Standards-based Leadership Sandra Harris, 2004 Today's assistant principal is charged with the responsibility of supporting the principal in creating a learning organization which emphasizes success for all students. Frequently due to the nature of the position, assistant principals often find themselves as the man or woman in the middle with job duties that are quite different from that of the principal. An important component leading to the successful implementation of school leadership is decision making based on standards that are grounded in research and best practice. Standards Based Leadership: A Case Study Book for the Assistant Principalship provides a structure for learning and growth that connects theory with practice whether the assistant principal is already on the job or enrolled in a preparation program. Each chapter is organized around identification of a major ELCC standard and then related to the Texas standards. The scenarios are all based on actual problems that have faced practicing assistant principals. Applying the descriptors of the standard and using the brief literature reviews as resources to guide decision making, assistant principals are provided with a framework for implementation of specific strategies that will best help students. As aspiring school leaders reflect on the realistic situations provided in each chapter and identify possible applications and implications, they will be strengthened in their quest to meet the challenges of standards-based leadership for the assistant principalship.

Keeping and Improving Today's School Leaders Bruce S. Cooper, Sharon Conley, 2011 With dwindling funds and resources, tougher state and federal standards, and fatigue from more regulations and testing, many school administrators are giving up or crashing and leaving their posts. This book examines the process of sustaining and retaining quality leaders at the school and district levels. Beginning with a foreword by Michelle D. Young on the importance of administrative leadership in schools, subsequent chapters address six steps of critical organizational supports for leaders: the need for socializing assistant principals into their roles; administrators' perceptions of their administrative teams; school routines and rituals; the need for administrator mentoring of Latina/Latino leaders; the relationship between superintendent leadership and principal job satisfaction and efficacy. Concluding with thoughts about retaining and sustaining the best leaders in dynamic environments, the various chapters offer contemporary views on retaining and encouraging school administrators throughout the life cycle. The chapters provide needed insight into what should and must be done to grow the best leaders for U.S. schools.

Jsl Vol 14-N6 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 2005-01-26 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts. We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations. The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors, authors from traditionally marginalized populations, and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world. Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice. Teach courses on school leadership and policy; use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement.
