Top Man Stewart Lansley, 2008-09-08 Philip Green owner of amongst much else British Home Stores reached billionaire status faster than anyone else in British history Today he is worth 3.6 billion and is reckoned to be the country's fourth richest citizen A middle class Jewish boy from North London who left school at fifteen Green started and failed with four businesses before he made it with Jean Jeannie which he sold to Lee Cooper for an enormous profit that set him on the road to fame and fortune But there were pitfalls on the way his involvement with Amber Day a public company left him with an abiding dislike for both the City establishment and outside investors Ever since he has relied upon a close group of like minded entrepreneurs including the Barclay twins to help fund his buccaneering forays into Britain's High Streets The authors describe Green's takeover and highly profitable break up of the Sears empire and his first audacious attempt to seize control of Marks Spencer at the end of 1999 Green then turned his attention to the ailing BHS for which he paid a mere 200 million and then transformed its fortunes to such an extent that in 2004 he was able to transfer dividends totalling 400 million to his Monaco tax haven His appetite unsated Green then turned his attention to the Arcadia Group which included brands such as Miss Selfridge Top Shop and Dorothy Perkins before making another bid for M S in 2004 Again he was foiled partly because of what he saw as treachery on the part of his former protégé Stuart Rose the man who was appointed by M S to see off Green's bid

George Mackay Brown Maggie Fergusson, 2012-06-21 George Mackay Brown was one of Scotland's greatest twentieth century writers but in person a bundle of paradoxes He had a wide international reputation but hardly left his native Orkney A prolific poet admired by such fellow poets as Seamus Heaney Ted Hughes and Charles Causley and hailed by the composer Peter Maxwell Davies as the most positive and benign influence ever on my own efforts at creation he was also an accomplished novelist shortlisted for the 1994 Booker Prize for Beside the Ocean of Time and a master of the short story When he died in 1996 he left behind an autobiography as deft as it is ultimately uninformative The lives of artists are as boring and also as uniquely fascinating as any or every other life he claimed Never a recluse he appeared open to his friends but probably revealed more of himself in his voluminous correspondence with strangers He never married indeed he once wrote I have never been in love in my life But some of his most poignant letters and poems were written to Stella Cartwright the Muse of Rose Street the gifted but tragic figure to whom he was once engaged and with whom he kept in touch until the end of her short life Maggie Fergusson interviewed George Mackay Brown several times and is the only biographer to whom he a reluctant subject gave his blessing Through his letters and through conversations with his wide acquaintance she discovers that this particular artist's life was not only fascinating but vivid courageous and surprising
