Hutchins, Laila Hussein Moustafa, Nathan S. French, Todd Green, Sabahat F. Adil, Kecia Ali, Phil Dorroll, Lyndall Herman, Shehnaz Haqqani, 2019-01-24 A much needed volume and a must read for educators addressing a challenging topic in a challenging time Choice How can teachers introduce the subject of Islam when daily headlines and social media disinformation can prejudice students perception of the subject Should Islam be taught differently in secular universities than in colleges with a clear faith based mission What are strategies for discussing Islam and violence without perpetuating stereotypes The contributors of Teaching Islamic Studies in the Age of ISIS Islamophobia and the Internet address these challenges head on and consider approaches to Islamic studies pedagogy Islamophobia and violence and suggestions for how to structure courses These approaches acknowledge the particular challenges faced when teaching a topic that students might initially fear or distrust Speaking from their own experience they include examples of collaborative teaching models reading and media suggestions and ideas for group assignments that encourage deeper engagement and broader thinking The contributors also share personal struggles when confronted with students including Muslim students and parents who suspected the courses might have ulterior motives In an age of stereotypes and misrepresentations of Islam this book offers a range of means by which teachers can encourage students to thoughtfully engage with the topic of Islam Abundant and useful references Highly recommended Choice Teaching Confucianism Jeffrey L. Richey, 2008 Even the most casual observer of Chinese society is aware of the tremendous significance of Confucianism as a linchpin of both ancient and modern Chinese identity Furthermore the Confucian tradition has exercised enormous influence over the values and institutions of the other cultures of East Asia an influence that continues to be important in the global Asian diaspora If forecasters are correct in labeling the 21st century the Chinese century teachers and scholars of religious studies and theology will be called upon to illuminate the history character and role of Confucianism as a religious tradition in Chinese and Chinese influenced societies The essays in this volume will address the specifically pedagogical challenges of introducing Confucian material to non East Asian scholars and students Informed by the latest scholarship as well as practical experience in the religious studies and theology classroom the essays are attentive to the various settings within which religious material is taught and sensitive to the needs of both experts in Confucian studies and those with no background in Asian studies who are charged with teaching these traditions The authors represent all the arenas of Confucian studies from the ancient to the modern Courses involving Confucius and Confucianism have proliferated across the disciplinary map of the modern university This volume will be an invaluable resource for instructors not only in religious studies departments and theological schools but also teachers of world philosophy non Western philosophy Asian studies and world history Teaching Religion and Film Gregory J Watkins,2008-08-22 In a culture increasingly focused on visual media students have learned not only to embrace multimedia presentations in the classroom but to expect them Such expectations are perhaps more prevalent in a field as dynamic and cross disciplinary as religious studies but the practice nevertheless poses some difficult educational issues the use of movies in academic coursework has far outpaced the scholarship on teaching religion and film What does it mean to utilize film in religious studies and what are the best ways to do it In Teaching Religion and Film an interdisciplinary team of scholars thinks about the theoretical and pedagogical concerns involved with the intersection of film and religion in the classroom They examine the use of film to teach specific religious traditions religious theories and perspectives on fundamental human values Some instructors already teach some version of a film and religion course and many have integrated film as an ancillary to achieving central course goals This collection of essays helps them understand the field better and draws the sharp distinction between merely watching movies in the classroom and comprehending film in an informed and critical way Teaching Interreligious Encounters Marc A. Pugliese,Alexander Y. Hwang,2017-08-01 In Teaching Interreligious Encounters Marc A Pugliese and Alexander Y Hwang have gathered together a multidisciplinary and international group of scholar teachers to explore the pedagogical issues that occur at the intersection of different religious traditions This volume is a theoretical and practical guide for new teachers as well as seasoned scholars It breaks the pedagogy of interreligious encounters down into five distinct components In the first part essays explore the theory of teaching these encounters in the second essays discuss course design The parts that follow engage practical ideas for teaching textual analysis practice and real world application Despite their disciplinary contextual and methodological diversity these essays share a common vision for the learning goals and outcomes of teaching interreligious encounters This is a much needed resource for any teacher participating in these conversations in our age of globalization and migration with its attendant hopes and fears Teaching Freud Diane Jonte-Pace Professor of Religious Studies and Associate Vice Provost for Faculty Development Santa Clara University,2003-03-04 As one of the first theorists to explore the unconscious fantasies fears and desires underlying religious ideas and practices Freud can be considered one of the grandparents of the field of Religious Studies Yet his legacy is deeply contested How can Freud be taught in a climate of critique and controversy The fourteen contributors to this volume all recognized scholars of religion and psychoanalysis describe how they address Freud's contested legacy they teach the debates They go on to describe their courses on Freud and religion their innovative pedagogical practices and the creative ways they work with resistance
