Canada and the Idea of North Sherrill E Grace, 2002-04-15 Canada and the Idea of North examines the ways in which

Canadians have defined themselves as a northern people in their literature art music drama history geography politics and popular culture From the Franklin Mystery to the comic book superheroine Nelvana Glenn Gould s documentaries the paintings of Lawren Harris and Molson beer ads the idea of the north has been central to the Canadian imagination Sherrill Grace argues that Canadians have always used ideas of Canada as North to promote a distinct national identity and national unity In a penultimate chapter The North Writes Back Grace presents newly emerging northern voices and shows how they view the long tradition of representing the North by southern activists artists and scholars With the recent creation of Nunavut increasing concern about northern ecosystems and social challenges and renewed attention to Canada s role as a circumpolar nation Canada and the Idea of North shows that nordicity still plays an urgent and central role in Canada at the start of the twenty first century

Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan,2002-03-26 By investigating mutually dependent categories of identity in literature that depicts northern peoples and places Hulan provides a descriptive account of representative genres in which the north figures as a central theme including autobiography adventure narrative ethnography fiction poetry and travel writing She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples Reading against the background of contemporary ethnographic literary and cultural theory Hulan maintains that the collective Canadian identity idealized in many works representing the north does not occur naturally but is artificially constructed in terms of characteristics inflected by historically contingent ideas of gender and race such as self sufficiency independence and endurance and that these characteristics are evoked to justify the nationhood of the Canadian state

Images of the North Sverrir Jakobsson,2009 This interdisciplinary volume seeks to examine and explore the various issues surrounding image construction identity making and representations of the North as well as the interconnectedness between those issues The aim is to elucidate the multiple aspects of the idea of the North both as a mythological space and a discursive system created and shaped by cultures outside the North as well as from within The objective of the research project Iceland and Images of the North is to elucidate several aspects of images of the North and to explore their functions in the present focusing especially on Iceland What effect have Iceland and its people had on images of the North and how do those images influence the Icelanders and other nations The project will be a cooperative interdisciplinary undertaking by researchers in the humanities and social sciences

Inventing Tom Thomson Sherrill Grace,2004 An examination of Canadian identity through our cultural obsession with iconic painter Tom Thomson

Authenticity and Legitimacy in Minority Theatre Patrice Brasseur,Madelena Gonzalez,2010-04-16 Contemporary theatre is one of the best ways for ethno cultural minorities to express themselves whether they be of indigenous origin or immigrants It is often used to denounce social injustice and discrimination and more generally it helps to air questions debated in the wider community It may also express itself thanks to the staging of collective memory for it constitutes a privileged space for the exploration of the trauma of the past colonial for example as well as providing a means of effecting the reconfiguration of a new identity or of articulating an uneasiness about that identity Should minority theatre increase its visibility in relation to the mainstream or on the contrary remain on the margins and assert its specificity This question is at the centre of French Canadian experience for example but also applies to other postcolonial societies in Europe and elsewhere In order to maintain its cultural authenticity should this type of theatre distinguish itself from a multiculturalism that runs the risk of political and social recuperation If it is unable to resist the model proposed by globalization and widespread cultural dissemination will it lose its legitimacy Can and should there be a form of popular art at the service of the community The term minority raises questions that will be examined by the articles collected in this volume What is the definition of a minority Does this term refer to experimental and avant garde art forms as well as to ethno cultural drama Contemporary theatre is characterized by an aesthetics of hybridity in what measure is this the case for theatre outside the mainstream The exploration of this kind of theatre necessitates an examination of the very concept of theatre per se Since the development of the electronic media as the privileged vector of culture has not the theatrical genre itself become a minority art form These are some of the pressing questions that this volume will try to address thanks to a cross cultural multidisciplinary approach that aims to reveal the rich diversity of the field under study

Outside Looking in Mary Jane Miller, 2008-06-09 Widely sold abroad Beachcombers and North of 60 are what many international audiences know about Canada In Outside Looking In Mary Jane Miller traces the evolution of representations of First Nations people in fifty years of Canadian television broadcasts

