The world is facing enormous challenges from ever-growing global inequality to climate change to the continuing fallout from the Covid pandemic. It is becoming increasingly clear that the origin of these challenges lies in the economic models and imperial lifestyles perpetuated by the Global North. In order to find new answers to the world's biggest challenges then it is necessary for the Global North to acknowledge Indigenous knowledge systems as unique and legitimate epistemologies and to engage in dialogues with them This collection brings together contributions from Indigenous and non Indigenous authors to promote that dialogue It provides a unique rare forum for discourse between the expressive potentials of differing world views and ultimately for developing cooperation in the terms of Eisenstein s notion of interbeing which counteracts the History of Separation between nature and culture and between Global South and Global North What emerges is a path forward towards a new interwoven modernity characterized by an embrace of separate but mutually constitutive ways of knowing For its wide topical and geographic breadth and for its bringing together of Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars around the world this book is a must read for researchers and students interested in indigenous studies and decolonial approaches to international development on the context embedded relations between mapping connectivity and European empire to which we are not yet attuned By exploring the imaginaries of the world in the mapping of Western modern empires the book also links to the burgeoning literature on the history of international relations and empire The emphasis on empires serves here as an important corrigendum for IR s state centrism and Eurocentrism and contributes to further erode the myth of Westphalia Circa 1492 Jean Michel Massing,National Gallery of Art (U.S.),Luís de Albuquerque,Jonathan Brown,J.
