Stafford Past Roy Lewis,1997-01-01 Stafford was already an important place when King Alfred s daughter fortified the town against the Danes she made it both a royal borough and a market town William the Conqueror destroyed much of the town to build a castle after the defeat of Edric the Wild The town then flourished with a magnificent new church and a royal charter By Tudor times the population suffered a sharp decline but then a few wealthy families revived its trade In the 18th century shoe manufacturing became the dominant industry and the railways attracted heavy engineering The county of Stafford and many of its family records Stafford county,1897 Fragments of Stafford's Past Dudley Wilks,2024-10-04
