Teaching Local History:

Teaching Local History W. B. Stephens, 1977 Homespun Robert L. Stevens, 2001 Using several social studies and geography standards as a framework for planning this book offers teachers some of the best instructional activities for learning more about the lifeblood of communities Using Local History in the Classroom Fay D. Metcalf, Matthew T. Downey, 1982 Teaching Local History Fay D. Metcalf, Matthew T. Downey, 1977-01-01 The Teaching of Local History in American Schools Lenore Evelyn Rimer, 1949 Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places Lynne Dixon, Alison Hales, 2013-12-04 A much needed and delightful book It shows how history can be taught with the meaningful experiences of each child at its centre making connections between the child the locality and community the national and global past and concepts of time Throughout the authors empower teachers to adopt their philosophy by showing them how to plan select resources and strategies and reflect on ideas and case studies Hilary Cooper Emeritus professor of history and pedagogy The University of Cumbria UK Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places puts the local environment and community at the heart of history showing how it can be used as the context for successful history teaching across the primary age range It considers how to develop children s concepts and skills through local history how to link local national and global aspects of history and helps you develop your own historical knowledge understanding and confidence in teaching the subject Practical topics explored include Investigating children s cultural and geographical roots through fieldwork Finding and visiting local museums archives and heritage sights Choosing and using resources Using significant people events and buildings to link with national history Environmental education and sustainable development through local history Understanding the links between history and everyday life Planning and assessing history Based on the latest research and practice in the field Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places offers an exciting template of creative ideas and activities to show teachers how they can make history relevant to all children Every Place Has a Story Kathryn Shurden, 2014-05-01 Every Place Has a Story A Guide for Teaching Local History in Oklahoma is process driven differentiated curriculum for the study of language arts and social studies in high school This curriculum is not arranged chronologically or geographically but it promotes learning through the types of activities or learning processes that are detailed for the teacher and student This design promotes the horizontal integration of material into other courses or it can be taught as a separate Local History course Inquiry based activities are offered to challenge students Sometimes students will work independently sometimes collaboratively Creativity is encouraged throughout and the integration of subjects is truly seamless Students are asked to think to apply to analyze to evaluate and to create Activities are carefully planned to engage all types of learners and to reach the highest level of learning that is relevant to the activity We lead students to extraordinary resources that are just waiting to be used This curriculum will help you discover online resources and websites are virtual treasure chests waiting to be opened and used for the teaching and learning of Local History Students and teachers are challenged to engage technology without forsaking traditional books and paper resources Learning is assessed in multiple ways Twelve activity units use formative assessments and the final activity the Portfolio is a summative assessment for the course Learning is assessed with writing speaking and creative skills not memorizing test answers Students will complete tasks in narrative evaluative informative and creative writing and speaking This variety of assessment strategies builds students skills in research technology listening speaking writing language and creativity The result is that Local History is a catalyst for curiosity Students identify with the people in the historic events of their own communities and this curriculum challenges them to explore further Students of Local History want to learn more about the buildings landmarks events and people of their hometowns as they recognize the intrinsic value of their communities This is learning that builds pride in the community and individual self esteem

Teaching for Global Community

César Augusto Rossatto, 2011-06-01 Education has long been viewed as a vehicle for building community However the critical role of education and schools for constructing community resistance is undermined by recent trends toward the centralization of educational policy making e g racial profiling new laws in the US Arizona and Texas No Child Left Behind and global racism the normalization of globalization as a vehicle for the advancement of economic neo liberalism and social hegemony and the commodification of schooling in the service of corporate capitalism Alternative visions of schooling are urgently needed to transform these dangerous trends so as to reconstruct public education as an emancipatory social project Teaching for Global Community Overcoming the Divide and Conquer Strategies of the Oppressor examines these issues among related others as a way to honor and re examine Freirean principles and aim to take critical pedagogy in new directions for a new generation The goal is to build upon past accomplishments of Paulo Freire s work and critical pedagogy while moving beyond its historical limitations This includes efforts that revisit and re evaluate established topics in the field or take on new areas of contestation Issues related to education labor and emancipation broadly defined and from diverse geographical context are addressed The theoretical perspectives used to look at these emerge from critical pedagogy critical race theory critiques of globalization and neoliberalism marxist and neo marxist perspectives social constructivism comparative international education postmodernism indigenous perspectives feminist theory queer theory poststructuralism critical environmental studies postcolonial studies liberation theology with a deep commitment to social justice

Teaching Local History Introduction

In this digital age, the convenience of accessing information at our fingertips has become a necessity. Whether its research papers, eBooks, or user manuals, PDF files have become the preferred format for sharing and reading documents. However, the cost associated with purchasing PDF files can sometimes be a barrier for many individuals and organizations. Thankfully, there are numerous websites and platforms that allow users to download free PDF files legally. In this article, we will explore some of the best platforms to download free PDFs. One of the most popular platforms to download free PDF files is Project Gutenberg. This online library offers over 60,000 free eBooks that are in the public domain. From classic literature to historical documents, Project Gutenberg provides a wide range of PDF files that can be downloaded and enjoyed on various devices. The website is user-friendly and allows users to search for specific titles or browse through different categories. Another reliable platform for downloading Teaching Local History free PDF files is Open Library. With its vast collection of over 1 million eBooks, Open Library has something for every reader. The website offers a seamless experience by providing options to borrow or download PDF files. Users simply need to create a free account to access this treasure trove of knowledge. Open Library also allows users to contribute by uploading and sharing their own PDF files, making it a collaborative platform for book enthusiasts. For those interested in academic resources, there are websites dedicated to providing free PDFs of research papers and scientific articles. One such website is Academia.edu, which allows researchers and scholars to share their work with a global audience. Users can download PDF files of research papers, theses, and dissertations covering a wide range of subjects. Academia.edu also provides a platform for discussions and networking within the academic community. When it comes to downloading Teaching Local History free PDF files of magazines, brochures, and catalogs, Issuu is a popular choice. This digital publishing platform hosts a vast collection of publications from around the world. Users can search for specific titles or explore various categories and genres. Issuu offers a seamless reading experience with its user-friendly interface and allows users to download PDF files for offline reading. Apart from dedicated platforms, search engines also play a crucial role in finding free PDF files. Google, for instance, has an advanced search feature that allows users to filter results by file type. By specifying the file type as "PDF," users can find websites that offer free PDF downloads on a specific topic. While downloading Teaching Local History free PDF files is convenient, its important to note that copyright laws must be respected. Always ensure that the PDF files you download are legally available for free. Many authors and publishers voluntarily provide free PDF versions of their work, but it's essential to be cautious and verify the authenticity of the source before downloading Teaching Local History. In conclusion, the internet offers numerous platforms and websites that allow users to download free PDF files legally. Whether it's classic literature, research papers, or magazines, there is something for everyone. The platforms mentioned in this article, such as Project Gutenberg, Open Library, Academia.edu, and Issuu, provide access to a vast collection of PDF files. However, users should always be cautious and verify the legality of the source before downloading Teaching Local History any PDF files. With these platforms, the world of PDF downloads is just a click away.
