The Oxford Handbook of Improvisation in Dance Vida L. Midgelow, 2019-02-21 From the dance floor of a tango club to group therapy classes from ballet to community theatre improvised dance is everywhere For some dance artists improvisation is one of many approaches within the choreographic process For others it is a performance form in its own right And while it has long been practiced it is only within the last twenty years that dance improvisation has become a topic of critical inquiry With The Oxford Handbook of Improvisation in Dance dancer teacher and editor Vida L Midgelow provides a cutting edge volume on dance improvisation in all its facets Expanding beyond conventional dance frameworks this handbook looks at the ways that dance improvisation practices reflect our ability to adapt communicate and respond to our environment Throughout the handbook case studies from a variety of disciplines showcase the role of individual agency and collective relationships in improvisation not just to dancers but to people of all backgrounds and abilities In doing so chapters celebrate all forms of improvisation and unravel the ways that this kind of movement informs understandings of history socio cultural conditions lived experience cognition and technologies

Preaching with Sacred Fire: An Anthology of African American Sermons, 1750 to the Present Martha Simmons, Frank A. Thomas, 2010-08-16 One hundred sermons that display the victorious although sometimes painful historical and spiritual pilgrimage of black people in America A groundbreaking anthology Preaching with Sacred Fire is a unique and powerful work It captures the stunning diversity of the cultural and historical legacy of African American preaching more than three hundred years in the making Each sermon as editors Martha Simmons and Frank A Thomas reveal is a work of art and a lesson in unmatched rhetoric The journey through this anthology which includes selections from Jarena Lee Frederick Douglass Malcolm X Martin Luther King Jr Gardner C Taylor Vashti McKenzie and many others offers a rare view of the unheralded role of the African American preacher in American history The collection provides new insights into the underpinnings of the black fight for emancipation and the rise and growth of the Civil Rights and Black Power movements Sermons from the first decade of the twenty first century point toward the future of African American preaching Biographies of the preachers put their work in the cultural and homiletic context of their periods The preachers of these sermons are men and women from a range of faiths ancestries and educational backgrounds They draw on a vast and luminous landscape of poetic language using metaphor rhythm and imagery to communicate with their congregations What they all have in common is hope resilience and sacred fire Even during the most difficult and oppressive times Simmons and Thomas write in the preface the delivery creativity charisma expressivity fervor forcefulness passion persuasiveness poise power rhetoric spirit style and vision of black preaching gave and gives hope to a community under siege This magnificent work beautifully renders the complexity spiritual richness and strength of African American life

African Somaesthetics: Cultures, Feminisms, Politics, 2020-11-23 In African Somaesthetics Cultures Feminisms Politics Catherine F Botha brings together original research on the body in African cultures specifically interrogating the possibilities of the contribution of a somaesthetic approach in the context of colonization decolonization and globalization in Africa The innovative contributions that consider the somaesthetic dimensions of experience in the context of Africa centred broadly around the themes of politics feminisms and cultures reflect a diversity of perspectives and positions The book is a first of its kind in gathering together novel and focused analyses of the body as conceived of from an African perspective

The Search for Wholeness and Diaspora Literacy in Contemporary African American Literature Silvia Castro-Borrego, 2011-05-25 This volume has as a cohesive argument the exploration of the different manifestations of the search for wholeness and spirituality in the writings of contemporary African American women writers covering different literary genres such as fiction both novels and short stories drama and poetry Together with the issue of spirituality the African American search for wholeness is analyzed as a source of creativity and agency As expressed in the contemporary literature of black women writers starting in the 1980s the search for wholeness reflects a beauty realized through the healing of the spirit and the body and is a process that takes on dimensions of reconciling the past and the present the mythical and the real the spiritual and the physical all in the context of an emerging world view that welcomes synthesis and expects both synthesis and generative contradictions The book will be a valuable collection for scholars of African American literature comparative American Ethnic literature American literature and spirituality as well as women s studies In addition it will be an important text for both undergraduate and graduate students in those fields As Professor Johnnella Butler 2006 points out the African American search for wholeness is tightly linked to the search for freedom and agency Ever since the 19th century African American writers have given expression to an African American self which functions in Western civilization simultaneously as a colonized other and an assertive self Due to the continuous ordeal of the African Diaspora this self is caught in between the binaries proposed by the material and the spiritual world seeking a balance where the person can become whole The search for wholeness feeds from cultural roots that imply the presence of ancestral spiritualism rememory and double consciousness Contemporary black women writers reflect the metaphor of building spiritual bridges seeking the possibilities of building a bridge to the archetypal African past that is carried in their memories as a presence that offers sustenance via spiritual reconnection Their works seek to bridge the gap between the myths and traditions of the past and contemporary African American culture The texts included in this collection are examples of writing as an exercise of what V v Clark calls Diaspora literacy The texts written by contemporary African American women writers explicitly show how to recognize and read the cultural signs left scattered along the road of progress In this way material acquisition is achieved along with cultural dispossession becoming a metaphor for the history of the African in America The powerful message is that one should not exclude the other
