Teaching Visually Impaired Children:

Teaching Visually Impaired Children Virginia E. Bishop, 2004 A glossary of terms completes the book BOOK JACKET

Reach Out and Teach Kay Alicyn Ferrell, 2011 Packed with important information for today's parents and professionals this new edition of a groundbreaking work presents the latest research on how visually impaired children learn and develop at different ages and in the various developmental domains sensory development communication movement manipulation and comprehension Clear practical and reassuring and full of suggested activities this book provides a guide to teaching young visually impaired children the important life skills they need to know skills that other children may learn simply by observation and imitation and preparing them to enter school ready to learn with their peers From early intervention services to the full range of educational placements Reach Out and Teach is the ultimate guide to helping a visually impaired child learn and grow

Teaching Social Skills to Students with Visual Impairments Sharon Sacks, Karen E. Wolffe, 2006 This book expands upon the knowledge base and provides a compendium of intervention strategies to support and enhance the acquisition of social skills and children and youths with visual impairments Part 1 addresses social skills from a first person perspective The second part examines how theory seeks to explain social development and influences assessment and practice Part 3 ties personal perspectives and theory to actual practice Finally Part 4 offers numerous examples and models for teaching social skills to students who are blind or visually impaired including those with additional disabling conditions

Introduction Teaching Visually Impaired Children, 2014-05-14 In this exceptional new third edition the author has retained much of the practical OCO how to OCO approach of the previous editions but adds depth in two dimensions learning theory and the educational process This book is OCO so comprehensive in scope and complete in detail that it would be the most likely one I could recommend OCO from the foreword by Dr Natalie C Barraga There is a new chapter on the prenatal and early postnatal development of the visual system and another entire chapter on gifted children who are also visually impaired OCO information not usually available in other textbooks One of the most outstanding new sections is a discussion of brain function and its relationships to early development learning and visual function The reader will find practical hints philosophical rationale explained in simple terms and clear descriptions of the assessment process for students with visual impairments The relationships between assessments placements and programming are described in detail and provide rationale for best educational practice for visually impaired learners University faculty special teachers TVIOCOs regular classroom teachers and families will all find something useful in this new edition It continues to be a valuable reference for anyone dedicated to helping students with visual impairments achieve independence and realize their full potential The appendices contain a set of listening games touch typing lessons a list of indicators for evaluating gifted programs lists of assessment instruments and resources and an updated timeline of major events in the history of education for visually impaired students A glossary of terms completes the book This book will not sit on your bookshelf OCO it will be read and used

When You Have a Visually Impaired Student with Multiple Disabilities in Your Classroom Jane N. Erin, Susan Jay Spungin, 2004

When You Have a Visually Impaired Student with Multiple Disabilities in Your Classroom A Guide for Teachers Skills for Success Karen E. Wolffe, 1999 This innovative handbook offers special education teachers career counselors and parents a comprehensive range of tested techniques and strategies to help youngsters who are blind or visually impaired begin to build the skills they need for successful careers It introduces specific activities for preparing visually impaired children from preschoolers through middle school for the next level of schooling and to become independent in daily life confident about their career choices and skillful on their future jobs

Teaching Students with Visual and Multiple Impairments Millie Smith, Nancy Levack, 1996-01-01

The Development of Social Skills by Blind and Visually Impaired Students Sharon Sacks, Linda Kekelis, Robert Gaylord-Ross, 1992 In this examination of the social interactions of children with visual impairments theory and research are combined to explore how these children can be helped to succeed socially Innovative practical strategies are provided for educators researchers and families on how to assist children in the development of social skills Qualitative ethnographic approaches demonstrate how classroom teachers can work effectively with individual children and present valuable insights about children s interactions

Itinerant Teaching Jean E. Olmstead, 2005 Using the practical advice from itinerant teachers within the US each chapter develops strategies for working with students with visual impairments It discusses the rights expectations and demands of itinerant teaching as well as the provision of services within a variety of environments

Teaching Children with Visual Impairments Anthony Bernard Best, 1992 This is a practical handbook about how to involve parents in schools It faces both the problems and the opportunities The author traces the background to parental involvement since the 1960s discusses the current balance of power and explores ways of making schools organizations which work for rather than against parent teacher partnerships She argues that a whole school approach is important but that it will not work unless the interaction between individual teachers and parents is successful She examines ways of improving communication between parents and teachers particularly teachers listening skills and how to manage in school meetings with parents to visit parents at home and how to facilitate the running of parents groups
