Empire, Education, and Indigenous Childhoods Helen May, Baljit Kaur, 2016-05-06 Taking up a little known story of education schooling and missionary endeavor Helen May Baljit Kaur and Larry Prochner focus on the experiences of very young native children in three British colonies In missionary settlements across the northern part of the North Island of New Zealand Upper Canada and British controlled India experimental British ventures for placing young children of the poor in infant schools were simultaneously transported to and adopted for all three colonies From the 1820s to the 1850s this transplantation of Britain s infant schools to its distant colonies was deemed a radical and enlightened tool that was meant to hasten the conversion of heathen peoples by missionaries to Christianity and to European modes of civilization The intertwined legacies of European exploration enlightenment ideals education and empire building the authors argue provided a springboard for British colonial and missionary activity across the globe during the nineteenth century Informed by archival research and focused on the shared as well as unique aspects of the infant schools colonial experience Empire Education and Indigenous Childhoods illuminates both the pervasiveness of missionary education and the diverse contexts in which its attendant ideals were applied Florence Nightingale and the Health of the Raj Jharna Gourlay, 2017-05-15 Florence Nightingale and the Health of the Raj presents in detail Nightingale s involvement with India and Indians and shows how she progressed from being concerned with the narrow sphere of army sanitation to the socio economic condition of the whole of India Despite her interest in the country Florence Nightingale never actually visited India yet she still managed to instigate and inspire a number of sanitary and social reforms there Starting in 1857 with army sanitation she had by the end of her involvement with India in 1896 shifted her attention to such social issues as village sanitation and female education In between she was involved with the development of hospitals irrigation famine relief the land tenure system in Bengal urban sanitation and female nursing In Florence Nightingale and the Health of the Raj Jharna Gourlay covers all these aspects of Florence Nightingale s work tracing her political involvement and her growing awareness of Indian problems showing how she gradually moved from an imperialist position to one advocating power sharing with Indians Her story is also one of how a private individual without official position moreover a woman in a patriarchal society could influence government policy and public opinion on matters of immense importance Based on primary sources from both Britain and India particularly her own correspondence and articles this book tells Florence Nightingale s story through her own words whilst simultaneously placing it in the wider historical context As such it will prove a fascinating and illuminating study for a wide range of scholars interested in nineteenth century imperialist medical gender and social history

The Changing Role of Women in Bengal, 1849-1905 Meredith Borthwick, 2015-12-08 Basing her work on Bengali language sources such as women s journals private papers biographies and autobiographies Meredith Borthwick approaches the lives of women in nineteenth century Bengal from a new standpoint She moves beyond the record of the heated debates held by men of this period over matters such as widow burning child marriage and female education to explore the effects of changes in society on the lives of women and to question assumptions about advances prompted by British rule Focusing on the wives mothers and daughters of the English educated Bengali professional class Dr Borthwick contends that many reforms merely substituted a restrictive British definition of womanhood for traditional Hindu norms The positive gains for women increased physical freedom the acquisition of literacy and limited entry to nondomestic work often brought unforeseen negative consequences such as a reduction in autonomy and power in the household Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 A Handbook of West Bengal Sanghamitra Saha, 1998 Indian Archives, 1992 THE PUNJAB AND BENGAL Mr R M CHOPRA, 2022-04-17 In the course of time the Punjab and Bengal has become very popular with some of the institutions libraries and the academicians In the Punjab Delhi and Kolkata there has been a constant demand of this book which has necessitated the publication of the second edition Accordingly the second revised edition is being published in order to meet the demand which I am sure will fulfill the aspiration of the institutions libraries academicians research scholar and students

PREFACE OF THE FIRST EDITION The Punjab and Bengal have been enamoured of each other from quite a long time ago

They span the country's heartland like the proverbial elephants on a book shelf in two corners of this vast sub continent They have shared through ages their varied experiences inspite of diversities in their ethos yet echoing each others emotional reverberations proof of which is found in abundance It was perhaps pre destined that these two regions should have similar circumstances which should not only bring about a kind of closeness between the two but also necessitated the inter dependence of one on the other for their proper development And this process has continued over a long period in peaceful interludes as well as in turbulent times The Punjab and Bengal continue to interact emotionally even now like nothing else in the world It was indeed fate which brought these two regions much closer together at the turn of the century in the struggle for independence and the people of these regions fought shoulder to shoulder for the independence of the motherland as comrades in arms and again it was an irony of fate that at the time of independence of India in 1947 A D the Punjab and Bengal were the two provinces that were truncated their price paid for the country's freedom Both the provinces had to suffer untold misery for the consequent arson bloodshed rape and other atrocities committed by the frenzied mobs which compelled millions of their people to leave their homes and hearths The people of the Punjab and Bengal as a result became comrades in suffering and had to face misery and identical problems for the rehabilitation of their uprooted folks who were forced to migrate The uprooted people have resettled in the rest of the country and it goes to their credit that they are making useful contribution to the over all development of the country in an admirable way and are now comrades in progress While it is a fact that there is a large segment of Bengalis in the Punjab as doctors engineers and in other professional fields particularly in the teaching profession there are nearly one million Punjabis living in West Bengal fifty percent of whom are in Calcutta alone Many of the Punjabis are settled in Calcutta for the last several generations They live here work here have friends here and are found in all walks of life thus lending a unique cosmopolitan character to this great metropolis It is in this context that an attempt is made in presenting this monograph to trace out the links of Punjabis and Bengalis through the ages from historical religious social educational national and commercial points of view to establish the strong bonds which have continued to exist since time immemorial of Punjabi Bengali affinity of spirit I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to my revered professor Dr Pratap Chandra Chunder a scholar extraordinary who has favoured me greatly by writing a valuable Foreword to this book

Notions of Nationhood in Bengal Swarupa Gupta, 2009 This book reopens the debate on colonial nationalisms going beyond derivative borrowed political and modernist paradigms It introduces the conceptual category of samaj to demonstrate how indigenous socio cultural origins in Bengal interacted with late colonial discourses to produce the notion of a nation Samaj a historical society and an idea in practice was a site for reconfiguring antecedents and negotiating fragmentation Drawing on indigenous sources this study shows how caste class ethnicity region and community were refracted to conceptualise wider unities The mapping of cultural continuities through change facilitates a more nuanced investigation of the ontology of nationhood seeing it as related to but more than political nationalism It outlines a fresh paradigm for recalibrating postcolonial identities offering interpretive strategies to mediate fragmentation

Nawab Faizunnesa's Rupjalal Phayajunnesā Caudhurāṇī, 2009 In the framework of a romantic tale Faizunnesa recorded how women were always treated as agents of chaos and desire and how their resisting voices were always silenced in a religiously motivated society This book examines her text as a critique of male dominance in the Muslim society of colonial Bengal
