Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century, Volume II Kassem M. Wahba, Liz England, Zeinab A. Taha, 2017-07-06 Drawing on the collective expertise of language scholars and educators in a variety of subdisciplines the Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Volume II provides a comprehensive treatment of teaching and research in Arabic as a second and foreign language worldwide Keeping a balance among theory research and practice the content is organized around 12 themes Trends and Recent Issues in Teaching and Learning Arabic Social Political and Educational Contexts of Arabic Language Teaching and Learning Identifying Core Issues in Practice Language Variation Communicative Competence and Using Frames in Arabic Language Teaching and Learning Arabic Programs Goals Design and Curriculum Teaching and Learning Approaches Content Based Instruction and Curriculum Arabic Teaching and Learning Classroom Language Materials and Language Corpora Assessment Testing and Evaluation Methodology of Teaching Arabic Skills and Components Teacher Education and Professional Development Technology Mediated Teaching and Learning Future Directions The field faces new challenges since the publication of Volume I including increasing and diverse demands motives and needs for learning Arabic across various contexts of use a need for accountability and academic research given the growing recognition of the complexity and diverse contexts of teaching Arabic and an increasing shortage of and need for quality of instruction Volume

It addresses these challenges. It is designed to generate a dialogue continued from Volume I among professionals in the field leading to improved practice and to facilitate interactions not only among individuals but also among educational institutions within a single country and across different countries. Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century Kassem Wahba, Zeinab A. Taha, Liz England, 2014-06-03. This landmark volume offers an introduction to the field of teaching Arabic as a foreign or second language. Recent growth in student numbers and the demand for new and more diverse Arabic language programs of instruction have created a need that has outpaced the ability of teacher preparation programs to provide sufficient numbers of well qualified professional teachers at the level of skill required. Arabic language program administrators anticipate that the increases in enrollment will continue into the next decades. More resources and more varied materials are seriously needed in Arabic teacher education and training. The goal of this Handbook is to address that need. The most significant feature of this volume is its pioneer role in approaching the field of Arabic language teaching from many different perspectives. It offers readers the opportunity to consider the role, status and content of Arabic language teaching in the world today. The Handbook is intended as a resource to be used in building Arabic language and teacher education programs and in guiding future academic research. Thirty four chapters authored by leaders in the field are organized around nine themes: Background of Arabic Language Teaching, Contexts of Arabic Language Teaching, Communicative Competence in Arabic, The Learners, Assessment, Technology Applications, Curriculum Development, Design and Models, Arabic Language Program Administration and Management, and Planning for the Future of Arabic Language Learning and Teaching. The Handbook for Arabic Language Teaching Professionals in the 21st Century will benefit and be welcomed by Arabic language teacher educators and trainers, administrators, graduate students and scholars around the world. It is intended to create dialogue among scholars and professionals in the field and in related fields, dialogue that will contribute to creating new models for curriculum and course design, materials and assessment tools and ultimately better instructional effectiveness for all Arabic learners everywhere in both Arabic speaking and non Arabic speaking countries.

Standard Arabic Student's Book James Dickins, Janet C. E. Watson, 1999-03-04. This course is designed for students who have completed a first level course in Arabic and wish to pursue the subject to degree level. It aims to develop thoroughly the four basic language skills of reading, writing, speaking and listening, making extensive use of authentic Arabic materials. Each of the twenty chapters is based around a particular topic relating to the culture, history, politics, geography or society of the Arab Middle East to give students an insight into important aspects of the region. This topic based approach allows students to tackle vocabulary and structures in a coherent and concentrated manner. Each chapter contains materials for translation into and from Arabic, aural texts, pre-cis passages, suggested oral discussion topics and a variety of exercises including comprehension in English and Arabic. Accompanying cassettes and a teacher's handbook are available.

Routledge Encyclopedia of Language Teaching and Learning Michael Byram, Adelheid Hu, 2013-06-26. The Routledge

Encyclopedia of Language Teaching and Learning is an authoritative reference dealing with all aspects of this increasingly important field of study. Offering a comprehensive range of articles on contemporary language teaching and its history, it has been produced specifically for language teaching professionals and as a reference work for academic studies at postgraduate level. In this new edition, every single entry has been reviewed and updated with reference to new developments and publications. Coverage has been expanded to reflect new technological, global, and academic developments, with particular attention to areas such as online and distance learning, teacher and learner cognition, testing, assessment, and evaluation, global English, and teacher education. Themes and disciplines covered include Methods and materials, including new technologies and materials development; Contexts and concepts, such as mediation, risk taking in language learning, and intercomprehension; Influential figures from the early days of language teaching to the contemporary; Related disciplines, such as psychology, anthropology, and corpus linguistics. It covers the teaching of specific languages, including Japanese, Chinese, Arabic, and African languages, as well as English, French, German, and Spanish. There are thirty-five overview articles dealing with issues such as communicative language teaching, early language learning, teacher education, and syllabus and curriculum design. A further 160 entries focus on topics such as bilingualism, language laboratories, and study abroad. Numerous shorter items examine language and cultural institutions, professional associations, and acronyms. Multiple cross-references enable the user to browse from one entry to another, and there are suggestions for further reading. Written by an international team of specialists, the Routledge Encyclopedia of Language Teaching and Learning is an invaluable resource and reference manual for anyone with a professional or academic interest in the subject.
