Teachings Of Zarathustra:

The Teachings of Zoroaster S. A. Kapadia, 2020-09-28 I WILL now tell you who are assembled here the wise sayings of Mazda the praises of Ahura and the hymns of the Good Spirit the sublime truth which I see rising out of these flames You shall therefore HEARKEN TO THE SOUL OF NATURE Contemplate the beams of fire with a most pious mind Every one both men and women ought today to choose his Dread Ye offspring of renowned ancestors awake to agree with us So preached Zoroaster the prophet of the Parsis in one of his earliest sermons nearly 3 500 years ago Imbued from his infancy with deep philosophical and religious thoughts for the welfare and well being of mankind this ancient prophet of Bactria derived his holy inspiration after thirty years of divine meditation on a secluded and inaccessible mountain top of Ushidarena Thus fortified in communion with Ahura Mazda Spitama Zarathustra proceeded to the city of Balkh at the time the capital of the King of Iran Kava Vishtacpa Clothed in pure white flowing vestments bearing with him the sacred fire Adar Burzin Mehr and a staff or sceptre made of a cypress tree this sage of antiquity appeared before the court of Kava Vishtacpa By persuasion and argument he unfolded his religious mission and proclaimed the mandate of Ahura in order to elevate the ancient faith of the Aryas to its lofty and intellectual purity of monotheism Somewhere in the region washed by the eastern shires of the Caspian Sea on the fertile soil of Atropatene the primeval Aryas toiled and laboured in peaceful pastoral pursuit In the early days of Zoroaster homage was paid and prayers were offered to the Supreme Being usually through the recognized symbols of the Deity The heavenly firmament tinted with cerulean hue one limitless vault of refulgence and indescribable splendour the resplendent orb of the rising sun the ethereal gentleness of the beaming moon with her coruscating companions the planets and the stars the verdant earth the swift flowing river murmuring in sweet cadence of eternity and bliss the roaring sea of life and death and the glorious fire of Empyrean all these in the days of the primitive Aryan religion were believed to be so many manifestations of the Almighty God and were accordingly symbolized Things which were originally manifestations of God s good work became in course of time personified assumed shapes of deities in the frail imagination of the devotees and finally came to be adored in lieu of the Great Architect of the world Thus a religious system in itself philosophically sublime degenerated into a system of polytheism having for its object adoration of idols and visible forms of good and evil spirits reflective of human imagination This was the great evil the crime of ignoring the Creator for the created which our prophet Zarathustra laboured to remedy and to restore the then ancient faith to its pristine purity of Ahura worship was his chief object
