The Smallpox Vaccination Program Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Promotion and Disease Prevention, Committee on Smallpox Vaccination Program Implementation, 2005-10-06 December 13 2002 the president of the United States announced that smallpox vaccination would be offered to some categories of civilians and administered to members of the military and government representatives in high risk areas of the world The events that precipitated that historic announcement included a series of terrorist attacks during the 1990s which culminated in the catastrophic events of 2001 Although preparedness for deliberate attacks with biologic weapons was already the subject of much public health planning meetings and publications as the twentieth century neared its end the events of 2001 led to a steep rise in bioterrorism related government policies and funding and in state and local preparedness activities for example in public health health care and the emergency response and public safety communities The national smallpox vaccination program is but one of many efforts to improve readiness to respond to deliberate releases of biologic agents The Institute of Medicine IOM Committee on Smallpox Vaccination Program Implementation was convened in October 2002 at the request of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention CDC the federal agency charged with implementing the government's policy of providing smallpox vaccine first to public health and health care workers on response teams then to all interested health care workers and other first responders and finally to members of the general public who might insist on receiving the vaccine The committee was charged with providing advice to the CDC and the program investigators on selected aspects of the smallpox program implementation and evaluation The committee met six times over 19 months and wrote a series of brief letter reports The Smallpox Vaccination Program Public Health in an Age of Terrorism constitutes the committee's seventh and final report and the committee hopes that it will fulfill three purposes 1 To serve as an archival document that brings together the six reports addressed to Julie Gerberding director of CDC and previously released on line and as short unbound papers 2 To serve as a historical document that summarizes milestones in the smallpox vaccination program and 3 To comment on the achievement of overall goals of the smallpox vaccination program in accordance with the last item in the charge including lessons learned from the program

America In a substantive introduction Carrington and Jones assert that legal changes from the late 20th century onward have been increasingly elitist and unconcerned with the lives of poor people having little access to the legal system Contributors use this position as a springboard to review developments in their own particular fields and to assess whether or not legal decisions and processes have contributed to a widening gap between privileged and unprivileged people in this country From antitrust and bankruptcy to tax and election law the essays in this unique volume invite readers to reflect thoughtfully on socio economic justice in the new century and suggest that a lack of progressive reform in all areas of law may herald a form of undiagnosed class dominance reminiscent of America s Gilded Age Contributors Margaret A Berger M Gregg Bloche David L Callies Paul D Carrington Paul Y K Castle Lance Compa James D Cox Paula A Franzese Marc Galanter Julius G Getman Lawrence O Gostin Joel F Handler Trina Jones Thomas E Kauper Sanford Levinson John Linehan Joseph D McNamara Burt Neuborne Jeffrey O Connell Judith Resnik Richard L Schmalbeck Danielle Sarah Seiden Richard E Speidel Gerald Torres David M Trubek Elizabeth Warren and Lawrence A Zelenak

Smith III, 2014-09-19 Biological weapons have threatened U S national security since at least World War II Historically however the U S military has neglected research development acquisition and doctrine for biodefense Following September 11 and the anthrax letters of 2001 the United States started spending billions of dollars per year on medical countermeasures and biological detection systems But most of this funding now comes from the Department of Health and Human Services rather than the Department of Defense Why has the U S military neglected biodefense and allowed civilian organizations to take the lead in defending the country against biological attacks In American Biodefense Frank L Smith III addresses this puzzling and largely untold story about science technology and national security Smith argues that organizational frames and stereotypes have caused both military neglect and the rise of civilian biodefense In the armed services influential ideas about kinetic warfare have undermined defense against biological warfare The influence of these ideas on science and technology challenges the conventional wisdom that national security policy is driven by threats or bureaucratic interests Given the ideas at work inside the U S
