Tech Prep/Associate Degree: The K-12...14...16 Connection

Most people regard public education as preparation for life and work. In an overall sense, elements of career education begin in kindergarten, extend for as much as sixteen years and continue, in an intermittent fashion, throughout adult life. The proposed educational model shown here considers the K-6 (elementary) grades as a time for developing career awareness, where children learn about occupations and how they relate to personal interests. The model sees the seventh and eighth (and sometimes ninth and tenth) grades as years when students explore career options/requirements and prepare to make choices for their future education/training. From the ninth grade on, all students should be following a program of study that will prepare them for specific careers—studies that blend appropriate academics with appropriate skills and knowledge in a particular career area.

All students in high school should be preparing for life and work after high school graduation. This assertion eliminates any justification for a "general plan" of studies that in theory "leads anywhere" but in fact "leads nowhere." Students should either be in a college-prep/baccalaureate plan or in a technical preparation plan.

One group of technical preparation students (the future professional technicians) should be enrolled in a Tech Prep/ Associate Degree program that provides them advanced skills through studies and experiences in applied academics, skills and advanced technology. These students could join the workforce after grade 14 or continue their formal preparation by working toward a baccalaureate in Applied Technology.

Another group of technical preparation students (future workers in crafts, human and business services) should pursue vocational education and training through studies and experiences in applied academics, skills and, possibly, work-based learning. Most of these students will enter the workforce after high school graduation, but likely will return for more education/training according to the demands of the workplace.