Hot Thespian Action! Robin Whittaker, 2008 In Hot Thespian Action Robin Whittaker argues that new plays can thrive in amateur theatres which have freedoms unavailable to professional companies He proves it with ten relevant engaging playscripts originally produced by one of Canada's longest running theatres Edmonton's acclaimed Walterdale Theatre Associates This collection challenges notions that amateur theatre is solely a phenomenon of the pre professional past Whittaker makes an important contribution to Canadian theatre studies with the first North American anthology in 80 years to collect plays first produced by a nonprofessionalized theatre company

Modern Canadian Plays Jerry Wasserman, 2000 In Volume II Wasserman shows us Canadian drama from 1985 up to 1997 during which we see women playwrights rise to greater prominence along with Native gay and lesbian and Quebecois playwrights But continuing on from Volume I this selection of plays not only takes us farther into the annals of the lives of the marginalized it also provides a revealing cultural and philosophical cross section of late 20th century life in Canada In one way or another we are shown ourselves as we are and not in the critically neutral determinedly naive terms of the contemporary mainstream in which we are all represented as gloriously enmeshed in a world of cybernetic stringency the uncomplicated aesthetic of a never ending stream of zeroes and ones If the plays presented in these two volumes are the contours of an indigenous Canadian drama they outline anything but a norm The plays in this fourth edition of Modern

Canadian Plays Volume II date from 1985 to 1997 Bordertown Cafe by Kelly Rebar Polygraph by Robert Lepage and Marie Brassard Mooby by Sally Clark The Orphan Muses by Michel Marc Bouchard 7 Stories by Morris Panych Dry Lips Oughta Move to Kapuskasing by Tomson Highway Amigo's Blue Guitar by Joan MacLeod Lion in the Streets by Judith Thomson Never Swim Alone by Daniel MacIvor Fronteras Americanas by Guillermo Verdecchia Harlem Duets by Djanet Sears Problem Child by George F Walker

Arctic Discourses Anka Ryall, Johan Schimanski, Henning Howlid Wærp, 2010-02-19 Both fictional and non-fictional accounts of the Arctic have long been a major source of powerful images of the region and have thus had a crucial part to play in the history of human activities there This volume provides a wide reaching investigation into the discourses involved in such accounts above all into the consolidation of a discourse of Arcticism modelled on Edward Said's concept of Orientalism but also into the many intersecting discourses of imperialism nationalism masculinity modernity geography science race ecology indigeneity aesthetics etc Perspectives originating from inside and outside the Arctic along with hybrid positions are examined with special attention being given to the textual genres narratives and figures which they mobilize together with to the close relationship between the Arctic as an unknown place and the literary imagination The different chapters address a wide geographical range of texts providing a necessary supplement to most previous work in the field and also address the wide variety of genres which flourish under the aegis of Arctic discourse ranging from exploration accounts travel writing political texts and journalism through diaries and historical documents to novels and novelizations and including also other media such as music and opera

Imagined Landscapes Jane Stadler, Peta Mitchell, Stephen Carleton, 2015-12-21 An analysis of the depiction of Australia's landscape in its films and literature Imagined Landscapes teams geocritical analysis with digital visualization techniques to map and interrogate films novels and plays in which space and place figure prominently Drawing upon A Cultural Atlas of Australia a database driven interactive digital map that can be used to identify patterns of representation in Australia's cultural landscape the book presents an integrated perspective on the translation of space across narrative forms and pioneers new ways of seeing and understanding landscape It offers fresh insights on cultural topography and spatial history by examining the technical and conceptual challenges of georeferencing fictional and fictionalized places in narratives Among the items discussed are Wake in Fright a novel by Kenneth Cook adapted iconically to the screen and recently onto the stage the Australian North as a mythic space spatial and temporal narrative shifts in retellings of the story of Alexander Pearce a convict who gained notoriety for resorting to cannibalism after escaping from a remote Tasmanian penal colony travel narratives and road movies set in Western Australia and the challenges and spatial politics of mapping spaces for which there are no coordinates It will likely be the indispensable touchstone for any future work in these areas with respect to Australian cultural studies Robert T Tally Texas State University Definitely original in its approach since it combines a conceptual approach with a more applied one The book is a serious contribution to the field of mapping spatial narratives and to a better understanding of the production and spatial
