Chasing Tales Corinne Fowler,2007 Chasing Tales is the first exclusive study of journalism travel writing and the history of British ideas about Afghanistan It offers a timely investigation of the notional Afghanistan s that have prevailed in the popular British imagination Casting its net deep into the nineteenth century the study investigates the country s mythologisation by scrutinising travel narratives literary fiction and British news media coverage of the recent conflict in Afghanistan This highly topical book explores the legacy of nineteenth century paranoias and prejudices to contemporary travellers and journalists and seeks to explain why Afghans continue to be depicted as medieval murderous warlike and unruly Its title Chasing Tales conveys the circulation and indeed the circularity of ideas commonly found in British travel writing and journalism The tales component stresses the pivotal role played by fictionalised sources especially the writing of Rudyard Kipling in perpetuating traumatic nineteenth century memories of Afghan British encounter The subject matter is compelling and its foci of interest profoundly relevant both to current political debates and to scholarly enquiry about the ethics of travel

The Land of the Elephant Kings Paul J. Kosmin, 2014-06-23 Taking in the bulk of Alexander the Great s Asian conquests the Seleucid Empire encompassed remarkable ethnic religious and linguistic diversity yet it did not include Macedonia the dynasty s ancestral homeland Paul Kosmin shows how rulers over lands to which they had no historic claim transformed the territory into a coherent space

Southeast Asian Culture and Heritage in a Globalising World Rahil Ismail, 2016-04-01 Southeast Asia has in recent years become a crossroads of cultures with high levels of ethnic pluralism not only between countries sub regions and urban areas but also at the local levels of community and neighbourhood Illustrated by a series of international case studies this book demonstrates how the forces of post colonialism in their various manifestations are accelerating social change and creating new and imagined communities some of which are potentially disruptive and which may well threaten the longer term sustainability of the region Interdisciplinary in approach this book brings together geographers historians anthropologists architects education specialists planners and sociologists to make connections and new insights and to provide a truly comprehensive view of heritage culture and identity in this dynamic region

The ^ANext Frontier David T Johnson, Franklin E Zimring, 2009-02-02 Today two thirds of the world s nations have abolished the death penalty either officially or in practice due mainly to the campaign to end state executions led by Western European nations Will this success spread to Asia where over 95 percent of executions now occur Do Asian values and traditions support capital punishment or will development and democratization end executions in the world s most rapidly developing region David T Johnson an expert on law and society in Asia and Franklin E Zimring a senior authority on capital punishment combine detailed case studies of the death penalty in Asian nations with cross national comparisons to identify the critical factors for the future of Asian death penalty policy The clear trend is away from reliance on state execution and many nations with death penalties in their criminal codes rarely use it Only the hard line authoritarian regimes of China Vietnam Singapore and North Korea execute with any frequency and when authoritarian states experience democratic reforms the rate of executions drops sharply as in Taiwan and South Korea Debunking the myth of Asian values Johnson and Zimring demonstrate that politics rather than culture or tradition is the major obstacle to the end of executions Carefully researched and full of valuable lessons The Next Frontier is the authoritative resource on the death penalty in Asia for scholars policymakers and advocates around the world The Far East and Australasia 2003 Europa Publications,2002 A unique survey of each country in the region It includes an extensive collection of facts statistics analysis and directory information in one accessible volume The Mekong Milton Osborne,2007-12-01 A remarkable history of the great river of Southeast Asia Jill Ker Conway author of The Road from Coorain The Mekong River runs over nearly three thousand miles beginning in the mountains of Tibet and flowing through China Burma Laos Thailand Cambodia and Vietnam before emptying into the China Sea Its waters are the lifeblood of Southeast Asia and first begot civilization on the fertile banks of its delta region at Oc Eo nearly two millennia ago This is the story of the peoples and cultures of the great river from these obscure beginnings to the emergence of today s independent nations Drawing on research gathered over forty years Milton Osborne traces the Mekong s dramatic history through the rise and fall of civilizations and the era of colonization and exploration He details the struggle for liberation during a twentieth century in which Southeast Asia has seen almost constant conflict including two world wars the Indochina War the Vietnam War and its bloody aftermath and explores the prospects for peace and prosperity as the region enters a new millennium Along the way he brings to life those who witnessed and shaped events along the river including Chou Ta kuan the thirteenth century Chinese envoy who recorded the glory of Angkor Wat the capital of the Khmer Empire the Iberian mercenaries Blas Ruiz and Diego Veloso whose involvement in the intrigues of Cambodia s royal family shook Southeast Asia s politics in the sixteenth century and the revolutionaries led by Ho Chi Minh whose campaigns to liberate Vietnam from the French and unify the nation under communism changed the course of history A pathbreaking ecologically informed chronicle A pulsating journey through the heart of Southeast Asia Publishers Weekly

The West and the Rest Ross, Ian,2025-09-22 We tend to view the world beyond these shores on the basis of what the media make of it whether the media of words or of images and long considered or instant Ian Ross offers a welcome change of perspective He spent his career as a senior executive in two controversial industrial sectors tobacco and oil and necessarily sees the world through the lens of business The West and the Rest examines what he gained that we can learn from On the Margins of Religion Frances Pine,João de Pina-Cabral,2008 Focusing on places objects bodies narratives and ritual spaces where religion may be found or inscribed the authors reveal the role of religion in contesting rights to places to knowledge and to property as well as access to resources Through analyses of specific historical processes in terms of responses to socio economic and political change the chapters consider implicitly or explicitly the problematic relation between science including social sciences and anthropology in particular and religion and how this connects to the new religious globalisation of the twenty first century Their ethnographies highlight the embodiment of religion and its location in landscapes built spaces and religious sites which may be contested physically or ideologically or encased in memory and often in silence Taken together they show the importance of religion as a resource to the believers a source of solace spiritual comfort and self willed submission

Globalization, Culture and Society in Laos Boike Rehbein, 2007-08-13 The book explores current tendencies of globalization in Laos and offers a theoretical framework for their interpretation

The Politics of Ritual and Remembrance Grant Evans, 1998-01-01 Communist revolutions in this century have suppressed existing ritual and symbolic structures and invented new ones Armed with new flags new national celebrations or new school textbooks they have attempted to reconstruct social memory This fascinating work of political anthropology examines the case of Laos from the heady days of the 1975 revolution to the more sober post socialist present Grant Evans traces the attempt at ritual and symbolic change in Laos and the recent reemergence of older and deeper cultural structures while identifying what has perhaps been irretrievably lost In this challenging study of the cultural consequences of failed total revolution Evans reaches some striking conclusions concerning the nature of social memory cultural possibilities foregone and the need for cultural continuity

Search for the Golden Moon Bear Sy Montgomery, 2009-08-25 Sy Montgomery acclaimed author of The Soul of an Octopus and bestselling memoir The Good Good Pig has shared with readers her amazing encounters with intelligent octopi great apes man eating tigers and pink river dolphins but here her muse is an animal whose name and appearance evoke another world altogether Southeast Asia's golden moon bear with its luminous coat lionlike mane and Mickey Mouse ears was unknown to science until Montgomery and her colleagues got on the trail at the dawn of the new millennium Search for the Golden Moon Bear recounts Montgomery's quest fraught with danger and mayhem to reconstruct an evolutionary record and piece together a living portrait of her littleknown subject This beautiful animal is not just a scientific eureka It is also a powerful symbol of conservation Search for the Golden Moon Bear is a field report from the frontiers of science and the ends of the earth seamlessly weaving together folklore natural history and contemporary research into fantastic travelogue
