Killer Apps Jeremy Packer, Joshua Reeves, 2020-02-28 In Killer Apps Jeremy Packer and Joshua Reeves provide a detailed account of the rise of automation in warfare showing how media systems are central to building weapons systems with artificial intelligence in order to more efficiently select and eliminate military targets Drawing on the insights of a wide range of political and media theorists Packer and Reeves develop a new theory for understanding how the intersection of media and military strategy drives today's AI arms race They address the use of media to search for enemies in their analyses of the history of automated radar systems the search for extraterrestrial life and the development of military climate science which treats the changing earth as an enemy As the authors demonstrate contemporary military strategy demands perfect communication in an evolving battlespace that is increasingly inhospitable to human frailties necessitating humans replacement by advanced robotics machine intelligence and media systems

If Roger Lee Vernon, 2011-12-19 What IF time could be stopped What IF immortality was for sale What IF your space ship was captured and you travelers became pets of a more advanced civilization on an alien planet What IF an alien race tried to save earth from itself Would the people of earth cooperate In these science fiction stories Roger Lee Vernon touches on romance adventure suspense politics women's liberation and many possible futures

Aliens and Earthlings Eric Johns, 2015-09-10 There are shortcuts through spacetime from one part of the universe to another The trouble is you can never be sure what's at the other end of one or going to come through one to visit you Suppose you make contact with aliens can you be sure you can trust them Or could they be tricking you into doing something which would be disastrous for you but which they'd find hilarious Then there's the temptation of time travel It seems so simple to nip back into the past alter a few things to make your present life exactly as you'd like it to be Unfortunately there are always unforeseen consequences and things never turn out as you hope Also space travel is more complicated than you expect because time goes at different speeds depending on how fast you are travelling So your journey may only take a year but when you get back everyone else could be a century older Nothing but problems but entertaining for those who like sci fi stories like the ones in this book Have a good time

Contact with Alien Civilizations Michael Michaud, 2010-05-05 The proper study of mankind is not merely Man but Intelligence 1 Arthur C Clarke 1951 In the long running television series The X Files the original Deep Throat said to FBI Special Agent Mulder that there are those like yourself who believe in the existence of extraterrestrial life Ah but that's not the question If extraterrestrial life exists most of it may be in simpler forms comparable to the one celled organisms of Earth biology Finding such life would be fascinating for scientists but may be of only passing interest to the general public What intrigues the average citizen is the possibility of contact with extraterrestrial intelligence We want to communicate with other sentient beings learning what they know and telling them about ourselves We want to find out how they are like us and how they are different Microorganisms don't have a lot to say There is another implication of contact that underlies this book Intelligent extraterrestrials might have an impact on our future The information they send us if any might change our cultures They could have conscious intentions toward us and possibly the technologies to reach us directly Their intentions may be benign or not Our interest in alien minds is not new The idea that intelligent beings exist beyond the Earth has been part of the Western intellectual tradition for more than 2000 years Sometimes this belief was widespread at other times it was out of fashion

Maccone, 2009-06-09 The majority of books dealing with prospects for interstellar flight tackle the problem of the propulsion systems that will be needed to send a craft on an interstellar trajectory The proposed book looks at two other equally important aspects of such space missions and each forms half of this two part book Part 1 looks at the ways in which it is possible to exploit the focusing effect of the Sun as a gravitational lens for scientific missions to distances of 550 AU and beyond into interstellar space The author explains the mechanism of the Sun as a gravitational lens the scientific investigations which may be carried out along the way to a distance of 550 AU and at the 550 AU sphere itself the requirements for exiting the Solar System at the highest speed and a range of project ideas for missions entering interstellar space Part 2 of the book deals with the problems of communicating between an interstellar spaceship and the Earth especially at very high speeds Here the author assesses a range of mathematical tools relating to the Karhunen Lo ve Transform KLT for optimal telecommunications technical topics that may one day enable humans flying around the Galaxy to keep in contact with the Earth This part of the book opens with a summary of the author s 2003 Pe ek Lecture presented at the IAC in Bremen which introduces the concept of KLT for engineers and newcomers to the subject It is planned to include a DVD containing the full mathematical derivations of the KLT for those interested in this important mathematical tool whilst the text itself will contain the various results without outlines of the mathematical proofs Astronautical engineers will thus be able to see the application of the results without getting bogged down in the mathematics The Rings of Time Greg
