present network of services and explains the NHS and Community Care Act 1990 in terminology accessible to health care professionals and others engaged in this area It looks in detail at the concepts underpinning new legislation including care management and assessment quality and inspection and inter agency planning and it supplies up to date information on current topics such as advocacy and empowerment and recreation and leisure An invaluable resource for all practitioners in health and community care Services for People with Learning Disabilities will also give professionals and carers a much greater understanding of the changes and improvements that are still needed

Training Behaviour Therapists (Psychology Revivals) Derek Milne, 2015-03-27 Originally published in 1986 one of the major developments in behavioural psychotherapy and mental health in the previous decade had been the growing involvement of non psychologists in behaviour therapy This was a result of the fact that there were too few psychologists to cope with problem behaviour and that other professionals or carers began to appreciate more clearly their potential as agents of behaviour change Foremost among these mediators of therapy were parents nurses particularly psychiatric nurses and teachers especially remedial teachers Their involvement had greatly increased the efficiency of behaviour therapy at the time and opened up a new era in applied psychology It also entailed the development of new training formats evaluation procedures and implementation strategies The main aim of this book was to provide a summary of the research relevant to these issues and to offer practical guidelines to those who were interested in training or being trained as behaviour therapists For this reason there are chapters by researchers who have been involved in training parents nurses and teachers These chapters provide a detailed account of training in a form that was rarely available in published form at the time and even today should be of great assistance to readers

Quality of Life for Handicapped People Roy I. Brown, 2021-06-30 First published in 1988 Quality of Life for Handicapped People examines developments and innovations in research and practice concerning the quality of life for those with disabilities The book centres on the topic of rehabilitation education with a particular focus on issues relating to quality of life including what is meant by quality of life and the measures and systems required to assess the variables involved It highlights the significance of rehabilitation education in underlining the key issue of how individuals feel about themselves and how they perceive the services available to them for the purpose of rehabilitation It considers the importance of environment and the improvement of environment in increasing quality of life and examines a range of vocational and social programmes from a variety of perspectives Quality of Life for Handicapped People will be of use to those with an interest in the history and development of rehabilitation education

Dictionary of Mental Handicap Mary P. Lindsey, 2002-03-11 Over recent years the policy of isolating and institutionalizing mentally handicapped people has gradually been dismantled and a major shift to community care has taken place But integration within the general community and access to special services has greatly increased the number of people with a need to know about mental handicap Each profession or discipline has its own terminology nowadays one must be conversant with all of them In this comprehensive dictionary Mary Lindsey has brought together terms and concepts from a wide variety of fields Approximately 2 400 entries are included ranging in length from concise explanations to encyclopaedic essays but always expressed in clear simple language Where appropriate suggestions for further reading are made and possible sources of further information given An extensive system of cross references leads the interested reader further and makes valuable connections between entries The medical aspects of mental handicap its causes prognoses and treatments are of course covered in detail But although the cause of mental handicap may be medical subsequent interventions may be sociological psychological educational medical paramedical or psychiatric This is reflected in the choice of entries making the Dictionary an invaluable source of reference for all those involved with mentally handicapped people in any capacity whatsoever
